I know you'd make professional golf and better
Hogan's records. Maybe you'd hit a 65 instead of your regular 105. And as for women, you've another Valentino (big hat dead).
The women you know are out of this world as far as looks go. Well, I'll see you this summer or next

Way Out West . . .

OUT WHERE THE handshake's a little firmer . . . That's where the West begins. The Last Frontier . . . the West's most Western town . . . the Sunshine State. . . . All these are well-known terms made familiar by songs, advertisements, and repetition. All apply to the land we call home. Here happiness, friendship, and the zest for living seem to go with the landscape, blue skies, and wholesome atmosphere. Little wonder that our visitors become permanent residents!

THAT' HOW Lil Dudette came to live here. Typical of many who come "temporarily" to Phoenix and the Valley of the Sun, she discarded her Eastern customs, bought herself a cowgirl outfit, and became a tried and true Phoenician! Phoenix Union High School's student body consists of dudes and dudettes by the thousands. We're proud of our desert homeland, happy in its traditions, contented to be classed with such as Lil Dudette.

WITH REG MANNING'S Lil Dudette in background, the band and Pom Pon Girls have their day at the State Fair. Dancers are Shirley Sperger, Peggy Evans, Nancy Banker, and Betty Moncrief.

Welcome, Lil Dudette!

WELL, HOWDY, PARDNER! Yore mighty welcome to join our student body. We like dudes and dudettes! That's what we are ourselves! You are our idea of personality, pep, and good fellowship all rolled up into a neat package! Very few of our Lil Dudettes were native Arizonans. It doesn't take long, though, for the gay cordiality in our Valley of the Sun to convert newcomers into the Dudette tradition. We like our Rodeo, our parades, our Western horse shows. And we like to dress and talk and behave like real folks . . . Western style, that is!

Dudette's Papa

IN APPRECIATION of his outstanding work as an artist and a friend of our school, the Phoenician Staff respectfully dedicates this edition to Reg Manning, Class of '24. Pulitzer prize winner and noted Arizona Republic cartoonist, Reg originated Lil Dudette, who also was featured at the 1954 Arizona State Fair.

YIPPEE! Joe Arnold and Don Keith head for the winner's line in the cowhide race at Western Stampede. That's Squaw Peak in background. OPPOSITE: Dudes and dudettes in front of the Auditorium. Science Building is in background.

Practical Approach . . .

LIL DUDETTE has plenty of company. While she flits about in her attractive Western garb, dudes are all over the place. But they don't go in for beauty. Theirs is the practical approach when it comes to Western wear. Levis, beat-up old sombreros, and clompity cowboy boots are more to their liking than the fancy trimmings in silver and buckskin, once typical of drug-store cowboys.

THERE IS ANOTHER down-to-earth feature about Phoenix Union's guys. They are friendly, fun-loving, and genuine. You'll find no snobs at Phoenix Union Ranch!

Administration

Way Out West

COLORFUL COSTUMES of the Old West are given the casual treatment by students on Rodeo Day. Here is a snap taken between classes, looking northwest from Building Five. Levis and squaw dresses are nothing new to Coyote dudes and dudettes. Only the girls are dressed unusually for school. Boys dress Western most of the time.

At The Helm

DYNAMIC principal of Phoenix Union High School is James S. Carter. He will head the new Polytechnical High next fall.

POINTING THE WAY into a difficult future is a responsibility our school administrators accept with assurance born of many years' experience. At the head of one of America's largest and most progressive high schools, they keep alert to the school's needs, guiding the students and faculty into paths of progress.

ONE OF THE ABLEST of administrators is Principal Carter. His youthful enthusiasm and intense interest in the students have reflected much praise on Phoenix Union. His ideas and executive talents will mean much to the success of our new technical high school next fall. Of equally high caliber are Assistant Principal Gates and Deans Iscah Mateer and McCullar.

LEADERS in Phoenix Union's progress are Assistant Principal William Gates, Dean Iscah Mateer, and Dean Earl McCullar.

FOUND BOOK awaits owner. Dean McCullar hands another item to Secretary Louise Arthur, who also supervises in the Lost and Found Department.

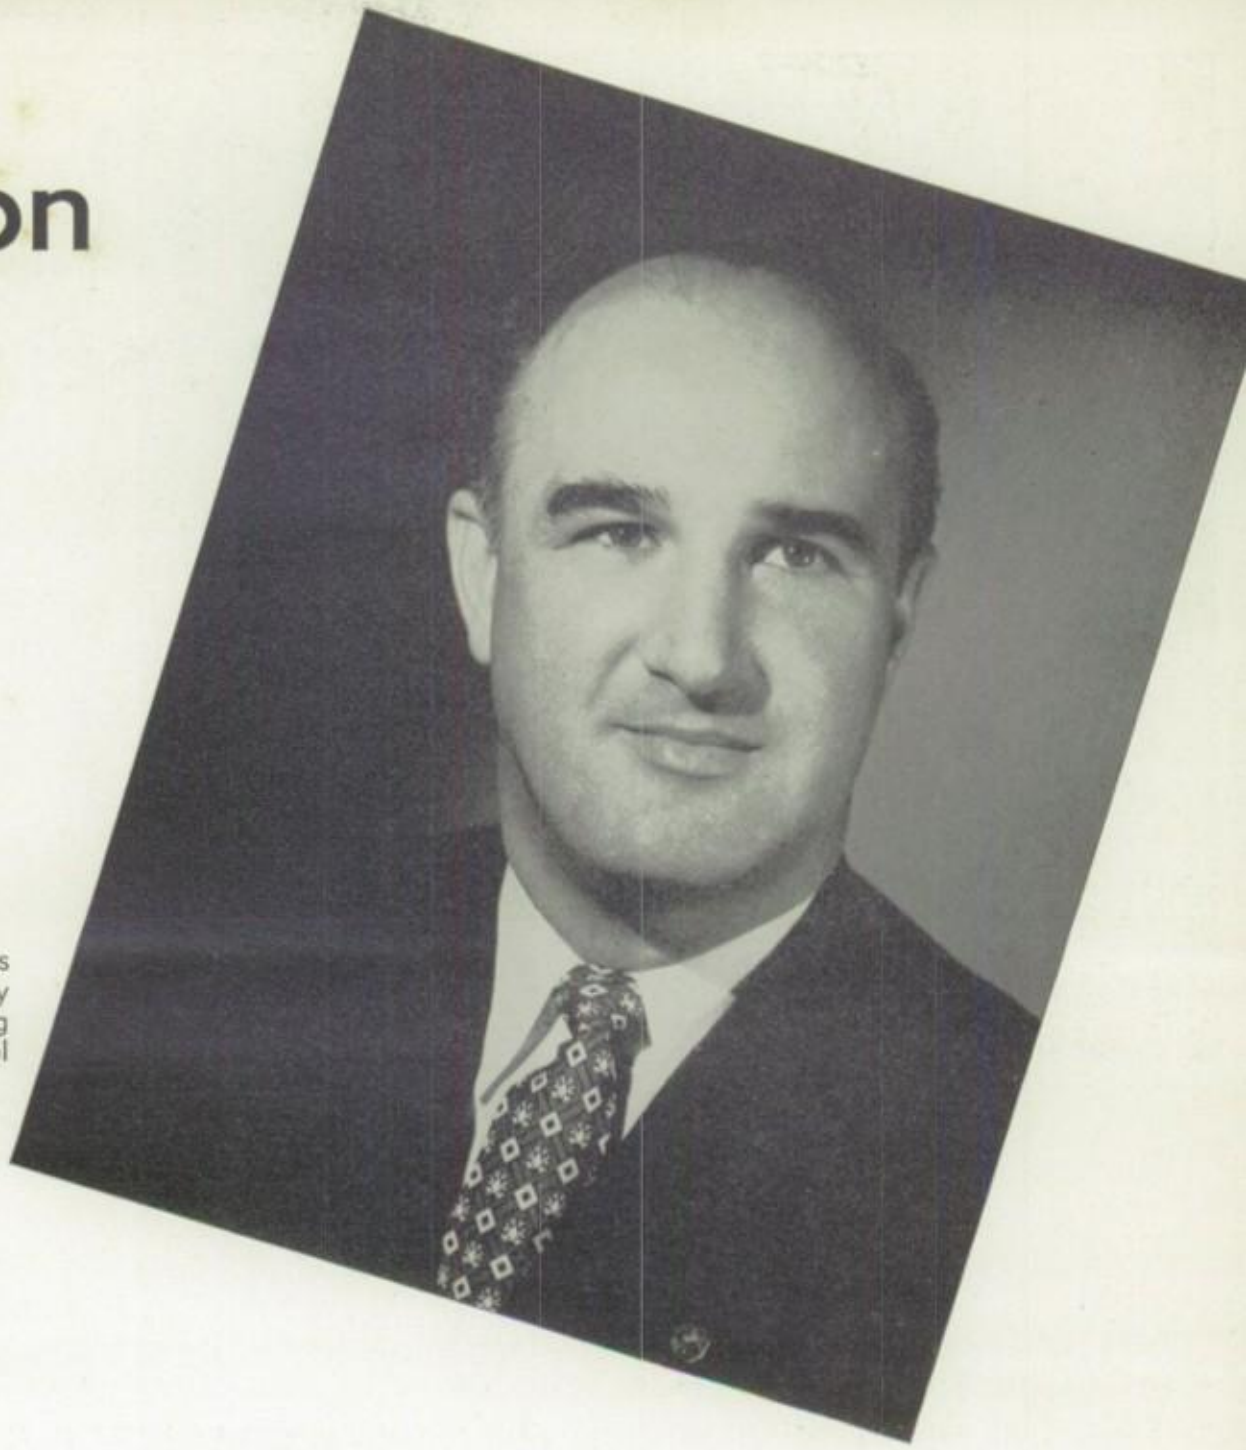
They Keep Wheels Moving

ALWAYS ON THE MOVE, Phoenix Union's office workers, busy and many times unnoticed, have earned a reputation for accuracy and efficiency. If you've ever lost something on campus, you know what a relief it is to have smiling Mrs. Arthur round it up for you. In charge of the Lost and Found Department, she stores glasses, books and coats for us "lost" souls. She also serves as dean's secretary.

MRS. DEARING and Miss Pretzer carry the brunt of the work in the Principal's Office, including taking care of the switchboard and the post office work. Never idle when there's a job to be done, they can be counted on at all times to keep the "wheels" in motion — including that big master clock which controls the bells here!

IT'S TIME to start the bell-system for the special assembly schedule, decide Secretaries Nadine Dearing and Betty Pretzer. They are shown here regulating the master clock in the Principal's Office.

Administration



SUPT. HAROLD L. Gear has demonstrated outstanding ability as head of the ever-growing Phoenix Union High School System.

Confident Leaders

ALWAYS MEETING new problems and situations squarely, our Board of Education calls upon its confidence and experience to do an outstanding job of directing the fortunes of Phoenix High Schools and Phoenix College.

WITH THE COMBINING of Phoenix Tech and Phoenix Union next year, the Board will be faced with even more responsibilities and problems. Growing schools and over-crowded districts, along with a growing state, have added to the many perplexities. Our Board has served us well. We have every confidence in their foresight and judgment.

BOARD OF EDUCATION: Dr. Trevor G. Browne, Jay Hyde, Mrs. F. A. Bons, Dr. Charles S. Purtymun Jr., Frank Haze Burch.

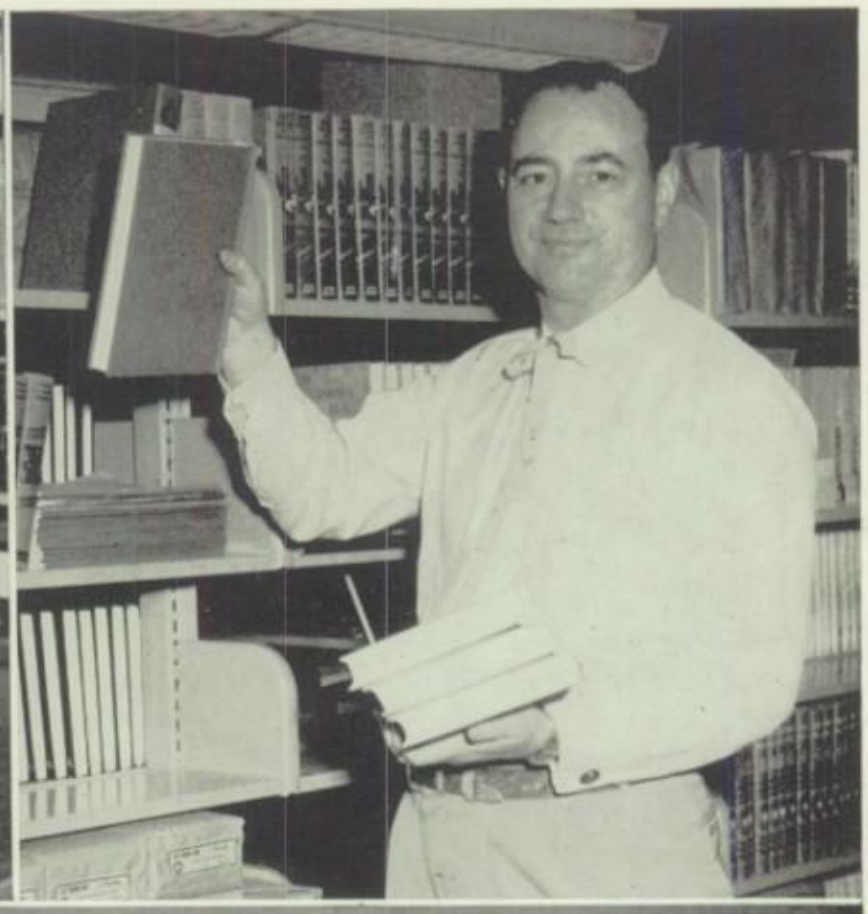
HEALTH Committee members gather to plan milk campaign. Seated are Williams, Hospódka, Fung, Mrs. Banker, Rose, Gaither, Emery. STANDING: Kenney, Lavas, Phasnas, Owen, Ghee, Spotts.

For Health

SEEKING BETTER methods and means of health instruction to students keeps the Health Committee busy most of the year. This group, founded on the solid principle that health means wealth, has been very successful in its anti-colds, better-foods, and be-careful campaigns. A highlight of its nutrition program was the annual "Drink More Milk" drive during which thousands of Coyotes sampled the healthful liquid and promised to drink more of it more often.

WHEN STUDENTS are hurt, or grow suddenly ill, they are given prompt care at the Health Center. One of the Center's major campaigns resulted in a complete medical referral card on each student so that the family doctor can be notified immediately should the need arise. Health and safety units are located in each building, also, with the Health Center in charge. A co-operative system provides instant attention in an emergency.

HEALTHY FACULTY! Here is proof that teachers are not old, stiff, and too tired to kick up their heels when given the chance. They're dancing at the Faculty Stampede held at Bud Brown's Barn. Messrs. Powell and Patterson are at right.



LINE UP, DUDES! While Bookstore Clerks Violet Harding and Valerie Meadows (upper left), attend to routine business, Manager Carleton Allen, right, arranges some new books for the expected rush. BELOW: And here's the rush! It take the entire office force to meet the noontime demands of these Rodeo Day customers. But they'll all be served, in good time too!

Allen & Co.'s Variety Store

ANY COWPOKE would appreciate the kind of service available at our Bookstore. Not only is Store Foreman Carleton Allen congenial, energetic, and obliging, but he and his attractive assistants, Misses Violet Harding and Valerie Meadows, also have the goods to satisfy the customers!

NEW AND USED books, stationery, pens, pencils—that's to be expected. But wait! There's more! Allen & Co. deals also in ceramics, Christmas cards, and other novelties produced by crafts classes. And if there's a sports event, school play, or club party pending, ask at the Bookstore and you'll get all the right answers.

IN ADDITION to the beautiful new trophy case now standing in the Bookstore, Mr. Allen has another attraction: a series of large, attractively mounted photos of school leaders, prepared at his request by the Phoenician cameramen and the Photo Arts Department.

Mmm! Sure Good Grub!

YUMMMM! Chef Von Blomberg tests the roast beef for tomorrow's lunch, while Mrs. Kennedy approves. She knows faculty and students will relish this feast!

ANY OL' COWHAND would be proud to declare our Cafeteria the "bestest for the leastest" money. Man, do we eat! And come back for more and more. There's good reason, too! Variety, excellence and low prices were featured in the Cafeteria — as well as attractive surroundings, comparative quiet, and efficiency. Mrs. Bernice Kennedy, school dietician, and her staff worked diligently to provide the best of service. The Cafeteria also served delicious dinners for numerous school affairs.

SOME OF THIS year's highlights at the Cafeteria were the Mother and Daughter Tea, Football Banquet, PTA Dinner, Girls' League Fashion Show and Open House.

RODEO TIME finds the Registrar's Office personnel all dressed up to welcome the levi-clad buckeroos who daily storm the windows with all sorts of problems. But the quiet efficiency of these ladies solves every difficult situation. FROM LEFT are pictured Edna Baker, Ann Gupton, Mildred Overton, Gail Larson, Jeannette Armstrong, and Helen Thomas.

Eager Lines Keep Forming

THERE MUST BE an endless escalator moving these students up to the Registrar's Office window. Or so the busy and often-harried workers must believe. The huge crowds begin almost before the opening day of school and seem to continue until the day after graduation in June.

WHAT BRINGS these teeming teeners to the R. O. windows? Nothing much, the youthful dudes will tell you. Nothing much except: tardy and absence excuses; mixed up schedules; changed courses; drop notices, entrance applications, weird requests for new courses. Or they've forgotten their schedule or locker number, or this class is too hard, that one unsuitable. Or, would you send my transcript to another school, since I'm planning to leave here? Not all of the requests are granted, and a good many are beyond sound reason. But for the most part, students and counselors strike a happy medium that makes for smooth operation of a big school.

Our School's Best Friends

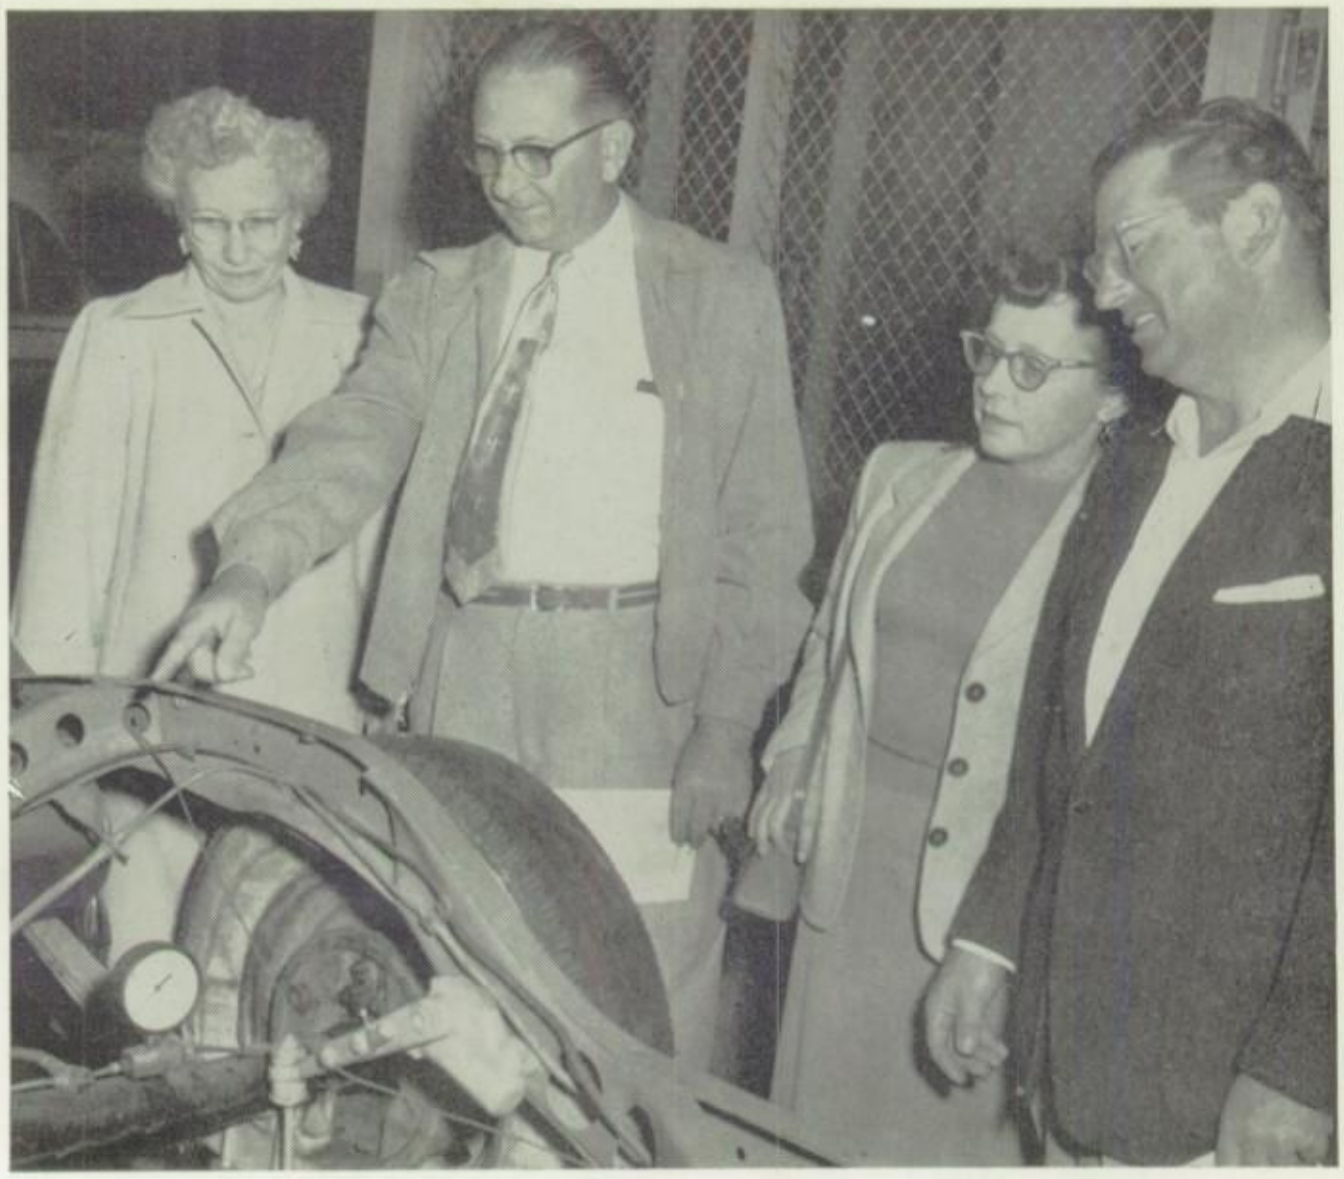
SIGNING UP for PTA membership is a most important function, agree Mesdames Kirk, Iberri, and Tussey, as they welcome a Coyote dad into the organization at the annual Parent-Teacher Dinner in the Cafeteria.

WHAT THE SCHOOL means to the community can be a number of things, but the Parent-Teacher Association, forming a most valuable link between the school and the townspeople, does a good job of "selling" Phoenix Union's aims and achievements to the taxpayers. Best friends of the school, the PTA leaders help with health campaigns, charity drives, and Open House events. They help needy students with books and clothing, and extend a courtesy to the graduating seniors in the form of a formal dance Graduation Night.

WHEN THE MEMBERSHIP drive failed to produce enough revenue for PTA projects, they called on the teachers for help. The Faculty Vaudeville, "Why Does A Fireman Wear Red Suspenders?" netted over $400 — and the important work of our PTA went on.

REPORT TO PARENTS is given by Principal Carter, who outlines some of the plans for Phoenix Union and next year's Polytechnical High School. Parents and teachers were gathered in Cafeteria for the annual PTA Dinner and Membership Drive.

Open House . . .



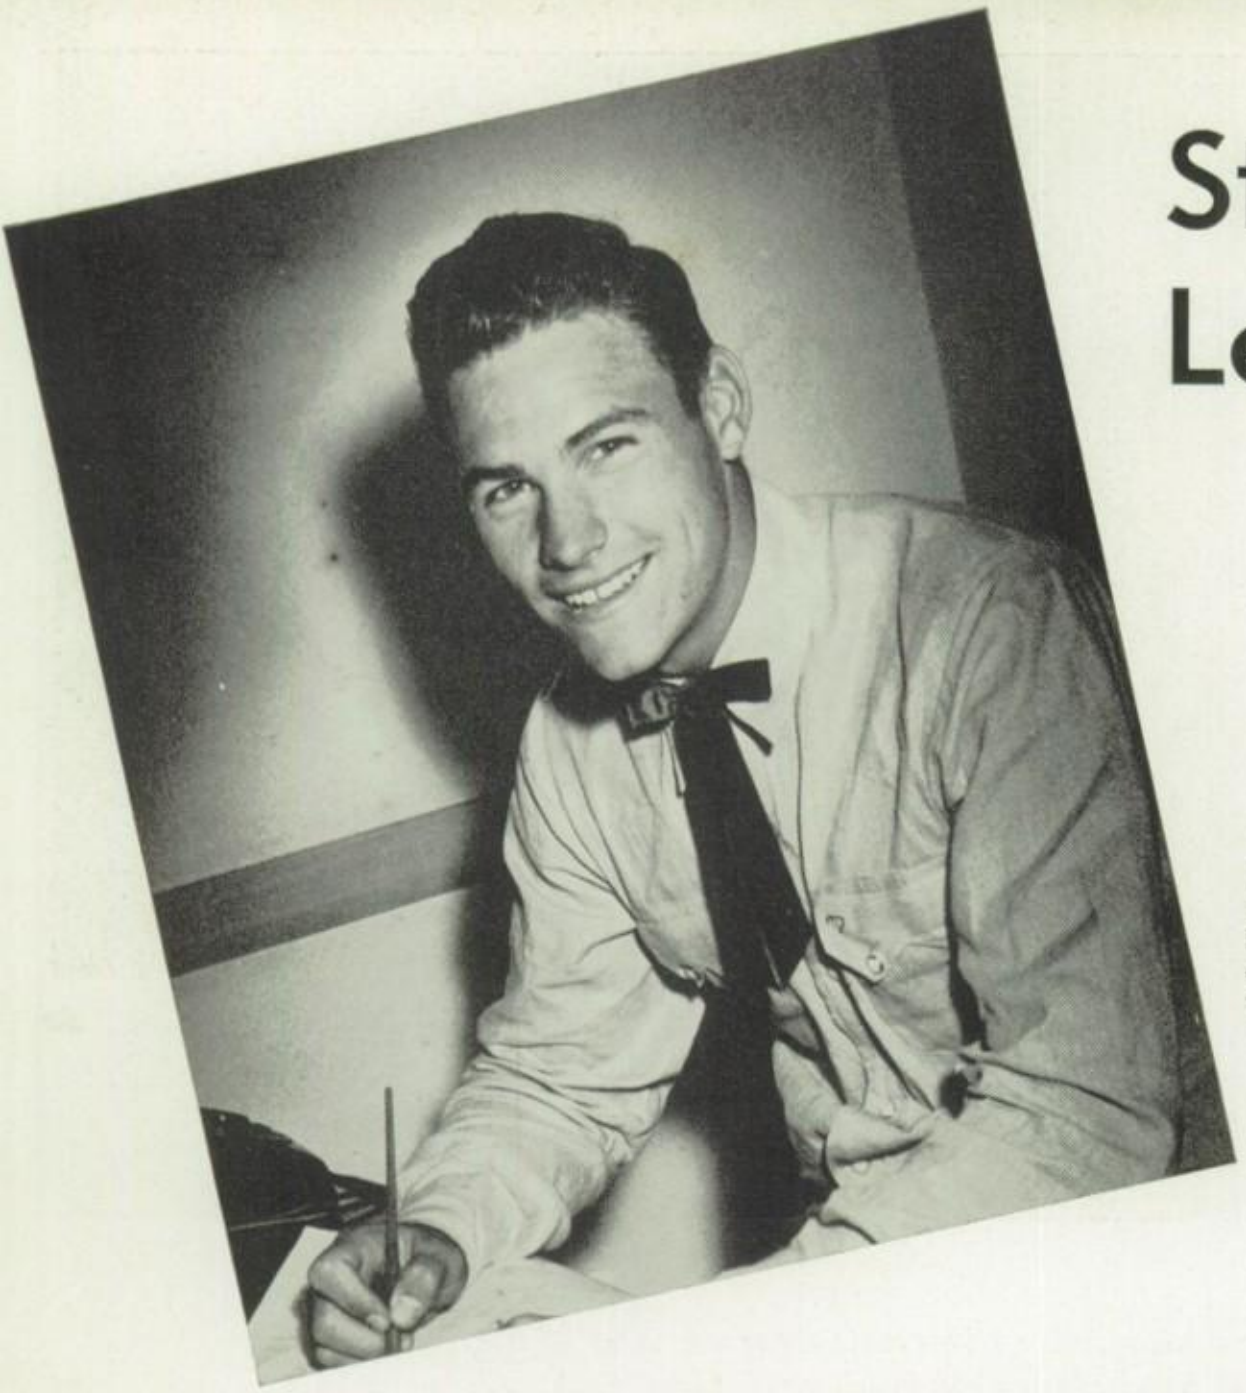
SO THAT'S what the boys work on! A group of parents drop in at the Auto Shop for a look-see during Open House.

OPEN HOUSE at Phoenix Union found hundreds of interested parents and friends re-visiting the school's classrooms, grounds, and laboratories. Many here for the first time expressed amazement at the size of the campus and buildings. "Like a university," they declared.

FOLLOWING A MUSICAL program in the Auditorium and a report by Superintendent Gear, the visitors met teachers, discussed problems, and enjoyed refreshments in the Cafeteria. They really enjoyed their sojourn at PUHS and promised, "We'll come again!"

ENDLESS WORK is required to keep the campus in trim shape. At left, and center, Gardeners Stone and Riner manicure the hedges. RIGHT: Janitors Eckley and Zhoat make a clean sweep of the walls and floor in an English classroom.

Student Body Leaders



MEET COWBOY JOE! Student Body President Joe Duffy sports his Western tie with nonchalant ease. His ready grin is familiar to all Coyote students.

ONE AIM GUIDED our student body officers this year: to maintain the highest standards for our school. Like the true Westerners they are, they faced problems squarely, made friends readily, and stood ready to serve the student body always. Charity drives, pep rallies, health compaigns, and other worthwhile endeavors had their hearty support. Lil Dudette was mighty proud of her student leaders.

OL' RANCHER Tom Hulen would be right at home on the range. But he did well, too, as representative-at-large. Lil Dudette on the phone is Secretary Barbara Barr, complete with squaw dress. The Veep ,standing at ease behind the mike, is Sid Mitchell, pictured addressing the student body in a regular assembly. These leaders met regularly for duty on the Board of Control.

Student Leaders

STUDENT GOVERNMENT for, by, and of the students works well at Phoenix Union. With every homeroom group represented, Student Council meets at stated periods to decide issues, propose measures, and carry back to the students any suggestions or official actions taken by the Council. Such varied problems as conduct at grid games, what to wear at school dances, and what to do about a dirty campus received prompt and efficient attention this year.

BOARD OF CONTROL managed to keep our wild ones in a tamed condition, rendering just decisions, suspending a few Coyotes who seemed to require stern treatment, and encouraging others to abide by the rules established by the student body government.

WHO'S FOR A PARTY? President Duffy poses the question and the Student Council votes an enthusiastic affirmative for a picnic at Encanto Park. Council meets in Auditorium during third period to legislate student body program.

Boys' Federation

LET'S GO, PARDNER! With the friendliest of Western greetings, The Boys, Federation leadership pointed the way to one of its busiest, most interesting years. Every male Coyote profited from the Federations' plans and services. No fellow with a desire to contribute to the school's betterment was ignored. The Federation treasury went on a diet when the All-School Follies was canceled. But the boys put on a Fashion Show with the Girls' League . . . and got out of the red, financially.

OTHER FEDERATION projects included co-sponsorship of the annual Frontier Dance, spearheading a campus-cleanup, and maintaining order in the lunch lines at the Cafeteria. The Federation also helped finance lunches, books and clothing for needy Phoenix Union Boys.

SWING YER Pardner! Rodeo Week and the Frontier Dance inspired this bit of Western fun, featuring, from left, Escalante, Spencer, Sanchez, and McFarland.

Girls' League

HANDS UP! While Two-Gun Connie Chavez gets tough with her fellow League officers. Lil Dudettes Barbara Dean, Lynne Hanhila, and Loretta Gotch show mock terror. Lynne headed the Girls' League as president this year.

LIL DUDETTES by the hundreds sparkled and worked through the school year under the banner of Girls League. Aided by a grand corps of officers and advised by counselors and the dean of girls, the League undertook a program bigger then ever — and without the support usually forthcoming from a successful Follies.

TO AUGMENT their treasury, the girls sold cup cakes, candy, and the like. They even washed cars to help those in need. Every project went well — their Midnight and Roses Ball, the state conventions, and finally, the anual Fashion Show. Help they gave the Student Book Loan Fund, crippled children, and the like gave the girls great satisfaction.

Way Out West At Bud's Barn

HIGHLIGHT of the faculty party series this year was the February evening at Bud Brown's Barn, where the Old West still lives, complete with old music boxes, buggies, saddles, barbecued food, and square dancing. Approximately 100 teachers and guests took time out from their routine cares to whoop 'er up with games, dancing, both modern and old-time, and the eating of a wonderful barbecue-beef dinner. "Gotta do this more often!" they declared.

VAUDEVILLE was set back 20 years by this group of performers at the Faculty Follies, but the kids loved every minute of it! Beauty Parade, bottom, featured Messrs. Caceletto, Shores, Ellis, and Lumley. Lovely, ain't they! UPPER LEFT: Firemen's Quartet included Messrs. Finley, Powell, Johnson, and Hughes. RIGHT: Danny McGrew bit hard on his wooden seegar, and the Lady Lou just grinned when the "stranger" came in with his gun. . . .

On With That Vaudeville . . . !

LOW LEVEL of the Parent-Teacher Association treasury and the good nature of Phoenix Union's teachers resulted in a surprise for everyone this winter. The teachers put on a frisky follies that somehow didn't fall on its face. And PTA counted up over $400 in profits. Built around a fire-house scene, the variety acts included hilarity that panicked the packed house.

AIR RAID! When the alert call came, bells rang, students rose quickly from desks, and filed out into the halls or took positions against inside classroom walls. Here in the Fifth Building downstairs hallway are students from the upper floor following the prescribed method to minimize radiation and shock dangers from an atomic bomb burst. The drill went smoothly.

Atom Bomb!

YUCCA FLATS, in Nevada, is just about as close as we want to come to an atomic explosion, agree our faculty and students. But when the Civil Defense administration called for an air-raid drill, on the assumption that we could expect someday to go through such an attack, we joked nervously and said, "This is silly." But we had our air-raid drill. We covered our faces and necks as we were told, and thought, "This isn't so funny after all. It could happen . . ."

MAY WE NEVER have to endure the horror of a Hiroshima-type attack. But if it ever comes, we'll have a better chance of survival if we follow safety directions. Mrs. Jennette Banker served as chairman of the Civil Defense Committee, with Dean of Boys R. E. McCullar as executive officer, assisted by building fire captains.

Travel Talk

THERE I WAS, way down in Panama! It's Mr. Jordan giving a rollicking report on his summer cruise with the U.S. Navy. His audience includes English teachers at fall picnic in Mr. Willson's back yard.

Hey! Air Raid!

ONE OF THE HARDEST problems Safety Director McCullar had this spring was to convince students and teachers that the Civil Defense program was serious business. Nobody really expects an A-Bomb to drop on Phoenix, or Los Angeles. Maybe China or Moscow . . . but not Phoenix! However, Mr. McCullar and his fire captains met, planned, and finally produced a creditable air raid drill. The trial run was slightly rough, but the official drill went off without a hitch. We don't want an air raid, but we believe in being prepared. It might pay us well some day!

AIR RAID COUNCIL: Dean McCullar outlines procedures for the Civil Defense air raid drill to campus fire captains. From left are Messrs. Nelson, Caceletto, Rasbury, Finley and Mrs. Banker, Messrs. Jones, Prather, Dixon, and Mrs. McNeill.

They Enjoy Their Spot o' Tea

ENGLISH TEACHERS feel that their responsibilities do not end with the final bell each day . . . a burden they share with every other teacher. But they also realize the need for fellowship, a need they meet with a series of department teas, picnics, and the like.

THE YEAR'S social calendar opened with an autum lawn party at the home of Chairman C. E.Willson. Here new teachers were introduced and the group heard from those who had enjoyed exciting summer vacations. One such report came from Ben Jordan, who took a long Caribbean cruise with Uncle Sam's Navy. At an after-school tea, another globe trotter, Ruth Bradish, told the department about her sojourn in England last summer. A spring picnic fittingly climaxed the department's entertainment program.

English

ALL THIS for me? Chauncey Shepard is overcome with the offers of material for his Newsletter assignment. From left are Isabel Stroud, Donald Lumley, Helen Stewart, Caroline Downs.

LADIES 'N Gennulmen! Richard Olsen does a comic oration for the entertainment of Gladys Rios and Willard Jacquot.

AT EASE are Mila Bray and Norma Elsaser, who look over a choice essay while (right) Ruth Creighton and Ben Jordan consider the merits of a 10-gallon cowboy hat.

They're The Type—To Enjoy Life

HOME ON THE RANGE: Watching home movies during the faculty picnic at South Mountain are teachers and their guests. Behind the projector is Carl Allen, only one not watching the movies! You'll recognize Librarian Rogers, left, Don Coursen, Glendale Griffith, and Ralph Dixon in the group.

Business Is Pleasure!

ELECTRICAL business machines are interesting to, standing, E. L. Rodgers, Eugene Brock, John Caceletto, and, seated, Dorthy Burdsal and Ruth Bradish.

THAT ADDS! Busy with figures are Rex Cline, Betty McCubbin, Pauline Poteet, and James LeSueur.

BUSINESS before pleasure? Why, "business" is always a pleasure to our teachers in the Business Education Department! They truly enjoy their association with young people who are determined to succeed in the busy world. There is so much to learn, so many skills must be perfected, that "busy" is the best way to describe teachers and students in this field.

IN SUMMER MANY of the business education teachers find positions with local firms as bookkeepers, accountants, and the like. A number of them work at the banks where they learn first-hand how the theory they teach works out in everyday practice. One of the delights of the department is the Future Business Leaders Club they sponsor. This gives students opportunity to visit local firms during the school year, combining pleasure and business.

Greetings, Amigos!

LIFE ABROAD interests Blanche Adams and Marguerite Marshall, who check an article in a popular travel magazine. Lil Dudette of the Foreign Language Department is none other than Hazel Redewill, who waves us a genial Western greeting.

OTHER travelers via the magazines are, from left, Joseph Santo, Martha Robbins, Maxwell Powell, and Rose Plummer.

Travel Is Always Profitable

PERHAPS ONE REASON our Foreign Language Department members so enjoy travel south of the border and to the West Indies is the fact that they find the informality and open-heartedness of these foreign people beguiling. It's true the more you learn about other people the more you learn to love them. And these teachers are mighty well informed on their subject.

LAST SUMMER found many of these instructors visiting in Mexico and points south. One teacher and her husband flew to Haiti for a delightful three weeks. Their adventures spark their students with a desire to learn more of Spanish and French and those who speak it.

DON'T TEASE the animals! But we're not teasing, insist these fun-loving science teachers. No, all they're doing is tempting Don Coyote with a comb of honey . . . in preparation for the union of the Coyotes and Hornets next fall! From left are Clark Young, John Ewart, Charles Finley, Dale Mullins, and William Vaughn.

INTESTINAL fortitude is a good study, agree Scientists H. H. Turner, Ralph Dixon, L. L. Kriegbaum, and Glendale Griffith. Picture doesn't show brilliant coloring of this biological display.

They Go Along With A Gag

CO-OPERATION COMES naturally to the good natured teachers of Phoenix Union. When the staff photographer asked the Music Department to "go Western" for their annual picture, Western they went! No stuffed shirts allowed among our music makers! By the same token, the mathematics teachers, assembled for a "serious" picture in the library, made with the wisecracks while managing to appear in solemn conference. It's fun to be around such wonderful people. It's fun to have them for our teachers!

MORE BOOKS? Mary Bunting, left, enjoys Sybil Davidson's amazed gasp when Librarian Leta Weaver brings another armful of books to be processed. But it's just make-believe. The gasp, that is. The work is real enough—and it keeps coming, too! RIGHT: Librarian Beth L. Rogers and Margaret Carr verify a reference.

They've Their Troubles Too!

IF CONTINUOUS service brings happiness, the librarians, clerks, and public health nurses would be almost delirious with joy. But like anything else, their pleasure is punctuated with enough troubles to keep them from declaring heaven on earth is here and now!

HIGH SCHOOL students have problems that never quite reach a solution. They don't like to read. Or they can't find anything interesting. Or they meant to bring that book back Wednesday, or was it Thursday . . . and then somebody stole the key to their locker, and there you are. No book! And why should they be blamed if somebody is mean enough to steal their locker key? In a similar manner, the Health Center receives a flow of semi-ill scholars who want to go home, but think they'd better stay in school, or vice versa. Understanding, tact, and a bit of firm handling are necessary if one is to get along with us teeners!

Chart The Course For a Tour

SOCIAL EDUCATION—a name coined by Dr. Ogle and his fellow historians as their choice of a department name, instead of History Department. They feel that recorded history, studied chapter by chapter, can be dry as dust and often is. But social education, that's something that lives and breathes. Students can appreciate the awareness their teachers have to the world situation and to the need for broader understanding of social problems facing us now.

WE LEARN by studying the past histories of nations and people, of course. But we must not forget that history is now being made and that we are an essential part of the mighty upheaval now taking place on this planet.

DARK BACKGROUNDS appeal to Dr. R. H. Ogle, second from left. And, as department head, he's entitled to a request so easily filled! With him are Don Ellis, Ruth Cole, and Eric Kolberg.

WHAT'S COOKIN'? A pretty dish indeed, agree Art teachers Edward Corno, Julia McCann, and Eugene Grigsby, as Warren Gentry removes a ceramic piece from the oven.

The World Has Need Of Such Wise Ones

ARTISTS are always on the alert for the colorful and attractive. For that reason, they are mighty good people to be around while so much of the world is gloomy and gray. One must learn to look for beauty before he can see it, these teachers point out.

THERE ARE TIMES when a friend is worth his weight in uranium. Precious metal can't compare, however, to the worth of our Orientation teachers who are charged with helping our 3,500 confused students to take the right paths. Problems arise constantly, but how can we lose while we have such wonderfully trained and co-operative friends on campus?

Health Is Wealth If You Seek It

BUSY GALS are these, who must guide thousands of active girls in physical culture, games, and good sportsmanship. From left are Ruth McNeill, Betty Fairfax, Elizabeth Blake, Mary Louise Branigan, and Berneil Maxey.

IF YOU HAVE good health, you'll have a wealth of good fortune too. Under the skilled guidance of our physical education instructors, every Coyote boy and girl has opportunity to develop the good red blood and vigor so characteristic of Young America.

ROUTINE CALISTHENICS are fine, but these must be spiced with games of a more or less competitive nature, to interest modern youth. The varied health and athletics program offered at Phoenix Union fills the needs of all interested. Not the least in this recipe of success is our excellent corps of physical education instructors.

Tomorrow's Already Here...

IT'S AN ATOMIC WORLD already . . . no need to wait for tomorrow to bring the wonders of science and invention! And it's for today's electronic world that young people must prepare if progress is to continue at the pace we'd like to see. You would search for a long time before finding a group of men so well trained in vocational work as are our Industrial Arts Department members. More important, they qualify as excellent teachers.

SUCCESSFUL IN THEIR bout with the workaday world, these artisans impart their understanding and skill to hundreds of students who must find important places in a highly competitive field. Future printers, electricians, auto repairmen, carpenters, architects and machinists get a wholesome head start right here.

NEWSREEL for Today gets a quick check-up from Edward Herzberg of the Social Education Department and Audio-Visual Aids Director James C. Hays.

CHOW TIME! Faculty and guests line up for the fall picnic at South Mountains. A potluck dinner, everybody brought wonderful food and ate and ate and ate! UPPER LEFT: Now thar's a trio of happy gents! Messrs. Waters, Shehane, and Gates enjoy a quiet chat during the party at Bud's Barn. RIGHT: You guessed it. That there's the Ragtime Kid, poundin' on the ol' pink piano at the Faculty Follies. Feature was "Shooting Of Dan McGrew" in PTA benefit, "Why Do Firemen Wear Red Suspenders?"

Frontier Life

IT'S EASY TO RECAPTURE the spirit of the Old West in Phoenix. The nearby desert invites those who like to dine under the stars in the South Mountain Park. Or informal party places such as Bud Brown's Barn invite the visitors to let down their hair and whoop their defiance at stuffy convention. It's a good life we enjoy in the Valley of the Sun. Helps to keep us happy, friendly, and full of zip! There's no place for stuffed shirts out in Arizona!

Democracy At Work

FREEDOM Foundation awarded Phoenix Union a national trophy for its part in fighting bigotry. When Miss Doris LeLap's Senior English class got together an illustrated book on how desegregation works at our school, the Valley Forge Freedom Foundation provided plane tickets and all travel expenses for Miss DeLap and a student to visit Valley Forge, where the award was to be presented.

OUR SCHOOL was cited for "realizing the duty of every true American to pass on to succeeding generations a better understanding of their inherited freedom. . . ."

READY TO TRAVEL are Miss DeLap and Marion Vian, who won an expenses-paid trip to Valley Forge to receive the national citation for Phoenix Union High School.

Good Cookin'

DOMESTIC DUTIES can be glamorous, if you know the rules! Even a common, ordinary meal can take on banquet appearance, home economics students learn. It's all in the planning! Girls and boys are glad to learn how to make a slim budget seem fatter and how a cheaper food can be make to taste richer. All too soon life's problems are on young housekeepers. Lucky are they who have had home training such as is offered at Phoenix Union.

Home Training

HELLO! You wish to order some groceries? Yes, ma'am! We have just what you want! Play School tots especially enjoy the make-believe of storekeeping, here illustrated.

PLAY SCHOOL is one of the most unusually interesting activities of the Homemaking Department. Under careful supervision, youngsters learn how to adjust emotionally with others their age . . . and students watch and take extensive notes. Homemaking students prepare the tots' lunch on Wednesdays; they also tell stories, conduct games, and check the children's health.

A PARENTS' CONFERENCE follows, with valuable comments and explanations beneficial to everybody, including the play schoolers. Supervisers are Mrs. Dorothea Wyman and Mrs. Gladys Funk. Dr. Mildred W. Wood is department chairman.

Artists At Work

EXPLANATIONS are in order for student Clyde Agin, who tries to figure out the display arranged for the AEA Convention project at Whittier School. Art Department Chairman Julia McCann obliges. Art students did well in the annual Scholastic Arts Exhibit, too, winning many Gold Key Awards.

EVERYBODY'S AN ARTIST at heart, even the color blind! We may not know a ceramic butter dish from a silk-screen poster, but we think we know what we like and dislike about colors, pictures, or objects of art. It remains for the Art Department to tell us why, and to teach us how to appreciate the outstanding while understanding the mediocre.

HAVE WE ANOTHER Bill Mauldin or Reg Manning polishing up for a sensational career? World famous for his "Up Front" cartoons, Bill began cartooning here for the Coyote Journal, as did Pulitzer Prize Winner Reg. Careers in fashion design, photography, ceramics and related fields await many Phoenicians who make full use of artistic talents.

MMMM! PRETTY! Beulah Gregory stops long enough in her work of fastening glittering flowers on a Masque costume to admire the gorgeous gown. Admiring the whole effect are Jim Stewart and James Halter. RIGHT: Ceramics is a fast-developing art in the department, as Maurine Guilford here proves. Students learn to create and decorate pottery and the like to perfection.

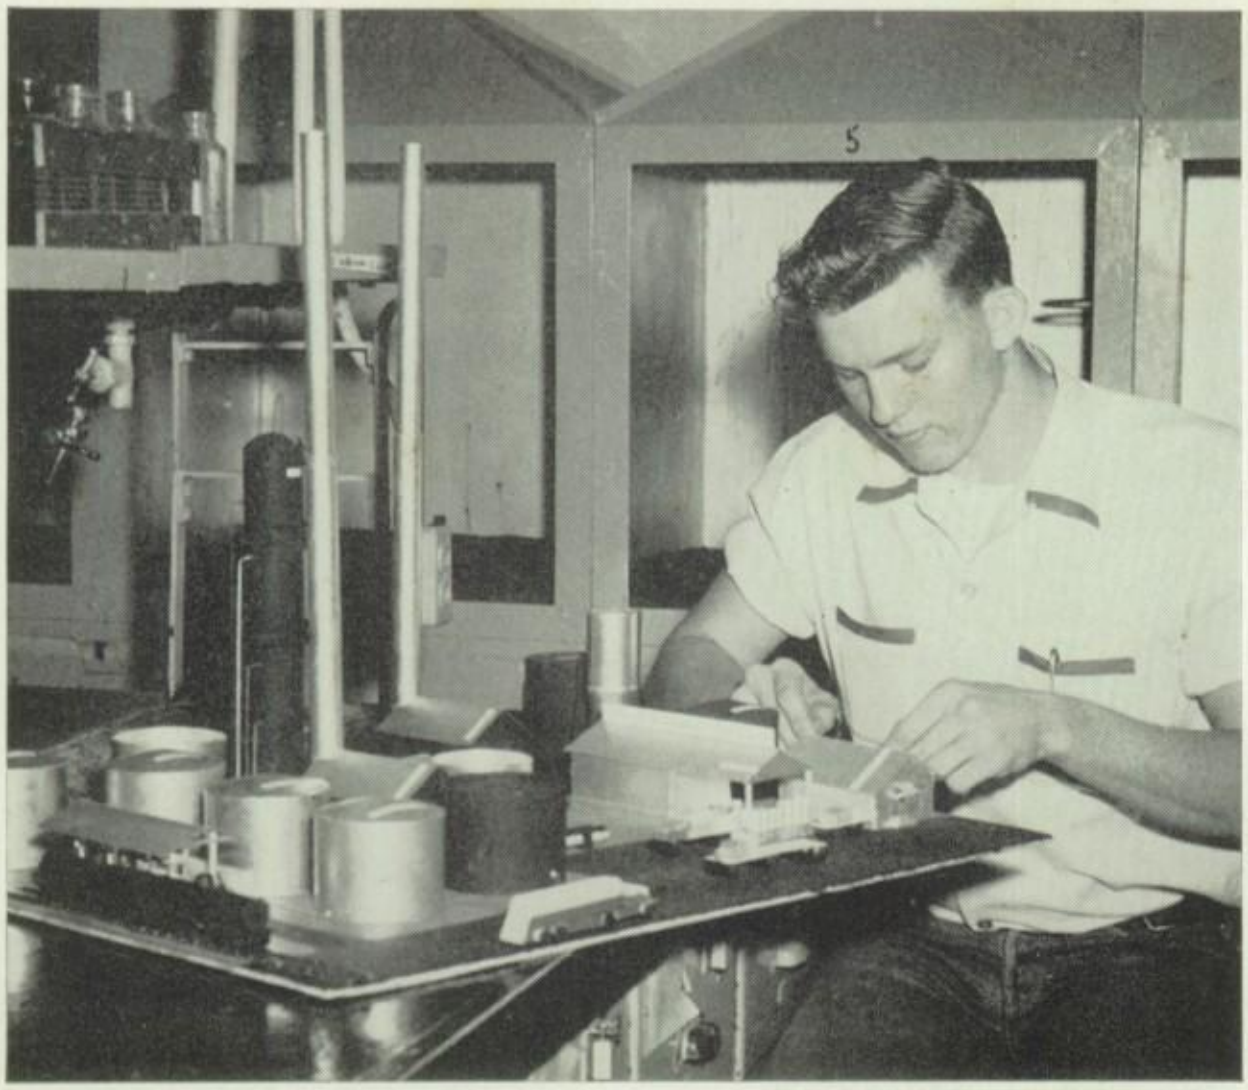
Handy Men

LEARNING TO WORK with your hands is an art. Not everyone can take a few boards, a saw, and some nails and produce a beautiful bookcase or a chest. But those who are willing to learn and possess average skill can become efficient enough to command high wages in industry. Industrial Arts courses prepare students who value a trade for a career as well as those who simply want to perfect a hobby.

Golden Eras Lie Ahead

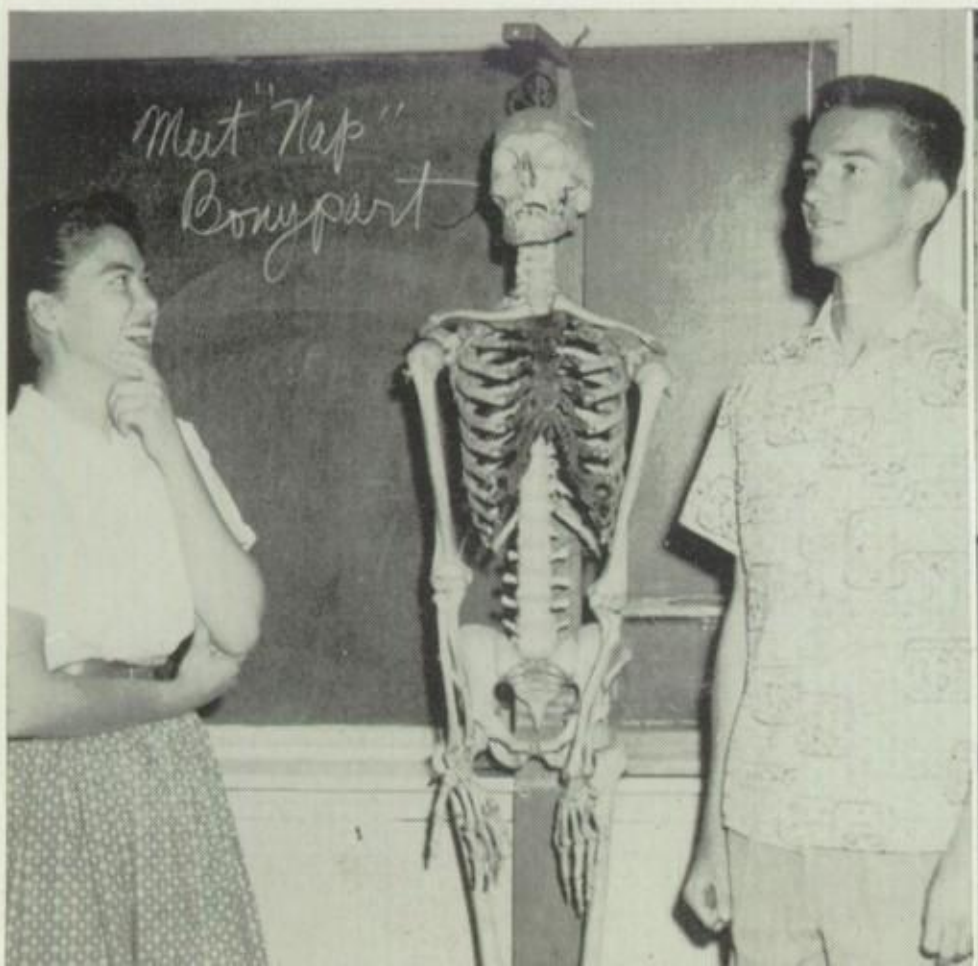


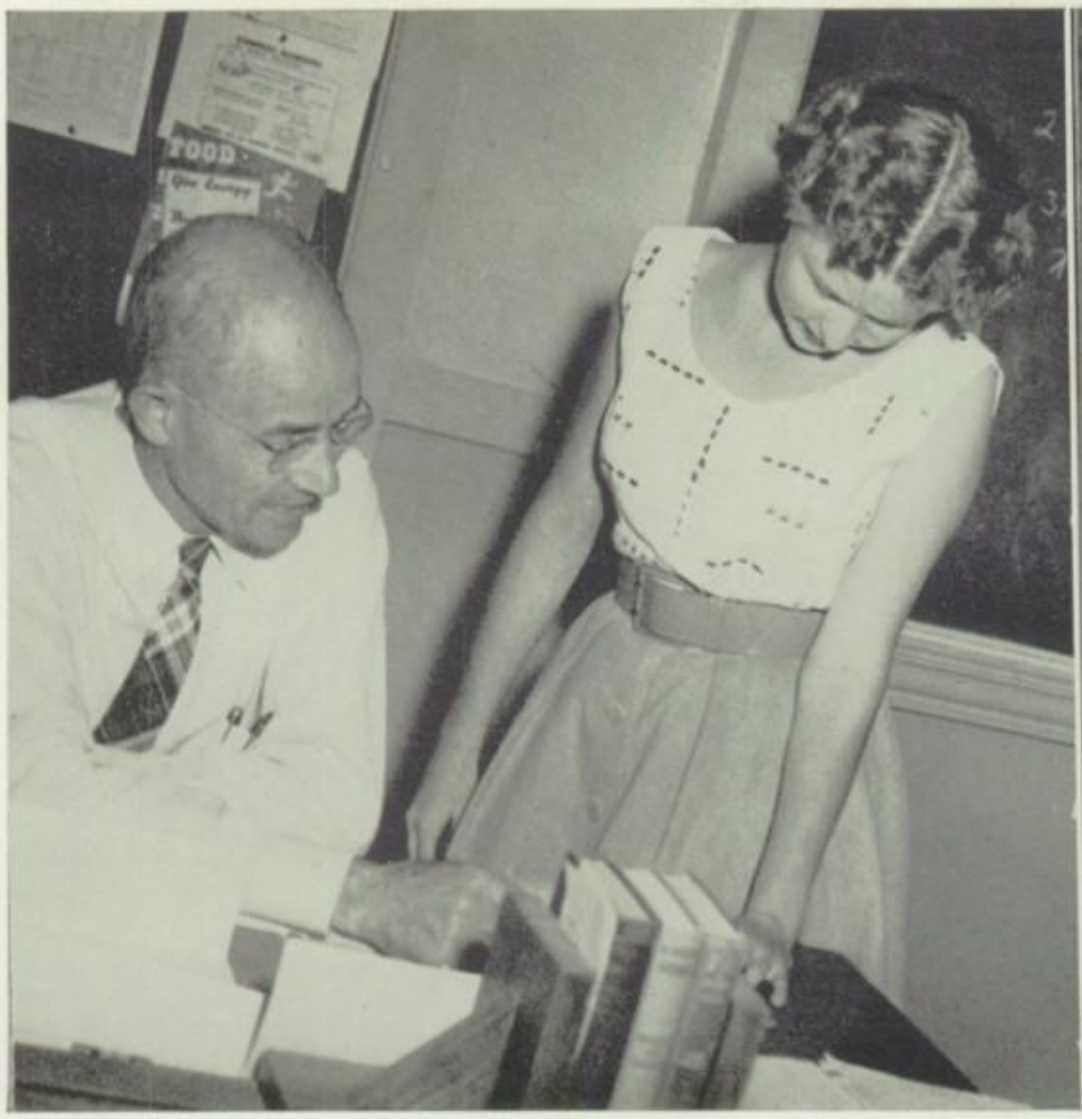
STANDARD equipment! Dan Inman here works on his model of a Standard Oil refinery which won praise at the annual Science Fair.

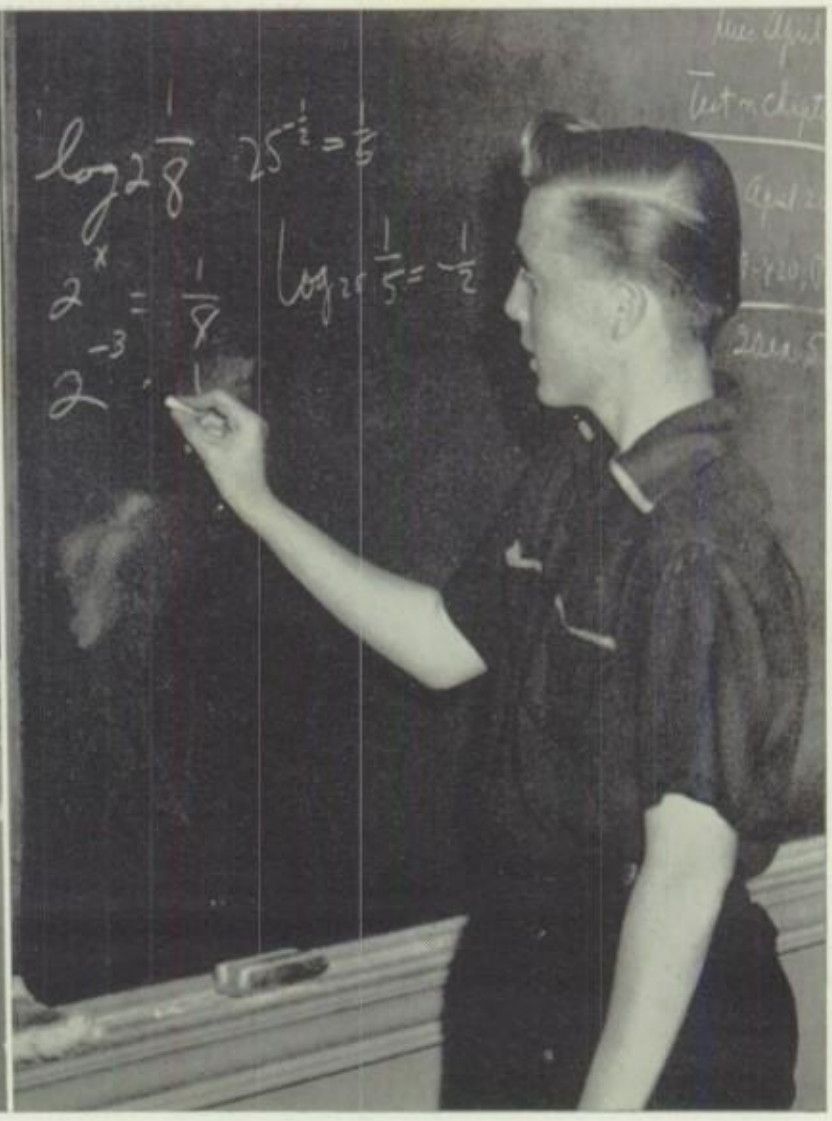
SCIENTIFIC ENDEAVOR has advanced tremendously in the last decade, but it is nothing to what will develop by 1965. Authorities have declared that atomic power will light cities, drive ships, and restore wastelands to production within that period. Mankind, if he can avoid total destruction, has ahead of him an era more golden and shining than anything heard or dreamed of even 10 years ago.

SCIENCE HAS dealt polio a killing blow. Other benefits for coming generations are now being discovered in the test tubes of scientists. Who knows? Tomorrow's great men of science may be getting their start in high school labs such as we enjoy at Phoenix Union!

MAKING NO BONES about Bill Guthrie's resemblance to Nap Bonypart, the Biology Lab skeleton, is Elva Ysasi. They are students in Miss Glendale Griffith's class. RIGHT: Prize display at the Science Fair was Sam Keltner's metals and mineral ores setup. Betty Jean Lopez is interested observer in Mr. William Vaughn's Physiography 2 class.







MATH DEPARTMENT Chairman Phillips is also a patient teacher. Here he is, explaining a perplexing problem to Kappes. RIGHT: Kane finally gets the solution to his equation, but not without a lot of coaching from classmates.

It Takes A Lot Of Figuring!

MATHEMATICS wasn't invented simply to bedevil poor high schoolers. Really, it plays a part in the serious business of living! Nobody seriously doubts the value of mathematics in today's Atomic Age, but a good many of us would rather leave the tougher problems to the youthful geniuses at the head of the class!

IN ADDITION to math's value as a thinking agent, it means a lot to every person, in his everyday life. You can't visit a grocery store, or collect your wages, or pay a debt without using mathematics. Future engineers and scientists especially find the PUHS course excellent in scope and value.

AUDIO - VISUAL training includes keeping the machines in repair. Shown checking a 16 mm projector are Wise and Graham.

NOW SPELL IT! Mr. Olney conducts the school-wide spelling bee sponsored by FBLA. Finalists pictured include Candelaria, Given(eventual winner), Gulatto, and Munoz. Hundreds of students competed for the cash prizes and honor. The bee's success asures its repetition in 1956.

It's Serious Business . . .

IF YOU'RE INTERESTED in the business world, there's not a better place to be found to begin your training than our Business Department which has for many years operated smoothly and efficiently, training thousands of students. Arizona business men have discovered they can depend on Phoenix Union graduates to do the job.

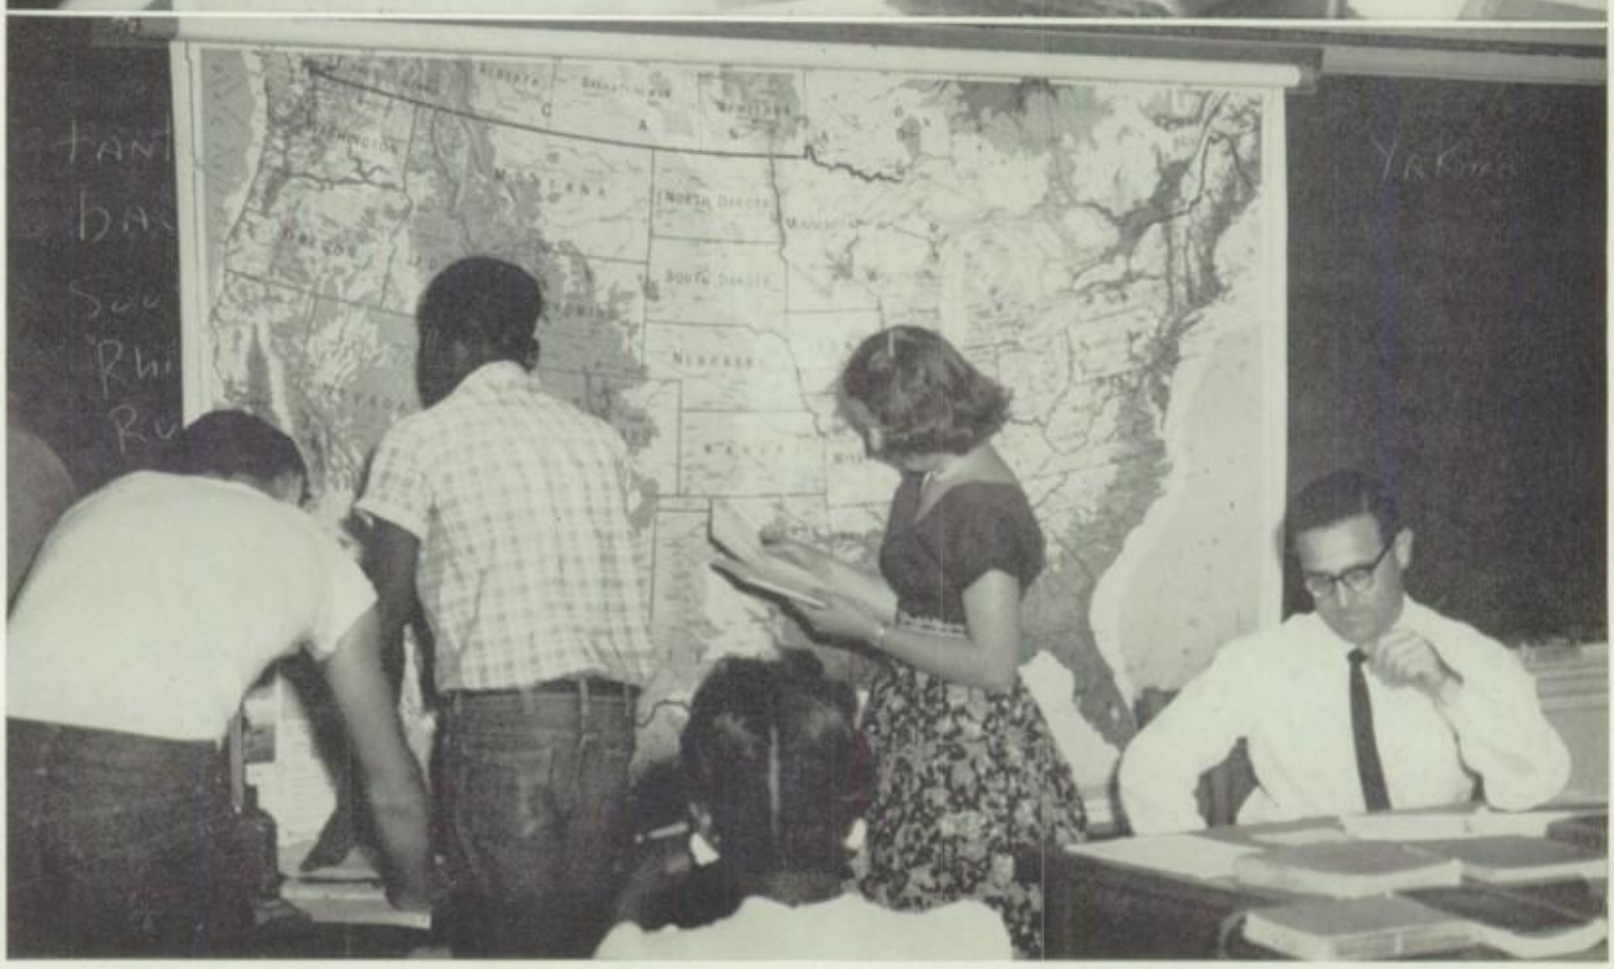
TYPING, SHORTHAND, bookkeeping, office machines, office training, clerical procedures, business math, advertising, and selling are subjects which can be studied here under efficient instructors.

Few students go through school without finding some subject of interest to them being offered in the Business Department. Many, not wanting to major in Business Education, find that they are better prepared for college life, thanks to a knowledge of this field.

BUSINESS GALS Cox, Fairchild, and Daley find that practice leads to perfection. Right: Department Chairman Brock checks the work of his fifth period typing students.

History

OH, SHOOT! Thorp and Ramirez show Mr. Richardson's Southwest History students drawings of some old frontier guns. They got a bang out of the demonstration.



NOW WHERE are we? Harvill, Bell, Crossland check the map for name places in World Geography. Instructor Ellis is at right.

New World

TWENTIETH CENTURY transportation and communication have squeezed the world into half its former size. It once took a year to get word from Asia to America. Now, if a gunman tries to shoot India's prime minister, everybody, everywhere, hears about it in seconds. We can hop a stratoliner and be in London a few hours later. It used to take a good month by steamer!

THE WORLD'S PEOPLE are our close neighbors. We must learn how to get along economically and otherwise, to survive. Wars can be prevented, and prosperity can grow everywhere if we can but learn to consider the other fellow's problems are as important as are ours. The Social Education Department has a worthy goal — to teach students about other economic systems, problems, and ideals, as well as our own. Those problems will all too soon be ours!

English

ROTARY Speech finalist Lyn Strickland tapes her winning talk while other school winners listen. They are John Tang and Jan Sessions, freshmen. Instructor is Mr. Richard Olsen.

Words Count

WHAT YOU SAY and how you say it can be the most decisive measures of success. Students of English are aware of the need for constant practice and study to improve their proficiency in speech, composition, spelling, and vocabulary. Emphasis is plased on the individual's desire to improve. Nobody can write or speak well without first wanting to!

ONCE THE REQUIRED three years of English are accomplished, the student may select from a large number of English electives to round out his knowledge pursuit of the mother tongue. These include drama, creative writing, journalism, word study, public speaking, and stage craft.

ENGLISH STUDY is really interesting, this class instructed by Miss Creighton, decided. Reciting is Roberta Haworth. RIGHT: "Newspapers feature the biggest and best story with a huge banner," explains Mike Sanchez, Freshman English student, in a panel discussion. Other panel members are Dave Bonzo and Martha Alexander.

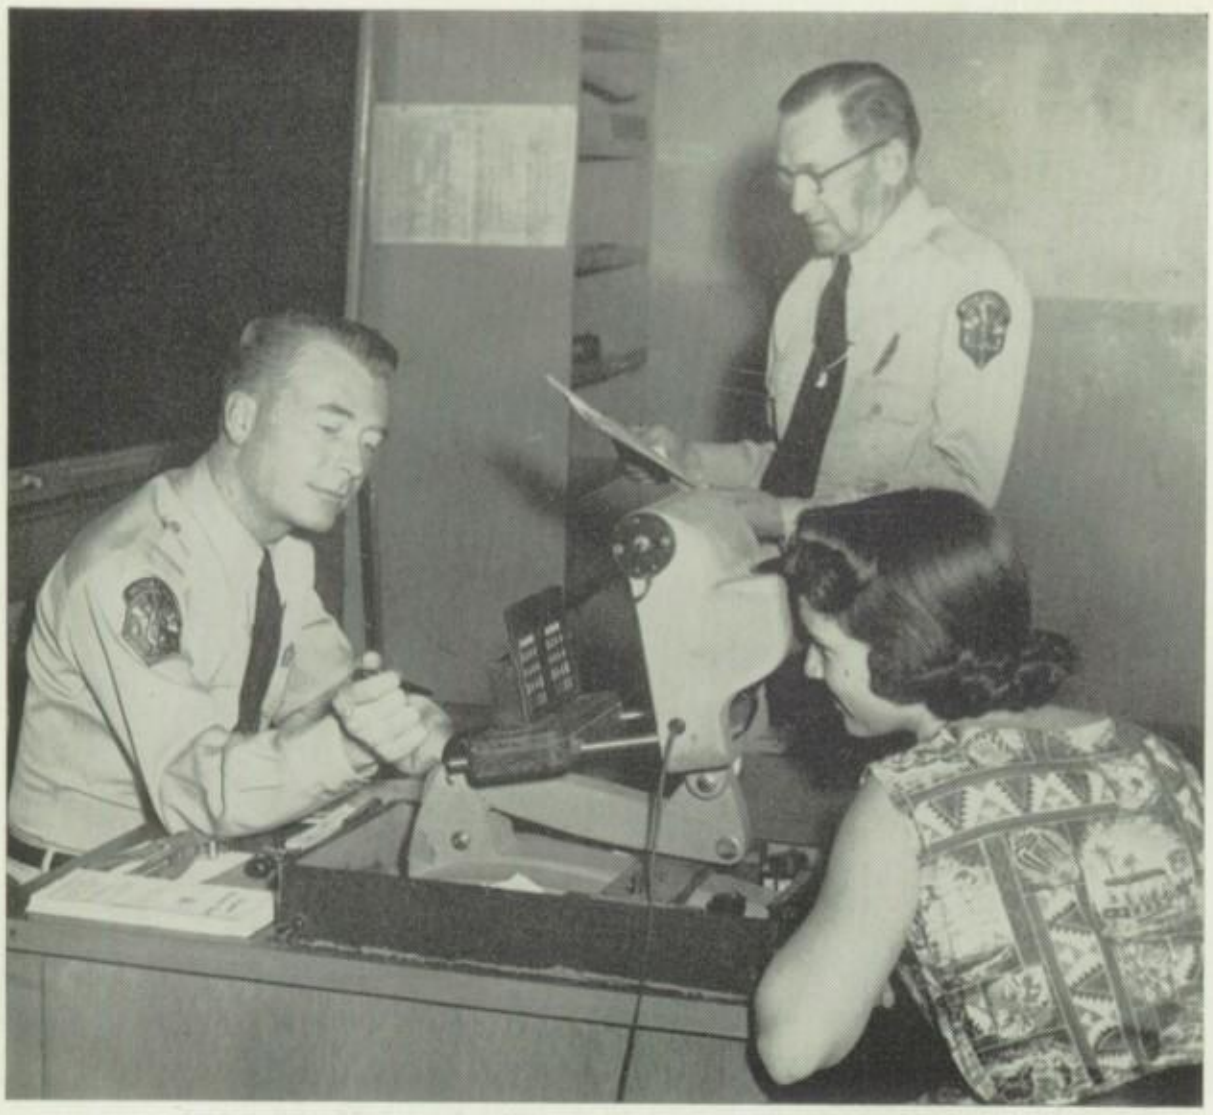
NEVER LET IT be said that Mr. Santo's classes were left wordless! Here the instructor in Spanish decorates the blackboard with terms the class must identify.

Watch Your Language!

IN A LITTLE SPANISH town . . . 'twas on a day like this! Spanish is more than a language to be studied. It is also a seeking for understanding of the people and their customs. Storybook characters can never seem real to students. The true study of people can be made only in everyday life situations. By means of pictures, records, and personal reports, teachers are able to bring the life and customs of foreign peoples to students at Phoenix Union. Languages are easier to learn when one understands the people.

FRENCH AND LATIN study are also a vigorous part of the foreign languages course of study. Skits, readings, and actual conversations in French have motivated the study in Mrs. Redewill's classes. Mrs. Robbins uses a number of devices to breathe life into the "dead" language, Latin.

OLD SPANISH custom gets a working over by Ayala, White, and Eager. Although Danalu waves the scarf at Rudy, the latter refuses to bullfight.



It's A Privilege . . .

CAR OWNERS who consider it their right to use the highways should know better, say officers of the Arizona Highway Patrol. Rather, it is a privilege to drive. Courtesy, not one's "rights" should take the lead when you're behind the wheel. Here, Officers R. C. George and Fred Finkenbiner check Carol Grimm, who is studying to secure a driver's license in the Auto Driving course.

HEALTH AND SAFETY are two of our most common — and most commonly ignored — words. We have heard the words of caution so often we've become immune to their meaning. Thus, the Health Center has been obliged to seek more dramatic means of driving home the lessons we all need. Safety measures in the home, at school, and on the streets are taught graphically. Posters showing comic but tragic results of too much haste in the hallways were placed in every building. Attractive signs urging better nutrition and eating habits also appeared. They had a good effect, too.

BASIC SEVEN foods were urged on our students this year by the Health Center. Here Jeanie Adams goes over the list while Mrs. Askins checks. RIGHT: Nurse Banker and her Health Center assistants look over a few of the Center's many magazines for health ideas. The girls are Betty Portillo, Beverly Mrozek, and Juanita Stulce, all of whom are interested in a nursing career.

Eggspectations—

A FAR DEPARTURE indeed from the Old Red Schoolhouse is the modern technique. Daily recitation periods, with teacher doing most of the talking, have given way to fascinating projects, field trips, and visits from professional persons. The learning process speeds up under such modern treatment. School can be fun, and profitable too!

No More Pearl Harbor Surprises

NEVER AGAIN WILL America be caught asleep while an enemy zooms in to attack. The grim lessons of Pearl Harbor will serve to keep our military strength at its peak efficiency, from the smallest ROTC cadet to the highest general. Military leaders recognize the importance of training from the high school level, and encourage programs such as our ROTC.

YOUTHFUL CADETS learn many valuable lessons in military. They study the theory of attack and defense; they learn military orders, rules, and tactics; they acquire military poise, politeness, precision in marching and gun handling. They are to be the future officers of the nation's most efficient army. They are the very backbone of America's stand against aggressors who would stamp out freedom.

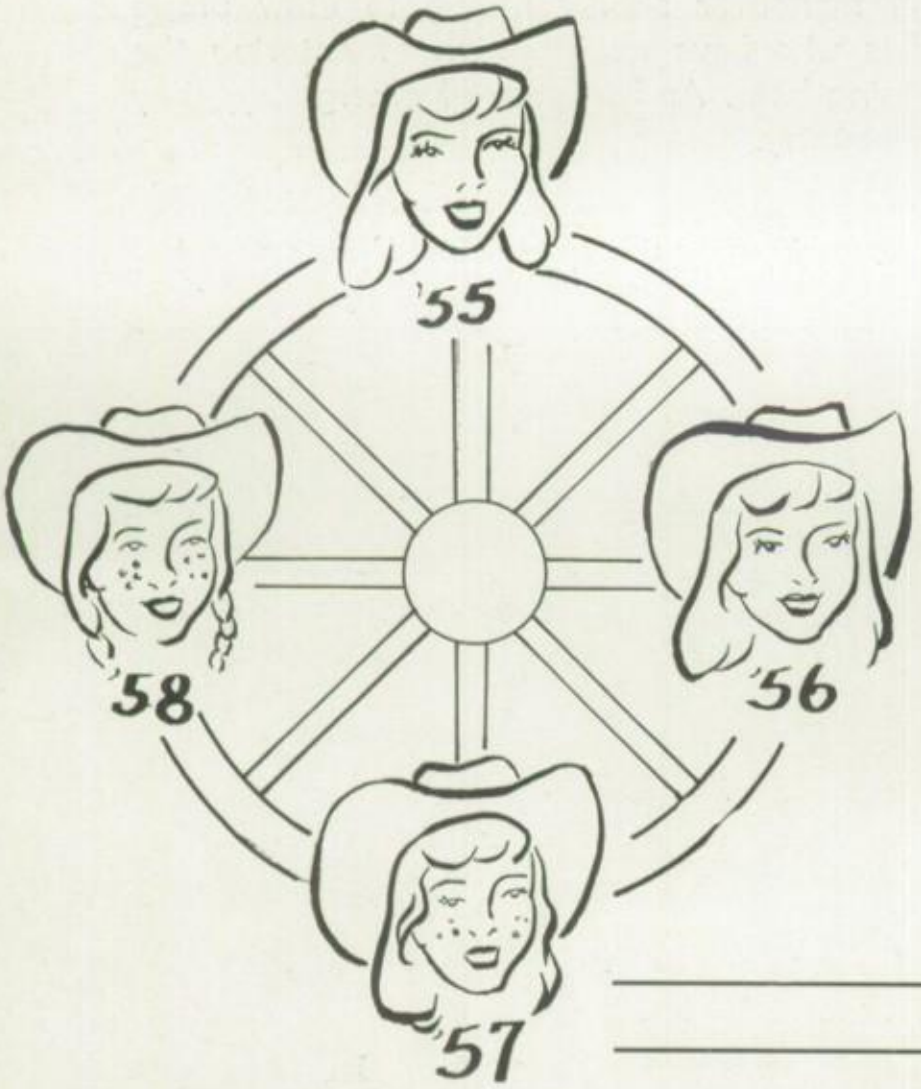
We'll Be Prepared

IT IS OUR FERVENT hope that war will never again come to America. But it is also our determination that an enemy must never enslave us or draw an Iron Curtain between us and freedom. For that reason, thousands of young Americans are taking Reserve Officer Training, to become leaders of others as determined to keep America free.

THE ROTC UNIT at Phoenix Union has maintained high standards of excellence through the years. Its marching, weapons handling, and maneuver skill continue to draw praise from regular army inspectors. Even those cadets who have no intention of entering the army as a career, benefit greatly from the training here. And in case of emergency, they will be that much more prepared to serve their country.

RIFLEMAN MIKE Scofield shows his gun to Sergeant Alvarez. Cadet Major Scofield has won many national prizes for his marksmanship on the rifle range. Right: Major Bennett inspects the rifle of a cadet soldier. It had better be in top condition!



Classes

Class of '55

It's Phoenix Union's 60th Since 1895 . . .

MIGHTY BIG CLASS, these '55 graduates! The entire senior class sat for this photo taken on the Quadrangle. By count there were 683, not far from the record 800 of 1940 when there was only one graduating class in the city's high school system.

Diploma Day's Coming . . . !

DIPLOMA, HERE WE COME! It's time to toss the books aside and practice that graduation march! We've served our four year stretch, now watch us scram out of here. . . . But wait, slow up . . . maybe we don't mean it quite that way. Our "term" here was no penalty. It was crammed with eventful happenings that will remain forever in our memories. And we leave as Phoenix Union's last class of graduates under the time-honored name. Quite a span, too — from 1895 to 1955!

AHEAD IS A CHALLENGE, we know. All our hopes and ambitions are tied up in tomorrows. College, marriage, a job. We'll find our way soon enough, for we have faith in our ability. We've had some wonderful training. Now it's up to us to apply what we've learned.

WHILE LIL DUDETTE takes a sighting on the future, the Class of '55 smiles confidently. The future holds a promise of great things. But there are memories, too, that will color all the days ahead. Phoenix Union High School will never be forgotten.

Music Moments

Rodeo Fans

COWHANDS go to work on their textbooks during Rodeo Week. Informality, even to the wearing of Western hats, dominates the campus when everybody in the Valley of the Sun goes Western for the annual rodeo. This picture, taken sixth period in the library, finds even the librarians dressed in the approved Old West style.

Class of '56

WHOOPEE! AWAY we go! Just one more year! That's the cry heard as the Class of '56 prepares for that big step, becoming the school's example to underclassmen. Three years of memories are now stored up; one year left to pile up the honors and to complete their record as high school students.

THE JUNIOR CLASS Play, Junior-Senior Prom, and many other projects have been ably handled. This year's class officers can be proud of the group they led so successfully. Traditionally the social butterflies of the four classes, juniors may look forward to a rugged final year of studies and the all-too-soon decisions they must make after graduation. Their care-free days may be numbered, but it was fun while it lasted!

LOOKING forward with confidence to the problems and challenges they'll face as seniors next year are junior class officers Mary Perkins, Sheldon Chernov, Norman Jackson, and Nellie Ortega.

PHOENIX UNION'S 1955 Boys' State delegation meets to plan political strategy. The 13 were chosen from 450 boys in the junior class. These include Top Row: Johnny Lee, Wayne Fowler, Phil Ewart, Ken Ramsey, Robert Bivens, Bob Gregory, and Charles Allen. SEATED: Jon Conner, Buddy Sessions, Emillio Reyes, Joe Sheppard, Syl Mabry, and Don Kenney.

SOPHOMORES SOMEHOW aren't quite important. They are a step above freshmen, sure; but they aren't as tall and well-fed as juniors, nor as sophisticated as seniors. It's no fun, either, to look up the word "sophomore" and find it meant originally "wise fool." Oh, well. We learned the hard way. We know the ropes. Watch us next year . . . we're wised-up now!

ANOTHER SCORE! Sophs can outcheer most anybody at Coyote games.

GO IT, TEAM! None cheers so wildly well as the sophomore who backs his team. This group is watching a basketball game during a regular assembly period. Did their team win? It shore did, pardner!

We'll Help Our Coyotes To Win!

Class of '58

NEVER underestimate these women! Boys had no place on this year's roster of freshman class officers. From !eft are Margie Chavez, Margie Minsch, Iris Jackson, and Doris Fung.

WHEN YOU HOLLER "Freshy," smile. He isn't so dumb, and someday you might be working for him! Being a high school freshman comes but once in a fellow's lifetime, and you can be sure the Class of '58 has enjoyed its initial year on the big campus At first, the buzz and hustle was confusing, but not for long. The newcomers joined clubs, took up sports, ran for office, struggled for a place on the Honor Roll.

LOOK FOR ADDED poise, height, and wisdom in this enthusiastic bunch next fall. They have learned all the angles about this high school life, and they want their share of the fun. As self-assured sophomores, they'll lord it over the Class of '59, using restraint, however.

RESHIE! Much fun has been made of the book-packing frosh, but remained for Glen Jacobs, left, to demonstrate. As he proceeds own the hallway of Building Five between classes, his burden becomes unwieldy and . . . DOWN go those books! Amused passersby include Carol White, Stanley Godbehere, Marilyn Mannken, Steve Lessard, and Wayne Brown, all of whom are freshmen.

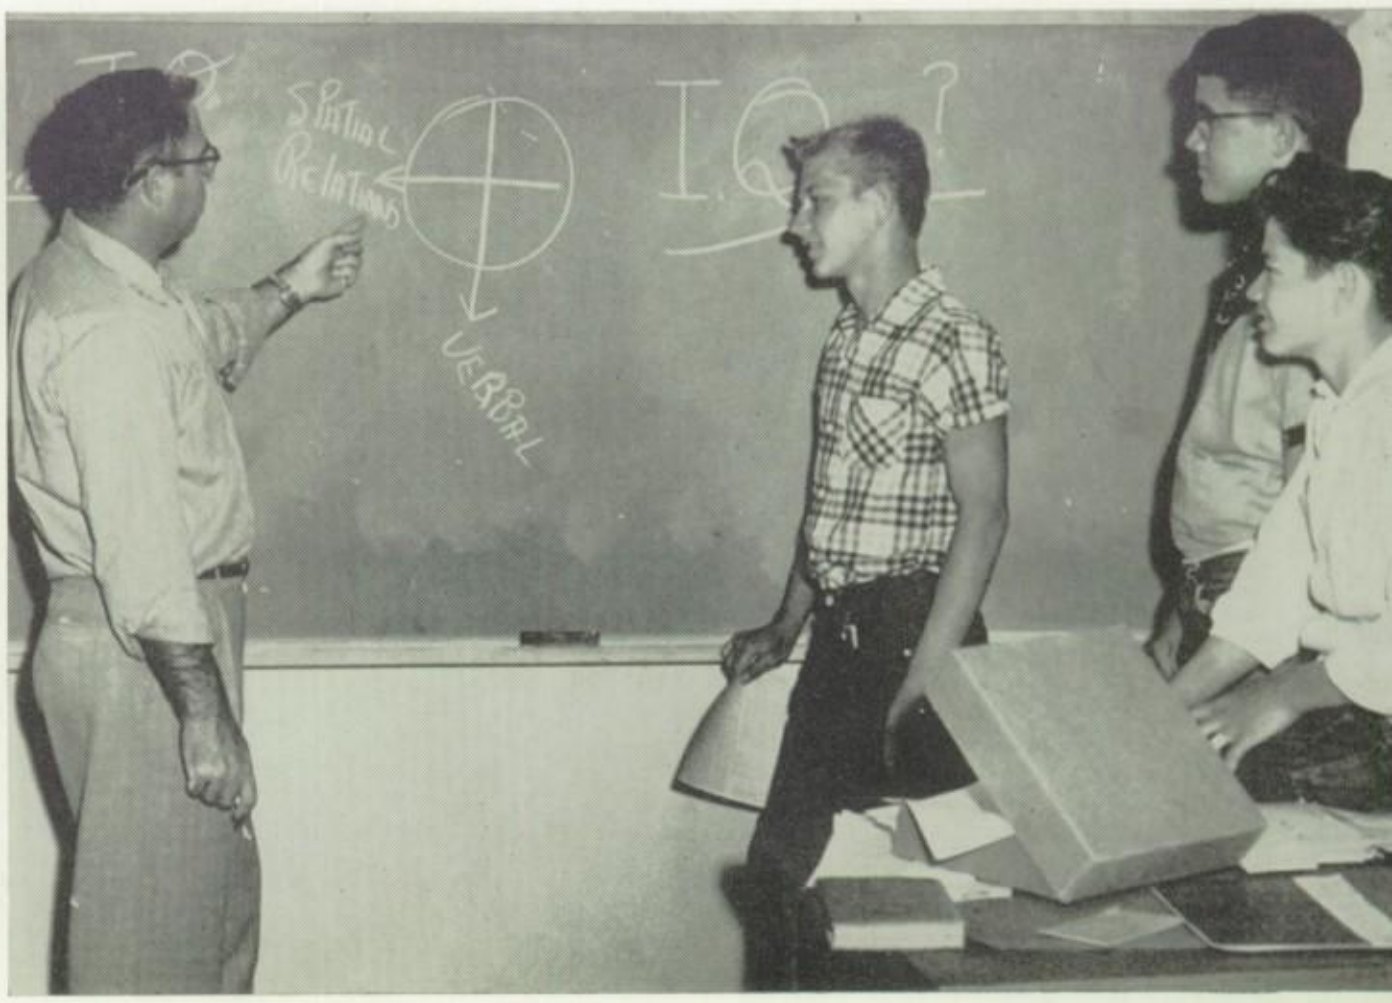
Ready Reward

WHAT MUST ONE DO to get a job on Freshman Council? Why, come to the meetings, mostly! Every interested freshman girl had leadership thrust upon her, if she indicated her interest in such things. Democratic principles ruled this group. There were no "big wheel" freezeout tactics allowed. Also, under the capable direction of Miss Lane, the girls undertook numerous projects and completed their program in fine style. Friendship, good sportsmanship, and the feeling of "belonging" were among the council members' rewards for reporting to Freshman Council.

What's I.Q.?



HOW'S THAT, again? Counselor Parsons attempts to show how the Intelligence Quotient works out. Trying to understand are Brooks, Miller, and Martin.

BRIGHT BUNCH! The photographer had to allow for too much light when he focused on this group of freshmen! They are Honor Roll members, leading their 1,000 classmates scholastically. ROW 1—(lower picture) shows the straight 1's in the Class of '58. They are Oser, Pool, Wick, Caldwell, Thornburg, Yaben, and Thomas. ROW 2—Lyles, Rogers, Lee, Soto, Humble, Drabot, Archer, Pederson. TOP: Ballard, Williams, R. Lee, Crnkovic, Graham, and Ramo. UPPER PICTURE: Row 1—Patton, D. Fung, Minsch, M. Kirby, Zanin, Roach, Bacon, K. Harris. TOP: Walker, Baer, Bates, N. McCaughey, P. Harris, M. Winslow, Bair, and Gibbs.

An Honored Few

ANY BEGINNER has it rough for awhile, and high school is no exception. Thus, to the freshmen who emerge as superior scholastically, we doff our sombrero and say "Congratulations! Well done! Keep it up!" Those who learn the ropes early will be the leaders of their senior class. Many an otherwise prominent senior wishes he had started earlier to "make the grade," for now he finds it's too late to merit National Honor Society membership.

Student Life

COUNTRY SONG

Plenty To Cheer About . . . !

COYOTE FANS had plenty to cheer about in 1954-55, not the least of which was the Phoenix Union cheerleaders themselves. Bringing to our campus another honor of which we can all be proud, this lively group of pepsters rated third nationally in cheerleading competition.

KEEPING US ON OUR toes during the basketball and football games, they led us in cheer after cheer, helping our teams roll over all opposition. They seemed to generate enthusiasm to the student body no matter how our boys were doing out on the playing field.

SPIRIT AT UNION, always on a high level, seemed to reach a new peak under the guidance of Head Cheerleader Lloyd Garber and his capable assistants. Although we became accustomed to victory, we didn't forget that good sportsmanship was our goal. Hearty cheers for opposing players was the rule, not the exception.

LIL DUDETTES with rhythm were our Pom Pon Girls, whose precision and attraction highlighted every major athletic contest. Sparkling their famous smiles are (bottom) Sperger, Evans, N. Morris; (top) Banker, Moncrief, Morrison, M. Morris, and Dixon.

Lil Dudettes With Pep, Precision, Rhythm

COMBINING BEAUTY with precision of movement, our Pom Pon girls just coudn't be topped. But being a member of this group isn't just glamour. Ask any one of the girls! They'll tell you that many long hours of hard work go into producing dances such as those which Phoenicians have become used to seeing at Coyote football and basketball games.

IN CHARGE OF OUR spirited dancers is Mary Louise Branigan. No one could convince us that these girls weren't Pom Pon leaders for the whole state of Arizona!

RIGHT IN STEP are the Pom Pon Girls at a football game. Their action and charm brightened the grid games.

We'll Win This One!

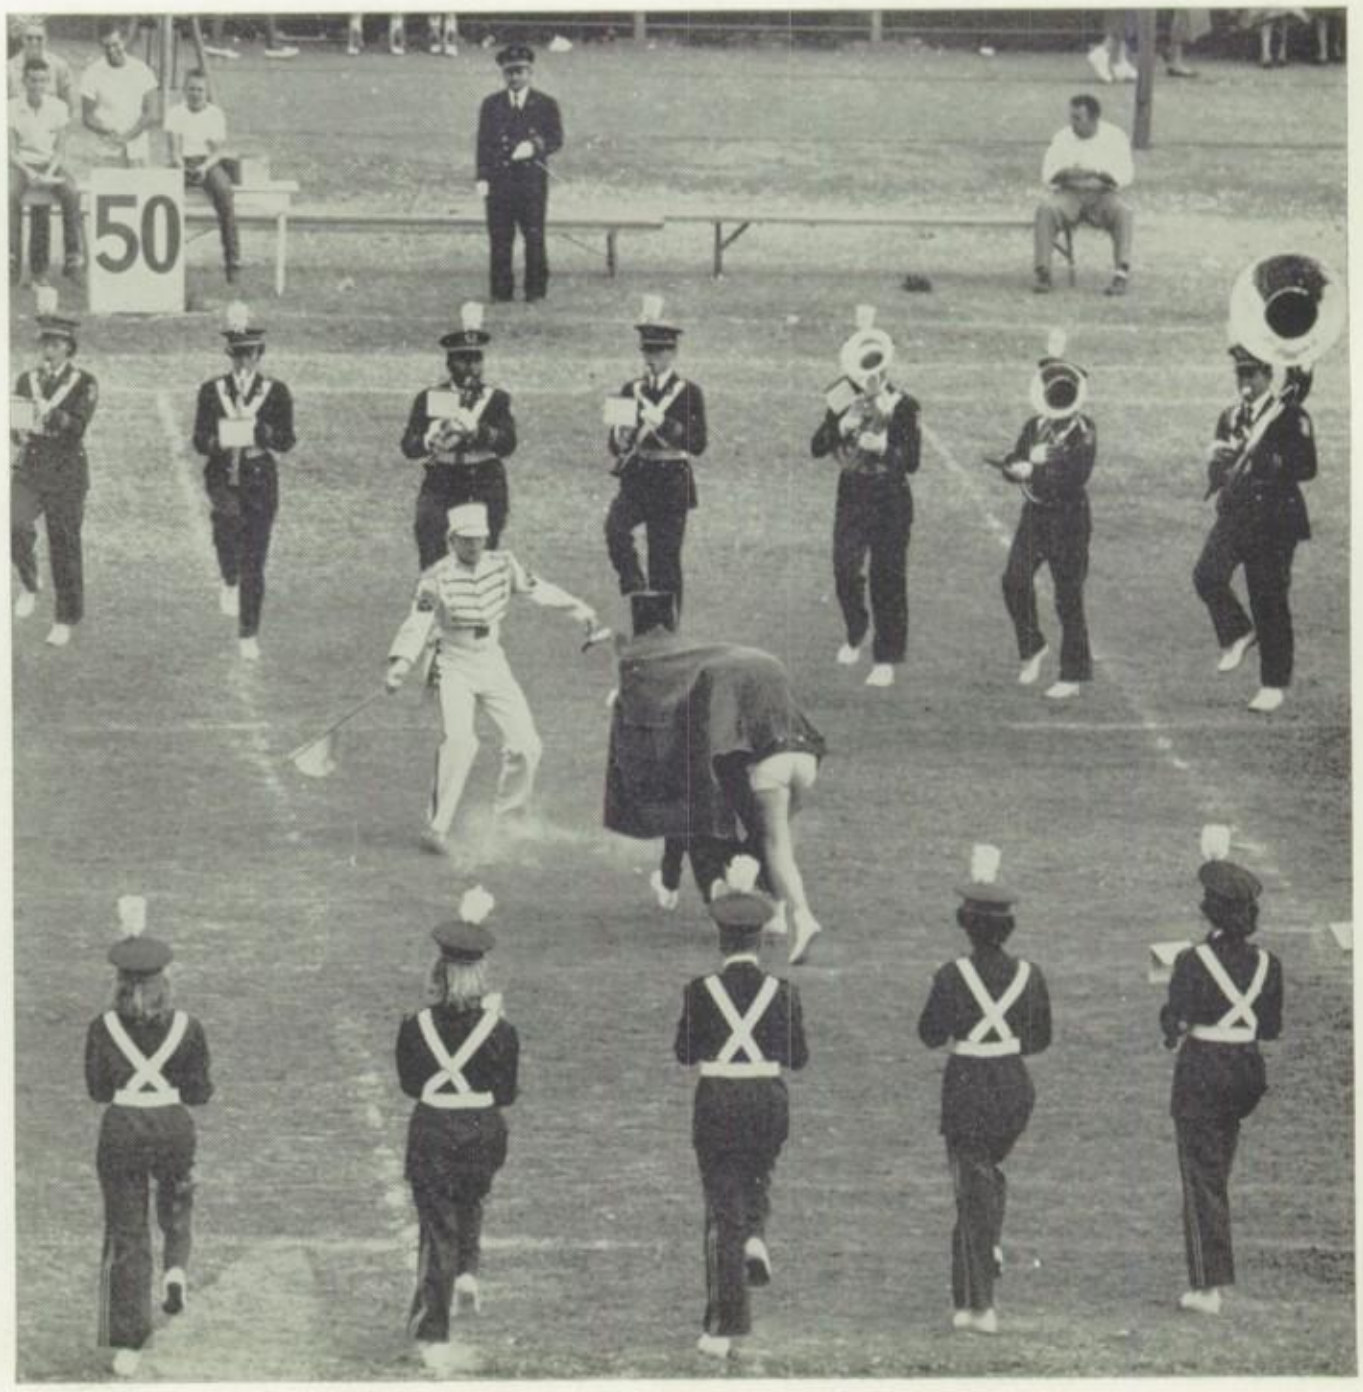
GO, YOU GIANTS! Phoenicians were as excited as Easterners over the World Series . . . and why not? Didn't our Giants claim Phoenix as their spring home? Watching the TV action of the series are Miss Lane, Mr. Sincoff, Beutler, Gilbert, and Stark.

Series Business!



BULL FIGHTING? Grid fans at the West High-Coyote game enjoyed the U of A band's interpretation of a bull fight, with cute coeds playing the bull and the drum major the toreador.

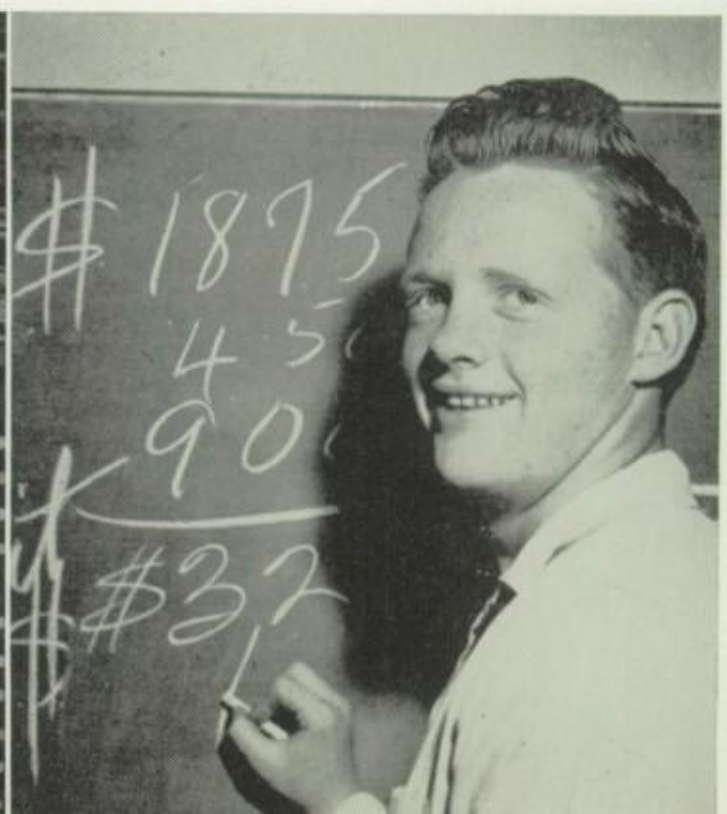
Journal's Ready Got A Dime?

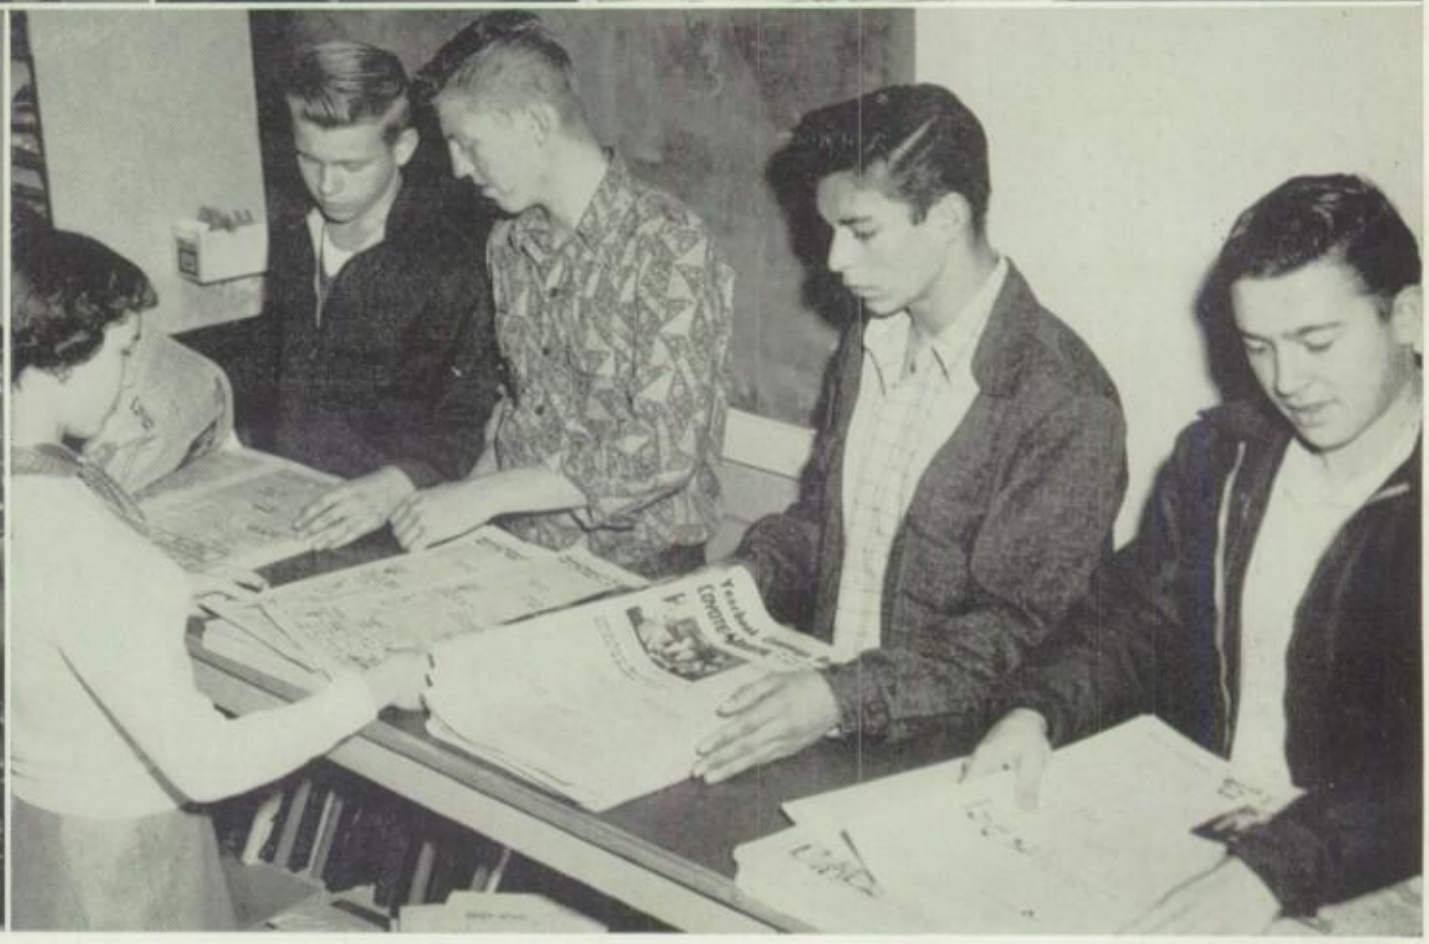
EDITOR-In-Chief Lyn Strickland, backed by copies of former issues, turns out copy for yet another Journal. Feature Editor Joani Hall and Business Mgr. Clyde Agin joined Lyn to produce a snappy, profitable enterprise. They were ably assisted by some 30 reporters and ad salesmen.

NEVER SATISFIED with a mediocre job, The Coyote Journal staff came through with a top-notch paper, newsy, interesting, and showing a nice profit. Certainly among the best looking high school papers anywhere, The Journal never lacked for interested readers.

MEETING DEADLINES, watching mounting costs, and striving for better coverage, The Journal gang came through with a 20 per cent readership increase over last year's good record. Variety, pictures, and snappy style paid dividends in every possible department. Faculty sponsors were Messrs. Scott Nelson and Ronald Miller.

CHECKING PROOFS, writing features, and figuring income kept these staffers mighty busy. From left are Bill Fraser, Joani Hall, and Clyde Agin. Advertising dynamo Agin also headed the Phoenician business staff.





ON THE JOB are Office Managers Dairman and Trigiano, as are (right) Journal folders Walters, Bradford, Frey, Sewell, and Pappas.

Production

THERE'S MORE THAN meets the eye to getting out an issue of The Coyote Journal. But you could never convince the average student it was much of a job. You simply wait awhile, the bulletin briefly announces, "another Journal comes out today . . ." and there you are!

ONE OBVIOUSLY innocent freshman thrust his head into The Journal doorway not long ago, looked curiously at the canvas-covered print dryer used by the photo boys, and asked, "Is THAT what you use to print The Journal?" Could that have been YOU? An average of 20 hours of writing, editing, and proofing must go into the Journal each issue . . . and most of that time comes after 3 p.m. Hard work? Yep! But it's plenty of fun, too!

No Loafing Allowed!

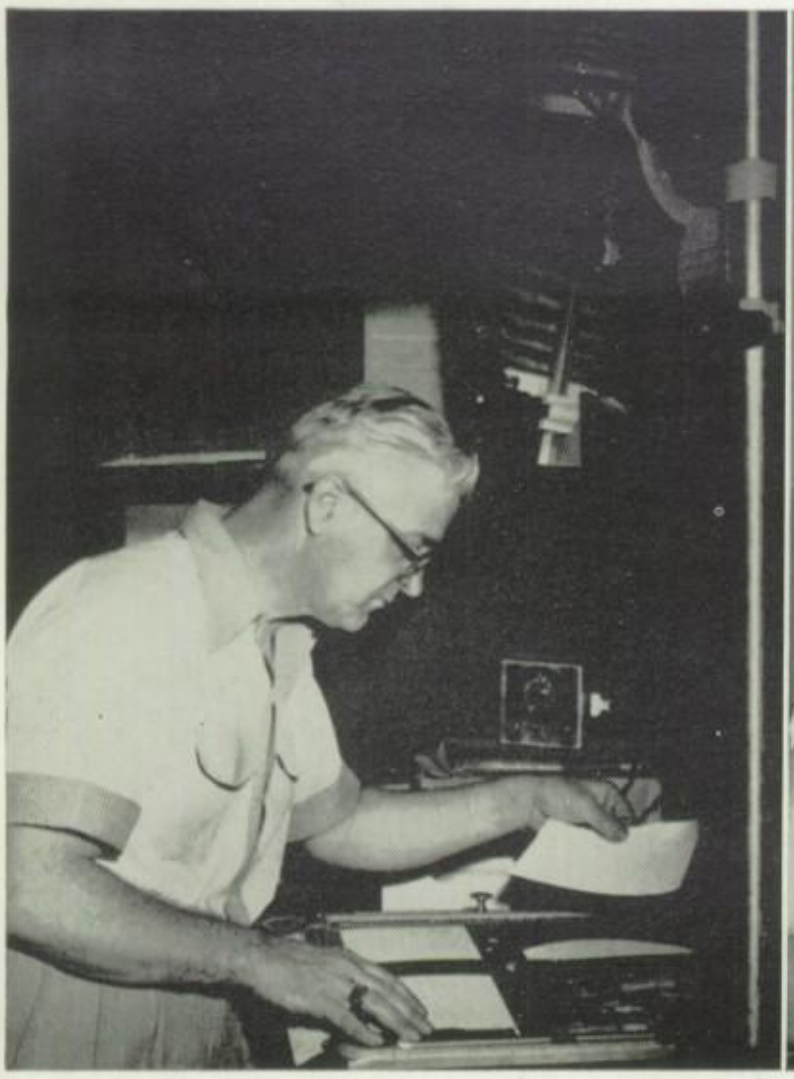
DON'T EVER OFFER to work on the annual unless you really mean it! This is one job where gabbing and time-killing are frowned upon. Too much work, the staff declares. Gotta meet those deadlines, f'rgoshsakes! But there is a thrill of accomplishment, too, when the job's done. When students oh! and ah! over the finished product, staffers can take the bows. "See, I wrote that! I took that picture! That snappy layout was my idea. . . ."

PERHAPS THE MOST valuable payment staff members get is the development of initiative and reliability. Kid stuff is for kids. When it comes to producing an $8,000 yearbook . . . Why, that's work for grownups—like us! Responsibilities do have a way of "aging" people!

DARK DOIN'S in the Photo Dark Room! Chief Nelson checks composition of a picture needed in the yearbook. Very little commercial photography went into the Phoenician this year. RIGHT: Faithful workers Rebena Rust, Betty Bonfrisco, and Tom Milstead could be counted on when needed. But that was true of a dozen others . . . who came early and stayed late.



Annual Staff . . . They Dude It!

EDITOR Ted Robinson sports his Western tie and happy grin in keeping with the Lil Dudette theme he and staffers followed this year.

IN THE RUSH that marks Publications Office routine as deadlines near, staff members forget their usual desire for horseplay and settle down to do an efficient job. Long hours and tedious detail can grow on one's nerves, especially when the work goes on and on. But with the final pages okayed and an attractive book ready for distribution, there's the reward they had hoped for! Will it be another All-American? Only time can tell . . . !

IN FOCUS is Head Photographer Charles Allen. Associate Editors Don Kenney and Mary Shaffer pause long enough to say, "Hurry, Bud. Let's get this annual copy to the printer!"

PRINCESSES in squaw dresses! Candidates this year for honors in the Salad Bowl January 1 were these attractive Lil Dudettes: Shirley Sperger, Janis Diehl, Rosalind Rightmer, Dixie Morrison, and Barbara Barr. Top school honor went to Rosalind, who was runner-up to the Bowl Queen. In April Rosalind was elected as Phoenix Union's candidate in the Arizona Maid of Cotton Contest.

Long Live Our Princesses!

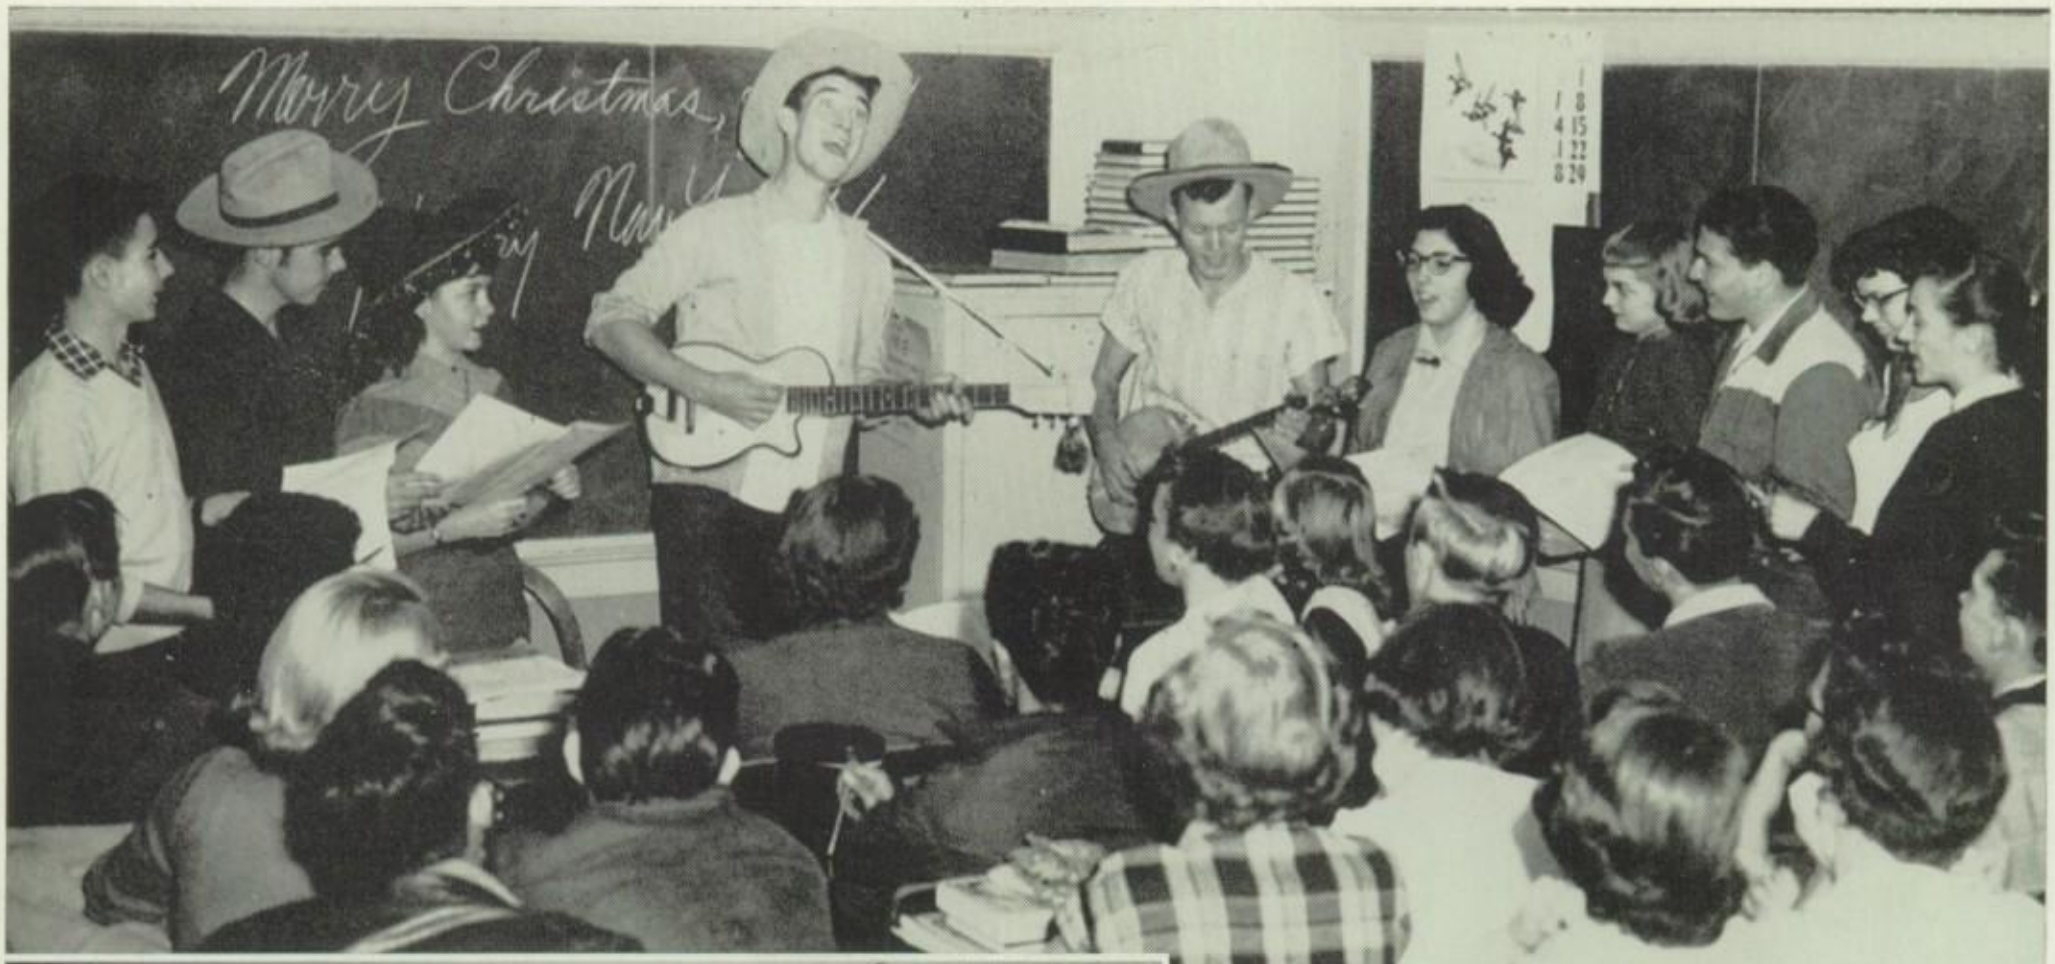
IN A DEMOCRATIC land such as Arizona, royalty has no permanent place—just honorary. But it is fun to make believe, and to nominate this beauty and that one for regal honors. Unlike the traditional royal line, the princesses in our land are not born to the throne . . . they have to win by popular selection! Poise, personality, and intelligence as well as beauty are requisites for the queen's title.

IN ADDITION to the New Year's Day princesses, we had two others this year. The football boys decided to elect a Grid Queen for the Turkey Game, sort of a royal windup to a wonderful season. They passed up the hundreds of beautiful senior girls. Likewise the juniors. Same with the sophomores—and settled on a brightly-smiling little freshman girl, Janet Alford. The other queen named by the PUHS boys was Betty Hawkins, who represented them at the annual Military Ball. Long live our Lil Dudettes! Our Western princesses!

For Champs, High Praise . . .

QUEEN of Color Day was Janet Alford, shown being crowned by Grid Captain Vico Sanchez. Attendant at right is Wilcena Franklin.

AND THAT'S how it happened! Former Coach Vernon Tuckey, now an FBI man, returns to the campus for the big Trophy Day Assembly. He is pactured as he tells how his Coyote team came from behind to score a wonderful victory on this floor 10 years ago. RIGHT: Just look at those beautiful trophies! State and city awards in football, basketball, wrestling, and rifle matches grace the table. Principal Carter is at right center. 1954-55 proved to be Phoenix Union's most triumphant athletic year in decades.



Cowboy Carolers

with a hillbilly beat! That was the tone of Mr. Nelson's homeroom party—which drew hundreds of other Yule celebrators to a singfest that rocked the ol' Fifth Building to its foundation. Carr and Wilson, upper center, handled the guitar and banjo department proficiently while others joined in the chorus. LOWER LEFT, Bell and Abelt cut cake for the crowd while Lee, right, adds sparkle to the tree.

Yuletide Greetings!

CHRISTMAS SEASON is always a fun time, with one long round of excitement, music programs, group singing, house parties, and gift-giving. Planning is almost as much fun as the actual doing, since we get such pleasure from anticipation. Homeroom parties meant much eating and laughter for participants. But it brought pleasure to the needy, too. Every group contributed money, food, and clothing to less fortunate families.

YULETIDE greetings in song were the forte of these Madrigal Singers. Seated are John Adams, Ruth Harrison, Pat Crotty, Lurline Cox, Ted Robinson, and Sue Culley. STANDING: Charles Detherow, Nancy Brown, Helen Gowen, and Gene London. Madrigal director was Miss Kathleen Hergt.

In Harmony

IN THEIR SECOND year as a part of the Music Department, the Madrigal Singers have established their worth. The choir, instructed by Miss Kathleen Hergt, sings unaccompanied and without direction. Although they frequently depart from madrigal-type songs, they were organized primarily for singing music of the 15th and 16th century. Their voices blended beautifully and the choir's popularity zoomed.

MADRIGAL CLASS consisted of two 10-voice groups, with a second group, underclassmen, ready to take over next year. The Madrigals sang before television cameras twice, and many PTA, church and school organizations. Active during the Christmas season, they maintained a busy schedule throughout the school year. A male quartet added zip to an already pleasing repertory.

SING, you rascals! In a jolly rendition of a rollicking number are Madrigal Quartet members Robinson, Crotty, Adams, and London.

HARMONIOUS CHORUS: On stage for their annual spring concert are members of A Cappella Choir. Their presentation of light classics, sacred, and popular numbers won high praise from their audience.

A Song For Everyone . . .

MUSIC TO PLEASE . . . That's the specialty of A Cappella Choir, under direction of Mrs. Sue Lombardi. Finding an attentive audience wherever they go, the 90-voice girls chorus presents such a varied and sparkling performance that even the most rabid Bach or bebop fan cannot leave without being pleased.

ALWAYS READY to respond with an outstanding performance, A Cappella once again made a rich contribution to Phoenix Union's Christmas and Easter seasons. Adding an additional touch of variety to A Cappella programs were the sophomore, junior, and senior trios. Blending together in various types of music, the trios were well received whenever they sang. Also outstanding was the annual spring concert with the Orchestra. The girls were especially pleased to rate a place in "First Chair," yearbook which featured the leading musical organizations in the nation. Recreational activities included an initiation party, spring picnic, and farewell banquet.

Music Makers

PLEASING TO ALL EARS was the music of the Concert Orchestra which this year was heard at numerous public functions such as assemblies, banquets, and special concerts. Under the talented baton of Mr. Eugene Lombardi, the student musicians earned high plaudits in their Annual Spring Concert given March 4.

NATIONAL PROMINENCE was also the lot of the Concert Orchestra, which rated space in the First Chair publication as an outstanding organization. One reason for the recognition might have been the interest shown by these students in the Phoenix Symphony Orchestra. Many of the students played with the Youth Symphony, a city-wide group sponsored by the Phoenix orchestra. But practice and performances did not monopolize all of the Concert Orchestra's time. Members found opportunity to cavort at parties and gay desert picnics.

ORCHESTRA on stage at its Spring Concert presents a picture of dignity and quiet harmony. With Mr. Lombardi as director, the group was headed by Tom Golden, president; Bill Beardon, vice-president; Marcia Henry, treasurer, and Carolyn Sipes, secretary.

ORATORIO SOCIETY singers gave the professional touch to the classics at Christmas time and Easter. Their power and harmony have won warm praise from across the nation. Group is posed here with Director Milton K. Rasbury at the Christmas Assembly.

Their Fame Was Nationwide

PHOENIX UNION'S nationally acclaimed Oratorio Society has won additional honnors this year. Under the direction of Dr. Milton K. Rasbury, the choir presented Handel's "The Messiah" at Christmastime, in hope of establishing this presentation as an annual affair.

FURTHER RECOGNITION came to the Society when they were asked by the Mutual Broadcasting Company to sing the Oratorio "Stabat Mater" on the nation-wide network — the fourth time they've sung for a major network. They sang "Stabat Mater" in their annual Easter Phoenix performance.

THIS YEAR'S outstanding efforts were the result of long hours of work on the part of the chorus, the director and accompanists. Long established as one of the leading choral organizations in the Southwest, many feel that Dr. Rasbury directed this choir to a new peak.

Holy Night . . .

This'll Sleigh Ya!

OLD SAINT NICK was ready to promise Lil Dudette a whole sleigh full of toys and sundry Christmas gifts after she charmed him with her cute get-up and dazzlin' smile. Dudette here is Shirley Sperger. Santa is regular Yuletide fixture at downtown department store.

Pep Merchants

Martial Music

THERE'S SOMETHING about a band! When a group of well trained young musicians give out with marching music, parade watchers want to fall right in line and go swinging along too! Many have said that band music was not for girl musicians, but the Cocadettes have disproved any such notion. They carry all the punch and vibrant harmony any critic could want. These Lil Dudettes of the cymbal, drum and slide trombone have really arrived!

PLANS FOR SCHOOL year 1955-56 include formation of additional bands, to give even more young people opportunity to share the thrills of accomplishment the Cocadettes have enjoyed. Music is wonderful to listen to, but it is many time more thrilling to be one of the music makers!

COCADETTES BAND takes the stage for its part of the spring concert last April. Girls combine with Boys' Band at grid games and for downtown parades.

Concert Band

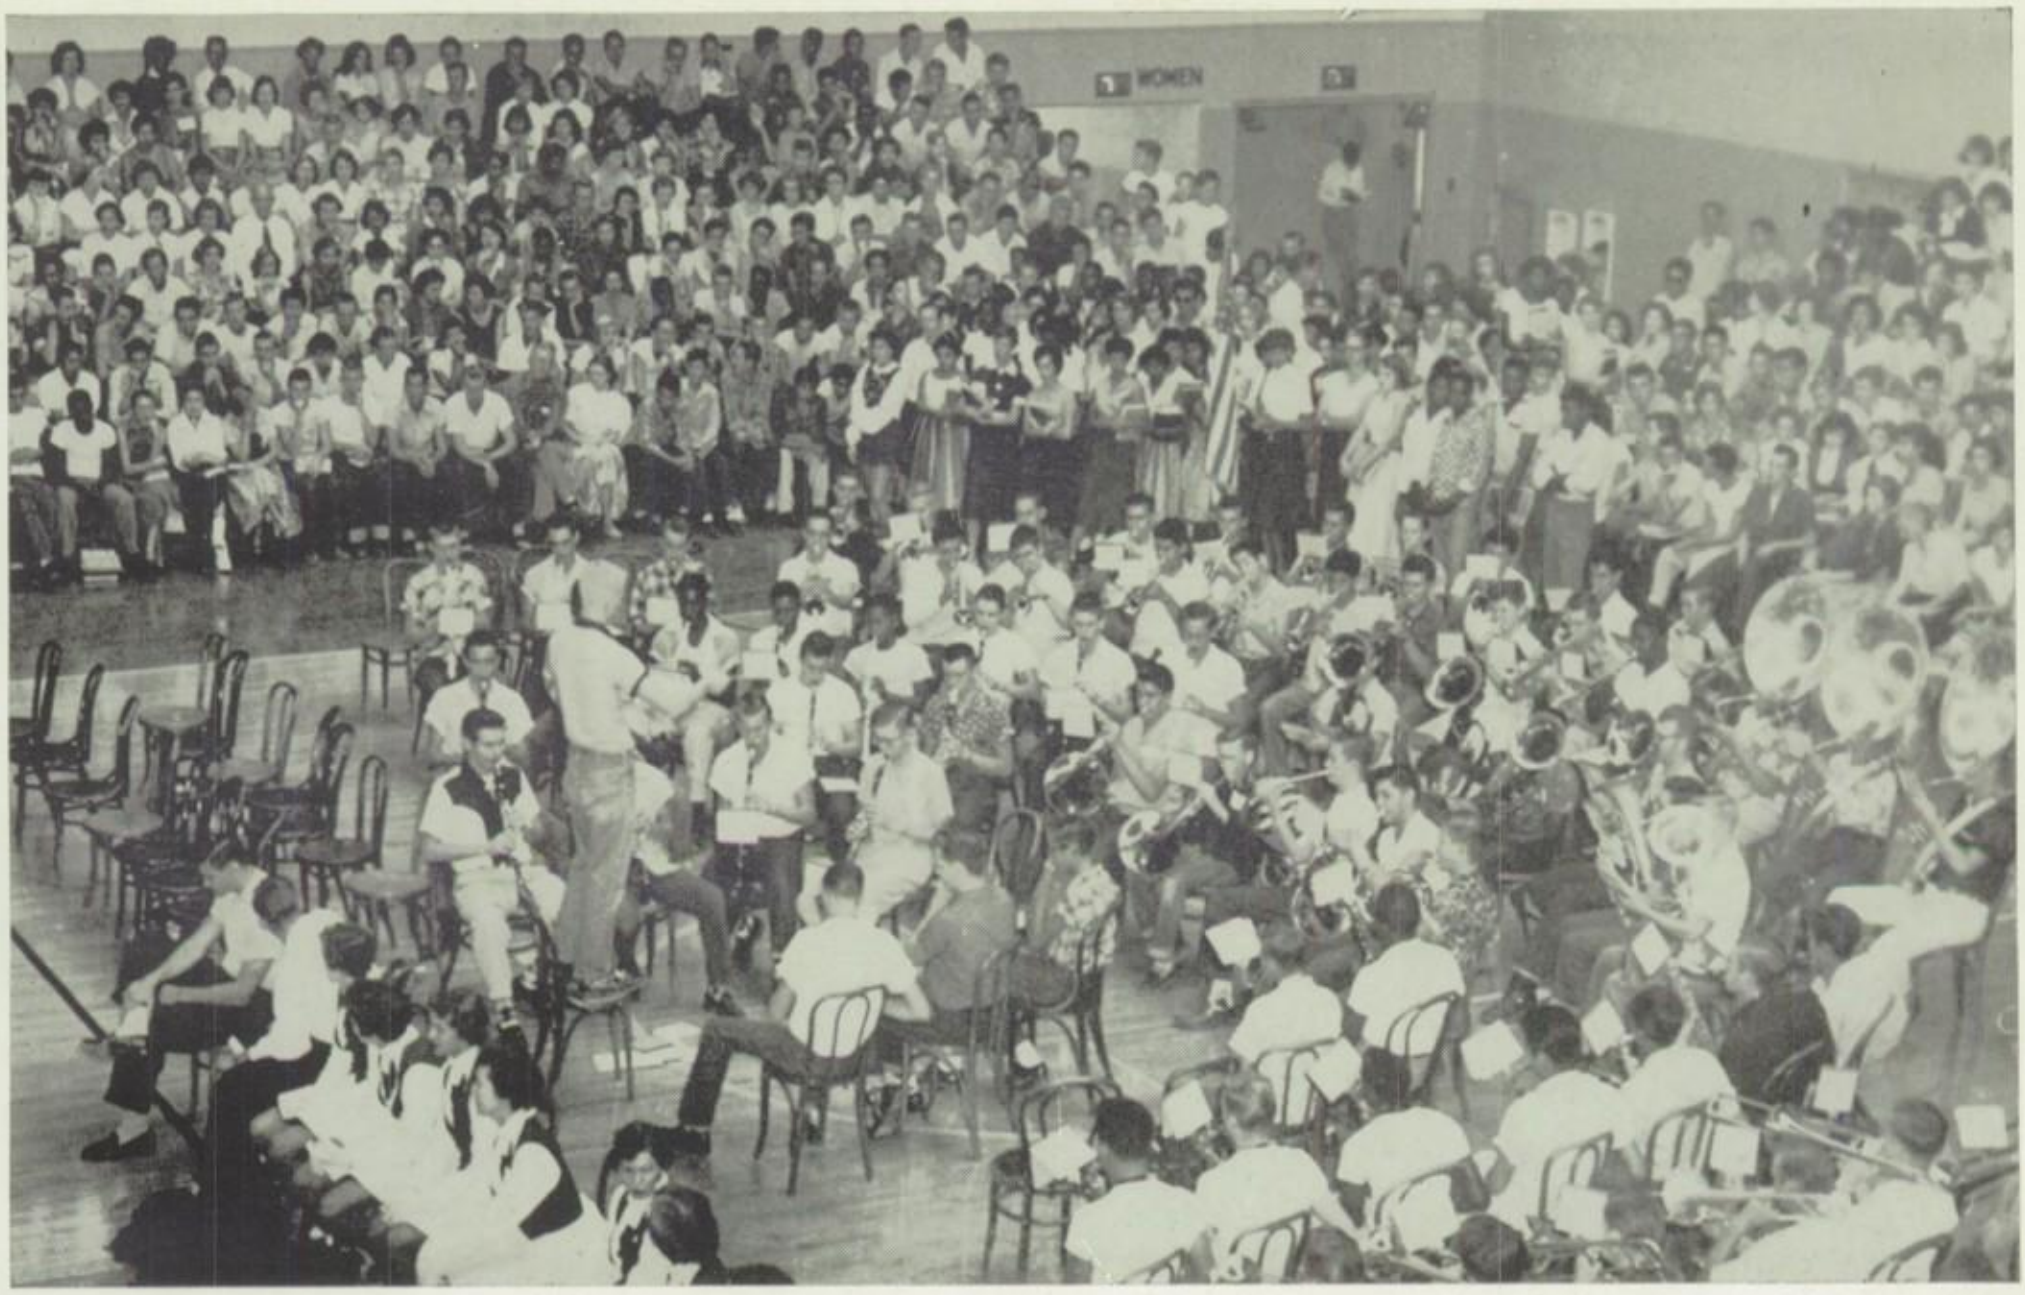
Rooty-Toot-Toot!

JORDAN SOLOS in assembly while Carbajal washes up Easter Bunny Voelker, above. LOWER: Lawson, Jones and Beckerleg jam in assembly while Allen enacts beautiful, bubbling spring.



YOU COULDN'T IMAGINE a pep assembly without the Band, Majorettes, and Pom Pon Girls! More this year than ever before, we enjoyed single assambly periods in the Gym, with most of us finding seats, too! This view was taken from the east end, looking north. Can you spot yourself in the mob? New acoustics installation helped us to hear our cheers better second semester.

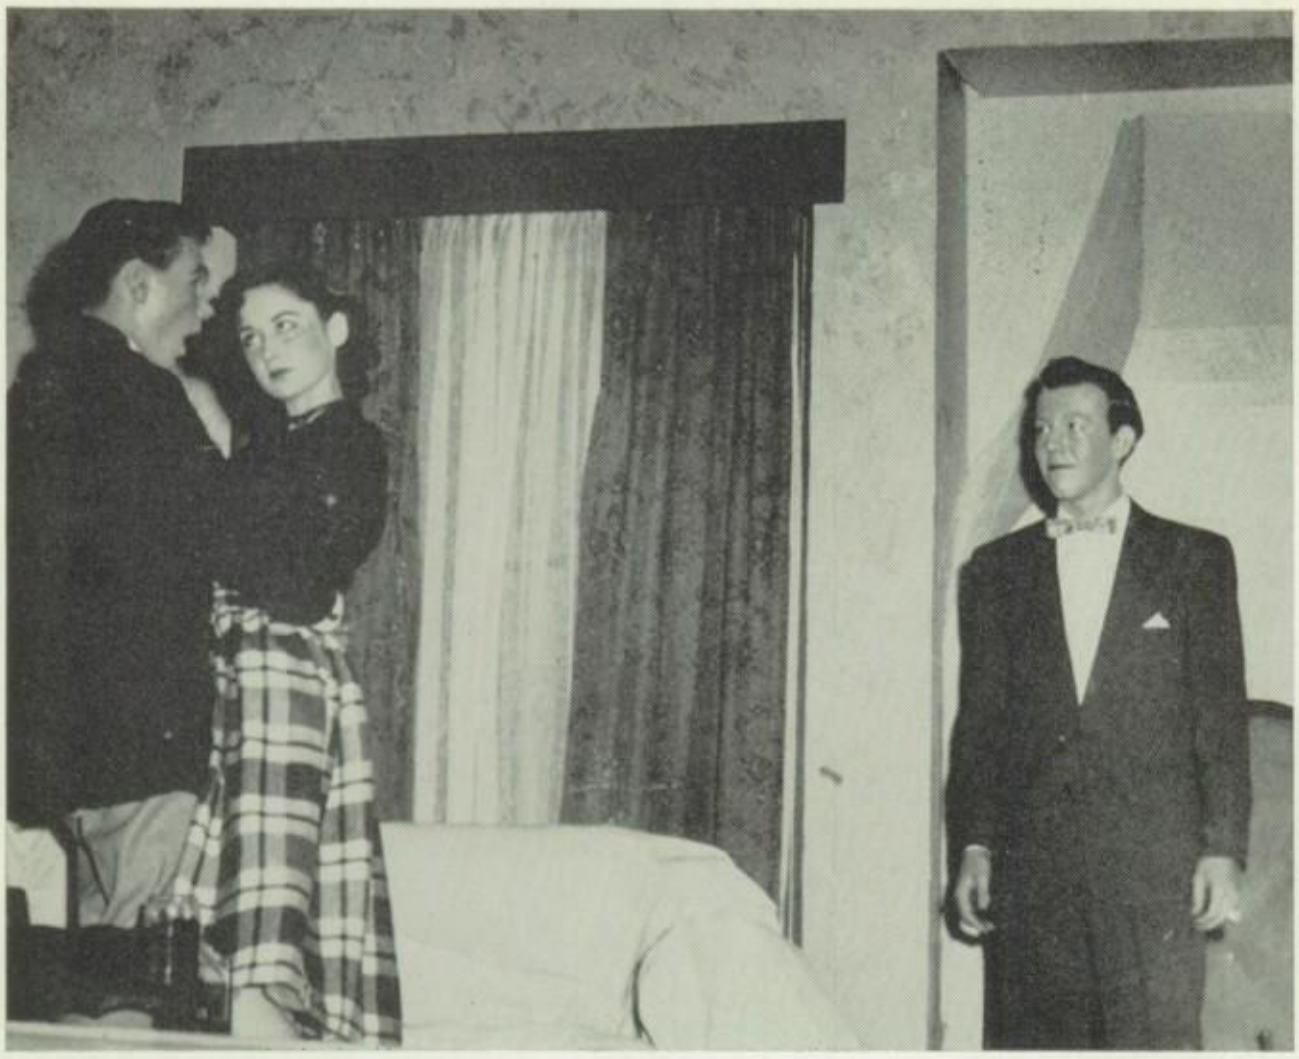
Were We Ever Cheer-full!

HURRY, LIL DUDETTE! You'll be late to the Pep Assembly! Nobody ever skipped these cheer sessions, unless he had a broken leg or tonsillitis! Least of all, Lil Dudette, who always entered into the spirit of things right now.

A MAJOR IMPROVEMENT in the acoustics of the Gym made it possible for every speaker to be heard . . . instead of a series of inaudible re-echoing sounds bouncing back and forth from the high dome of the building. When Principal Carter warmly remarked at the Awards Assembly, "This is the best student body anybody could ask for — anywhere," we agreed. Can't fight the truth, Lil Dudette declared!

IN ADDITION to assemblies and basketball games, the Gym was the scene this year of numerous sports dances and formal balls.

Curtain's Going Up!



BRRRR! Ha! Terror at Black Oaks brought giggles of laughter from the audience. Here Walker catches Hancock and Kirk red-handed in a comic situation.

OUR DRAMATICS classes had many a field day this year with an assortment of plays designed to fit the needs of everybody. If you liked love scenes, you got 'em. Comedy? It came in tubfuls! Suspense? Murder mysteries, creeping death, and terror were around the corner, complete with furious lightning, thunder, and the crash of falling blood pressure.

THE TEENAGER laughfest, "Not In A Thousand Years," wound up the regular program. Masque and Gavel sponsored what many considered the prize assembly of the year when they presented a variety program highlighting a bridge game "as women would play it" featuring Messrs. Johnson, Jacquot, Shepard, and Olsen. A companion skit, "Little Red," cleverly satirized the old fable on the same assembly program.

Ahem!

NOW YOU just listen to me! Stern elders Mattern and Rose read the riot act to teeners Kaldizer and Howe, who listen dutifully, but with obvious displeasure in a scene from "Not In A Thousand Years."

Giggle Soup

CERTAINLY, sophistication had no part in the dramatic offerings this year. Not that anybody wanted such long hair stuff, anyway! For mystery and suspense, "Terror At Black Oaks," given near Halloween time, did a good job of chilling spectators while tickling their ribs. This was quickly followed by a light comedy, "Her Fatal Beauty."

LACKING THE USUAL All-School Follies to occupy their time, the dramatics students were able to give full attention to a series of comedies that delighted their afternoon audiences. Masque and Gavel had its share of the spotlights, too.

PICNIC SCENE in the garden finds Hancock looking over the menu and the carrying-on of Juarez, Ewart, and Fox, who might be happier if there were something more on the table to eat. The play was a hilarious, rib-tickling farce.

Romance and Roses

MAKE READY for Midnight and Roses Ball kept many League girls busy, including Beulah Gregory, Patricia Martinez, Rose Bourne, and Darlene Emery.

SOFT MUSIC, EXCITEMENT, and romance . . . these marked the outstanding dance events of our 1954-55 school year. "Moonlight Serenade" was the framework around which the Girls' League built its annual Midnight and Roses Ball. The Junior Council went Oriental for this year's Sweetheart Ball, choosing "Japanese Gardens" as the theme. Each dance delighted patrons with the music, decorations, and feature numbers.

A NEW FLAVOR highlighted the Junior-Senior Prom in April — "Peppermint Stick," no less. The circus treatment in decorations and the holiday spirit as Graduation Day drew near sparked the eventful ball.

HANDSOME COUPLES graced the Gym floor at Midnight and Roses Ball. Always popular, the Girls' League formal attained a new high for entertainment. Or could it be we were in a more sentimental mood for the theme, "Moonlight Serenade?"

Real Cool

PRIZE WINNERS of the feature waltz at the Sweetheart Ball were LeRoy Hurler and Shirley Sperger. Barbara Barr and Ron Montgomery congratulate the lucky couple.

SNOWSTORM IN PHOENIX? Not quite! But the Sweetheart Ball was a mighty "cool" number, as these happy couples would tell you. Scene was taken from balcony, above decorations which featured "Japanese Gardens." White objects are Japanese flowers.

Crisp Cadence For Cadets

MOST OF THE YEAR the ROTC cadets read from books, carried guns, and marched up and down Montgomery Stadium field. But the drudgery included a shining promise of good things to come. One of the good things was the Annual Military Ball, co-sponsored by all ROTC Clubs in the Phoenix High School System.

HELD THIS YEAR in the PUHS Gym, the Military Ball kept high the tradition of glamour. In fact, a new touch was added: every cadet unit named a princess who would be entered as a contestant for queen at the ball. Betty Hawkins charmingly represented the Phoenix Union cadets at what proved to be an outstanding social event of the school year.

HONOR GUARD for Queen Betty Hawkins is formed by Cadet Col. Kelly and Maj. William Bennett.

SOFT LIGHTS, attractive decorations, romantic music, and an abundance of shining brass characterized this year's Military Ball.

Up, Up Everybody!

NOTHING LIKE IT has been seen in years! School spirit hit a high unprecedented in PUHS history, under leadership of pepsters such as Beth Riggens, Mike Mitten, Lloyd Garbor, Judy Reuter and others. No wonder our teams did well! They couldn't help but be inspired by the confidence the student body demonstrated, the loyalty they expressed, and the super cheering that rocked the Gym, Auditorium and Stadium when the occasion arose. . . .

INTO THE LOOKING glass peer Actors Powell and Caceletto while makeup artists do their stuff on the teachers' rugged features. RIGHT: More looking glass! Mr. Shepard adjusts his chapeau while Mr. Johnson makes catty remarks in "If Men Played Bridge As Women Do." In the same skit as shown, upper left, Messrs. Jacquot, Johnson, Olsen, and Shephard continue the horseplay.

Such Talent!

IN ANOTHER WAY 1955 was a banner year for Phoenix Union. For it was this semester that found a talented faculty going on stage to entertain appreciative students with a brand of corn unknown west of Iowa. Perhaps the loss of the All-School Follies turned out to be a bonanza . . . if it meant the teachers were to come out of their shells and prove they were really humans with a sense of humor!

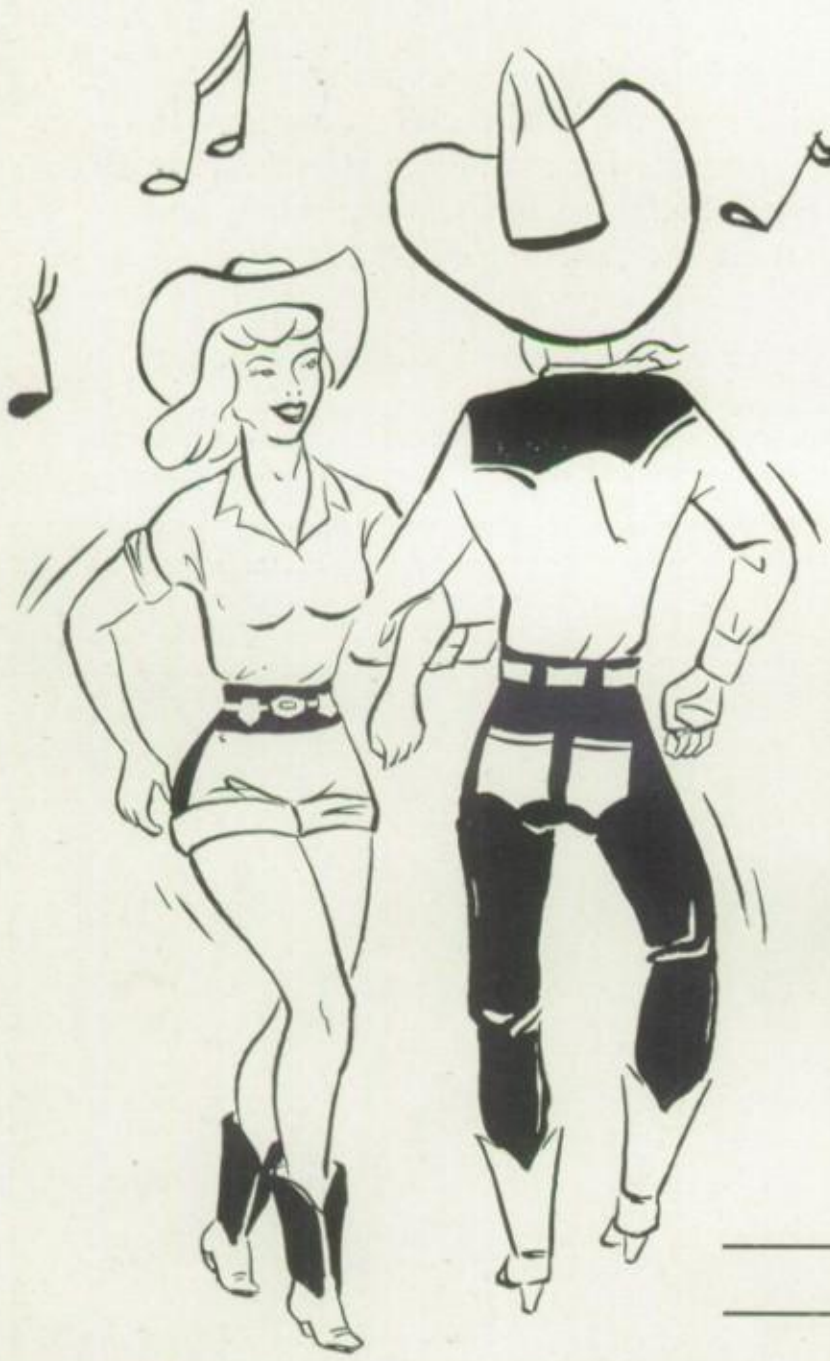
ALMOST CERTAIN to be repeated will be a faculty vaudeville which this year enriched the Parent-Teacher fund while tickling the students. And the Masque and Gavel skit, featuring the dramatics instructors, couldn't have been funnier or better timed. Yes, indeed, there'll be more! Rare talent has been uncovered!

Sure, We're Just The Type!

OH HO, YOU goofed! Assistant Director Harnish is the only one laughing during this rehearsal moment of "Not In A Thousand Years." Chastened cast members are Mattern, Michael, Rose, Kaldizar.

WHO HAS MORE FUN than people? Whether it's a part in a play or just gathering at a friend's house for a TV party or a home-cooked meal, Phoenix Union kids know how to enjoy life. One thing is certain — nobody takes things seriously for too long a stretch. That would be major disaster! Live and Learn is a fine motto. Let's enlarge it thus: Live, and Learn, and Have Fun! Especially if you can get a part in the school play!

NEVER HAD a leading part in a stage play, but at least Betty Critchfield got her leg in a cast! Iris Webb decorates the plaster while Mr. Corno watches. RIGHT: Joani and her pals enjoy Gobel during a staff party at the Hall home. Others are Mitchell, Fraser, Mitten, Kenney, and Allen, there actually to sample Joani's Spanish food.



Organizations

SENIOR HI-Y boys form their symbol. From the top row, reading down, are: Smith, Sanchez, Hulen, Wagner, Fotinos, Borden, Clemmer, Anderson, Conner, Roberts, D. Sanchez, Murphy, Spencer, Fraser, Montgomery, Ashford, Jefferies, Duffy, Mitchell, Ingram, Lorber, Kenney, Walker, Swann, Spotts, and Carbajal. Youth Legislature is this group's big annual event.

In Their Own Way They're 'Y's . . .

OFFICERS and sponsor count the take on dues-day. Treasurer Fraser is surrounded by Kenney, Montgomery, Mr. Wagoner, and Clemmer.

Key Club

CHARTER members sign up for the new Key Club. While Spotts signs, President Fraser, Mr. Trehearne of Kiwanis Club, Sponsor Prather, Sanchez, and Hulen look on.

Dedicated To Service . . .

LAUNCHING A NEW organization such as the Key Club called for a lot of planning and careful selection of membership. Sponsored by Phoenix Kiwanis Club, following a pattern outlined by the national Kiwanis group, Key Club consists of outstanding boys from the upper classes. It is one of 1,600 throughout America, all dedicated to service to their school and community. There were 25 charter members, 15 seniors, 10 juniors. Five sophomores were to be added later.

PROJECTS UNDERTAKEN this year by Key Club included painting the Stadium seats for the Kiwanis-sponsored Salad Bowl Game. Each Friday, two club members were luncheon guests of the Phoenix Kiwanians.

KEY CLUB MEMBERS include (seated) Spotts, Golden, Mitchell, Shepard, Fraser, Hartwick, Ewart, Spencer, Jackson, Mabry.

TOP: Hulen, Montgomery, Sanchez, Fotinos, Shankland, Ramsey, Robinson, Lawrence, Mr. Prather, Allen Kenney, D. Sanchez.

Music Attracts

MUSICAL ENTERTAINMENT is a major reward to girls of the Auditorium Club who spend long hours most every week ushering at concerts and other attractions at the PUHS assembly hall. One other thing of value they acquire — by practice. That is the ability to meet the public courteously and efficiently. In a regular season, the usherettes are likely to hear world-famous singers, pianists, and instrumentalists. An excellent dinner in the spring highlights their year's service.

ANYTHING MUSICAL is of interest to B-Sharp Club members. Consisting of students in the band, orchestra, and glee clubs, the B-Sharpers have a lot of outstanding talent in their own membership. Their regular programs are sprightly and well attended. Co-sponsors are Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Lombardi.

Their interest in the business field was sharpened by club activities.

As Busy As Bees!

BUSY AS BEES in a clover patch are those Future Business Leaders. Easily one of our most active clubs, FBLA had had no idle moments this school year. Field trips, excursions, guest speakers, social gatherings, and even a school-wide spelling contest colored their calendar of events.

SO SUCCESSFUL was the spelling contest, it is likely to be an annual affair, Sponsors Poteet and Caceletto believe. Yvonne Given won the 1955 contest and $10. There were seven finalists in all. Another highlight of the FBLA year is the initiation, when many beginning business students are enrolled, following a solemn ceremony.

Thinking Pays

SUPERIOR THINKING can win chess games or even wars, everything else being fairly equal. But winning is not always the best goal in itself. There is a challenge, an exhilaration in out-smarting an opponent which is guaranteed to pay off in a thrill superior to any gloating one might want to do after attaining a victory.

A NEW INTEREST at school, chess has attracted a number of thoughtful boys — and a few girls — who think checkers and tiddle-de-winks are in the same class. They enjoy the classic game, and have given a good account of themselves in competition with other such clubs. The Reserve Officers Club sponsors interest in the ROTC program at Phoenix Union.

ROTC CLUB—STANDING: Castillo, Hubbler, Reagan, Schmitt, Bennett, Kelly, Walker, Kerr, Binder. SEATED: Stotts, Kornegay, Hendricks, Krause, Phillips, Dunn.

Best Way To Grow

ACTIVE INTEREST in others characterizes the creed of YWCA and YMCA. Phoenix Union students who participate in the programs advanced by these organizations have found rich rewards in personal satisfaction. One can best promote one's growth by seeking to help others less fortunate.

THE SOCIAL SIDE of their lives was not neglected. Witness the round of get-togethers, including dances and picnics, the groups enjoyed. Y Nights have always been fun nights, too!

Energy Plus

THERE GOES LIL DUDETTE on the run again! Where do these Arizona teeners get all their energy? Perhaps it's their motives which inspire such ambition! Phoenix Union girls started their own version of the Senior Hi-Y this year in the form of Senior and Junior Tri-Hi-Y Clubs. They thus launched a calendar of activities that kept them running.

CALLED JEUNESSE En Marche, or Youth on the March, Senior Tri-Hi-Y worked on numerous service projects, selling cookies, sponsoring a car wash, and promoting a Sock Hop Dance to earn money for them. Purpose is to inspire creative work on social projects and service programs, and to maintain a good Christian fellowship. The club, lead by President Deanna Duncan, is sponsored by YWCA. Junior Tri-Hi-Y was led by Loretta Gotch, Shirley Sperger, Nelda Morris, Barbara Poole, and Dorothy Bedia.

Service Also Builds . . .

BEST WAY TO GAIN an education is to help somebody in some way. One learns very little if everything is done for him. Clubs such as these give members ample opportunity to be of practical use to others. Junior Hi-Y has many projects designed to aid the less fortunate, especially at Yuletide. Stadium Club has its big chance during football season, when patrons crowd into the stadium where these club members take over as ushers. But they also worked at basketball games.

MASQUE AND GAVEL—Bottom Row: Hancock, Brown, Wood, Mattern, Blair, Juarez, Caruso, Harnish, Kirk, Haworth, Kaldizar, Rightmer, Ewart, Theodoropoulos, Walker. Row 2: Moody, Day, Wolfe, Hay, Doyle, Gulatto, Fox, Matlock, Dooley, Wiggin, Pappas, Seymore, Howe, MacMillan. Public Speaking also an important feature of the group.

They Take Things In Easy Stages . . .

ALL THE WORLD'S a stage. And the people in it are as interesting as a cage full of chimpanzees. Especially if they're Masque and Gavel members! Their world of make-believe has been one long vacation of hilarious one-act plays and skits.

LOS COYOTES Espanoles have a solid basis for being. The language and customs of our next-door neighbors make for fascinating study and interesting imitation. Under the capable guidance of Mr. Powell, Los Coyotes has become a large, active group.

LOS COYOTES ESPANOLES—Bottom Row: Bonfrisco, Haworth, Sipes, Schmidt. Second Row: Wiedow, Drake, Couretos, Owens, Wallis, Hand, Isham, Satoris, Euzarraza, Morgan, Baty. Back Row: Peet, Martin, Fung, Yee, Bixby, Mr. Powell, Eager, Alford, Whyte, Fifer, Garcia, and Brown. Spanish costumes are a familiar sight in the Southwest—and at Phoenix Union.

LAS ESTRELLITAS—BACK ROW: Facio, Fernandez, Vineyard, Noriega, Leon, Gonzales, Vega, Escalante, Tellez, Caldera, Peralta, Cirino, Montiel, and Monreal. FRONT ROW: Mrs. Bailey, Tabanico, Tafoya, S. Ramirez, Baca, Avila, Varela, C. Ramirez, Garcia, Jimenez, Villa, and Lyles. Dances, Christmas and Thanksgiving projects, and charity drives highlighted activities.

A Twinkle In Each Eye . . .

TWINKLE, TWINKLE, little star! And how las Estrellitas have shone this past year! Their calendar of activities has been jam packed with good things to do — for each other and for those in need. This energetic group, affiliated with YWCA, has kept true to its pledge to serve others while keeping personal standards high. Future Homemakers of America air toward their goal as better leaders in homes and their community this year. Highlighting in the Club's activities for the year was role playing, coke-tail time, foreign dinner, cookie sale, progressive dinner and installation of officers, Yvonne Jett, was president; Lyda Fung, vice-president; Barbara Rose, secretary and treasurer; Cathy Clements, Historian.

Toujours, Le Bon Cercle Francais!

"MAKE SURE YOU SPELL it 'Le Cercle,' not 'La Circle' the way they did last year!" cautioned Sponsor Hazel Redewill of the French Club. And so it is . . . but the printer couldn't supply the little dealy under the "c" that makes it an S instead of a K in the French language. But no matter how you spell it, or say it, Le Cercle Francais is one of our best clubs . . . active, peppy, and good natured.

THEIR ANNUAL initiation party is a highlight for the whole campus, when the new members proudly wear their symbol of affiliation — including the berets. They may never have a visit to La Belle France, but they've had a mighty nice taste of it in Arizona!

SAY, HOW DID you get into our century? Legio Decima Clubbers are stumped by Lil Dudette's outfit. Nevertheless, admiring the pert 20th Century miss are, Front Row: Stoker, Gaither, Kunkel, Osborn, Eastman, Sasser, Mrs. Robbins. Row 2: Hedgepeth, Koy, Belman, Maki, Arnold, Squire, Thomas. Row 3: Owen, Babcock, Adams, Hartwich, Shepard, Romero, Patch. Club also issues a Latin newspaper each spring.

All Dressed In White

COSTUMES OFTEN are symbolic of one's profession, and it is true of the Florence Nightingales, who eventually will wear the honored uniform of registered nurses. They are getting much first hand experience by visiting the local hospitals, talking with graduate nurses, and helping out at the Health Center. Nursing is a wonderful career for those with courage and the will to serve.

ALSO IN WHITE were the senators of Old Rome, who used to philosophize while their slaves got out the washing. Legio Decima Club likes to emulate the ancient lawmakers, but once a year, while their picture is made, is often enough, think these modern Romans.

Bright Lights . . .

SCHOLARSHIP is a wonderful basis for any high school club, but none claims it so strongly as Parnassus, this year stronger than ever. Under sponsorship of Miss Mila Bray, Parnassus enjoyed frequent meetings, heard speakers. A Christmas party and a laughter-provoking Easter Egg frolic highlighted their social calendar. They have another honor coming, too! Their merit will be indicated on their diplomas, come graduation.

Artists Never Lack For Things To Do . . .

WHETHER WITH A PAINT brush or camera, hobbiests atop the Eighth Building find the world a wonderful place and the days too short, for all the fun they have planned to crowd into 24 hours. All of us have artistic leanings . . . and the fact that some are better than others serves only to spur on those who admire good work enough to seek improvement.

ART CLUB and SHUTTERBUGS have much in common. Club members are seeking the interesting and/or the beautiful to reproduce on film or canvas. There is nothing more satisfying than the sense of accomplishment—doing a job well from start to finish. These artists with paints and cameras have limitless opportunities for such pleasure.

Red Cross

Good Sports

YOU'LL NEVER FIND better men than the Lettermen! A motto like that might sound facetious, but there's more than a little truth in the saying. Trained from the start to consider the other fellow's rights in the game, these Coyote grid, basketball, track, and other athletes appreciate the spirit of fair play far more than could the spectator at one of their games. The spirit of friendly competition is good training for one's later responsibilities.

UNDER SPONSORSHIP of the Athletic Department, with Coach Sam Winningham as adviser, the Lettermen's Club has had a dandy year. Frequent meetings, a banquet, and the traditional Commando Basketball Game in the spring highlighted their agenda.

THERE WAS A TIME IN American history when a girl just didn't care to have muscles. She'd rather be the clinging vine who had to be defended by her stalwart male admirer whenever a mouse sneezed. But not any more! Lil Dudette has muscles and is proud of 'em. She can swim, hike, run, bat a ball, and give every evidence of red-blooded vigor. Girls' Letter Club is our modern-day proof.

WHEN A PERSON needs a friend, she really needs one. And that's one reason for the Friendship Club — to welcome every girl who wants companionship and the chance to enjoy the social side of school life. Many gay parties and meetings characterize this fine group.

At Your Service!

THERE ARE NEVER too many cooks to prepare the broth . . . at the school tea parties in the Social Hall. Whether it is to be a faculty reception or a club affair, members of S.O.S. are called on to smooth out difficulties and see that the party is successful. Not everybody knows just how important the work of S.O.S. can be, but all who attend the Social Hall functions come away pleased with the smooth operation and grace evidenced. The girls enjoy it, too. They like to be "at your service!"

101 Pepsters

THERE ARE 101 reasons why the Coyotes did so well this year! The 101 Club doesn't claim full responsibility for winning the state crown in football and basketball. But they're glad to admit they helped! Pep and school spirit mean more than many know to the players. They want to win, to do their best. But when they know they are really appreciated, and hear the cheers to prove it, that's when our boys go all out to snatch victory. Best of all, a group like the 101 can serve as a core of enthusiasm for the rest of the student body. Cheering is catching!

LIL DUDETTES led the club, too! Officers shown here are Wainwright, vice president; Bradshaw, treasurer; Bortel, secretary, and Addams, president.

It's Plain Magic . . .

THIRTY YEARS of familiarity with the work of Radio Hams does not dim their importance in the eyes of those who have learned to appreciate the skill and training necessary for perfection in wavelengths and the like. In times of war, disaster, or sudden emergencies, Hams have proved their worth. And as a hobby it's fascinating.

DON'T SLIGHT THOSE sleight-of-hand kids! Conjurers this year had loads of fun climaxed by their peppy assembly in April. It's fun to be fooled, but it's a lot more exciting to be the guy that puzzles the rest of the crowd. New tricks are always introduced at meetings, so fun is never lacking.

RECKLESS Rollers: Forming the core of an active, athletic group are these roller skaters. BOTTOM: Kuntz, Stone, Hawkins, Hopkins, Sidell, French. CENTER: Irskine, Martinez, Sweitzer, Michael, Rimbey, Smith, Kerr. TOP: Duncan, McDonald, Sesser, Jenett.

Fun Galore

THERE'S NOTHING like exercise to keep a teener happy. All that energy can't wear off just by sitting around admiring the scenery! Reckless Rollers, the skating group, and Square Dancers are very popular. Rosy checks, healthy appetites, and loads of fun go together. This is the first year for Square Dancers, but what a wonderful beginning! And those skaters just keep rollin' along!

SPEEDY FULLBACK George Greathouse begins another long run against Mesa to help the Pack to a 13-7 victory.

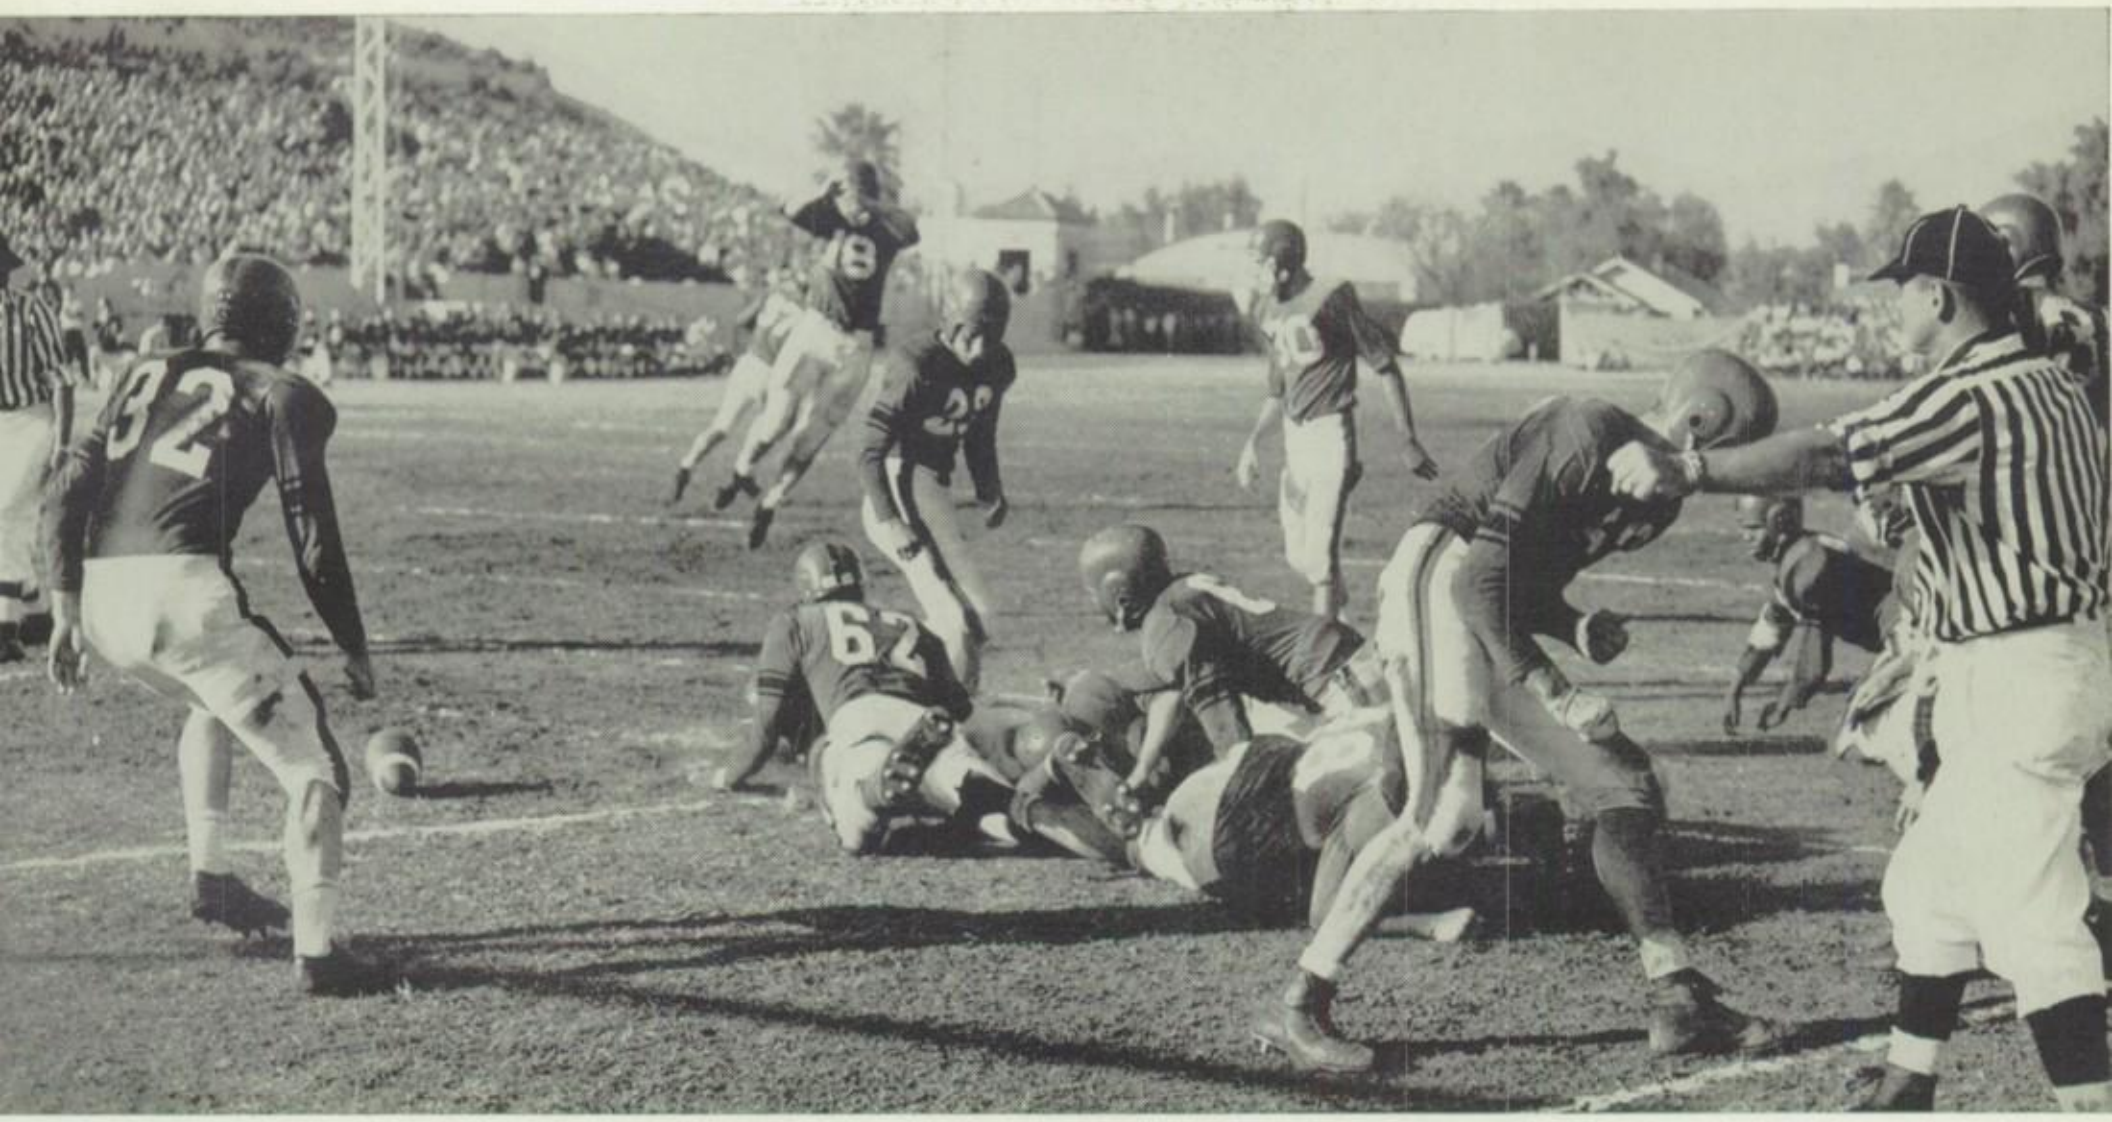
LIL DUDETTE was only one of 10,000 Coyote fans who yelled themselves hoarse while the rugged Pack rolled to the Class AA title and their finest record since 1929. The Pack returned the city, conference, and state championships to PUHS for the first time since 1948, with Coach Sam Winningham's single-winger grinding nine foes into submission, while being tied once.

THE COYOTES scored 282 points to opponents' meager 76 and became one of the top three or four teams to represent Phoenix Union in 60 years.

CHAMPIONS! Varsity Gridders—Row 1: Watson, Carr, Rich, Hulen, Nera, Escoto, Conner, Jackson, Harrington. Row 2: Shaw, Coach Marich, Keith, Davies, Desi Sanchez, Rainbolt, Ashford, Greer, Mabry, Warriner, Coach Winningham, Greathouse. Row 3: Gray, Townsend, Vic Sanchez, Anderson, Lopez, Montgomery, Rhinehart, Hicks, Gile, Jones, Petrauschke..Top Row: Hall, Garrison, Barr, Stewart, Nealey, Smith, Haney, Ramsey, Clemmer, Borden, Carr, Copeland. This was banner year for Don Coyote's gridiron heroes.



PU's DAN RHINEHART (32) is shown before beginning the most exciting run of the year. Rhinehart picked up the loose ball and dashed 103 yards to paydirt, only to have the play called back by the official's whistle. Action took place in Turkey Day game.

Coyotes Win Early Respect

STARTING THE SEASON fast by dumping Yuma 41-7 in Yuma, the Pack won early respect as a top team. Juniors George Greathouse and Dan Rhinehart gave notice of things to come by running over and around the hapless Criminals. Next came Union's annual jinx, St. Mary's Knights. Trailing at halftine, Union's single wing exploded in the second half for a 37-13 Pack win. Greathouse scored three TDs all in spectacular fashion. Sumner Smith, Darnel Haney, Alfred Carr, and Richard Borden led a defense which threw the Knights for a minus 36 yards rushing.

AN ILL-FATED journey to California put the only blot on the Coyotes' 1954 record. Behind 7-0 in the first four minutes of play, the Redlands Terriers struck back with only three minutes of play remaining to gain a 7-7 tie. Bakersfield, next California foe, submitted 33-14. Sherman Gile, Greathouse, Rhinehart, and Quarterback Vic Sanchez led the Coyote offensive. Jerry Garrison, Cecil Warriner, Ron Montgomery, Ray Hall, and Norman Jackson sparked the defense.

END CECIL Warriner makes a desperate attempt to stop a St. Mary's back during Union's 33-13 triumph.

Down Go Tech, Tucson, Mesa

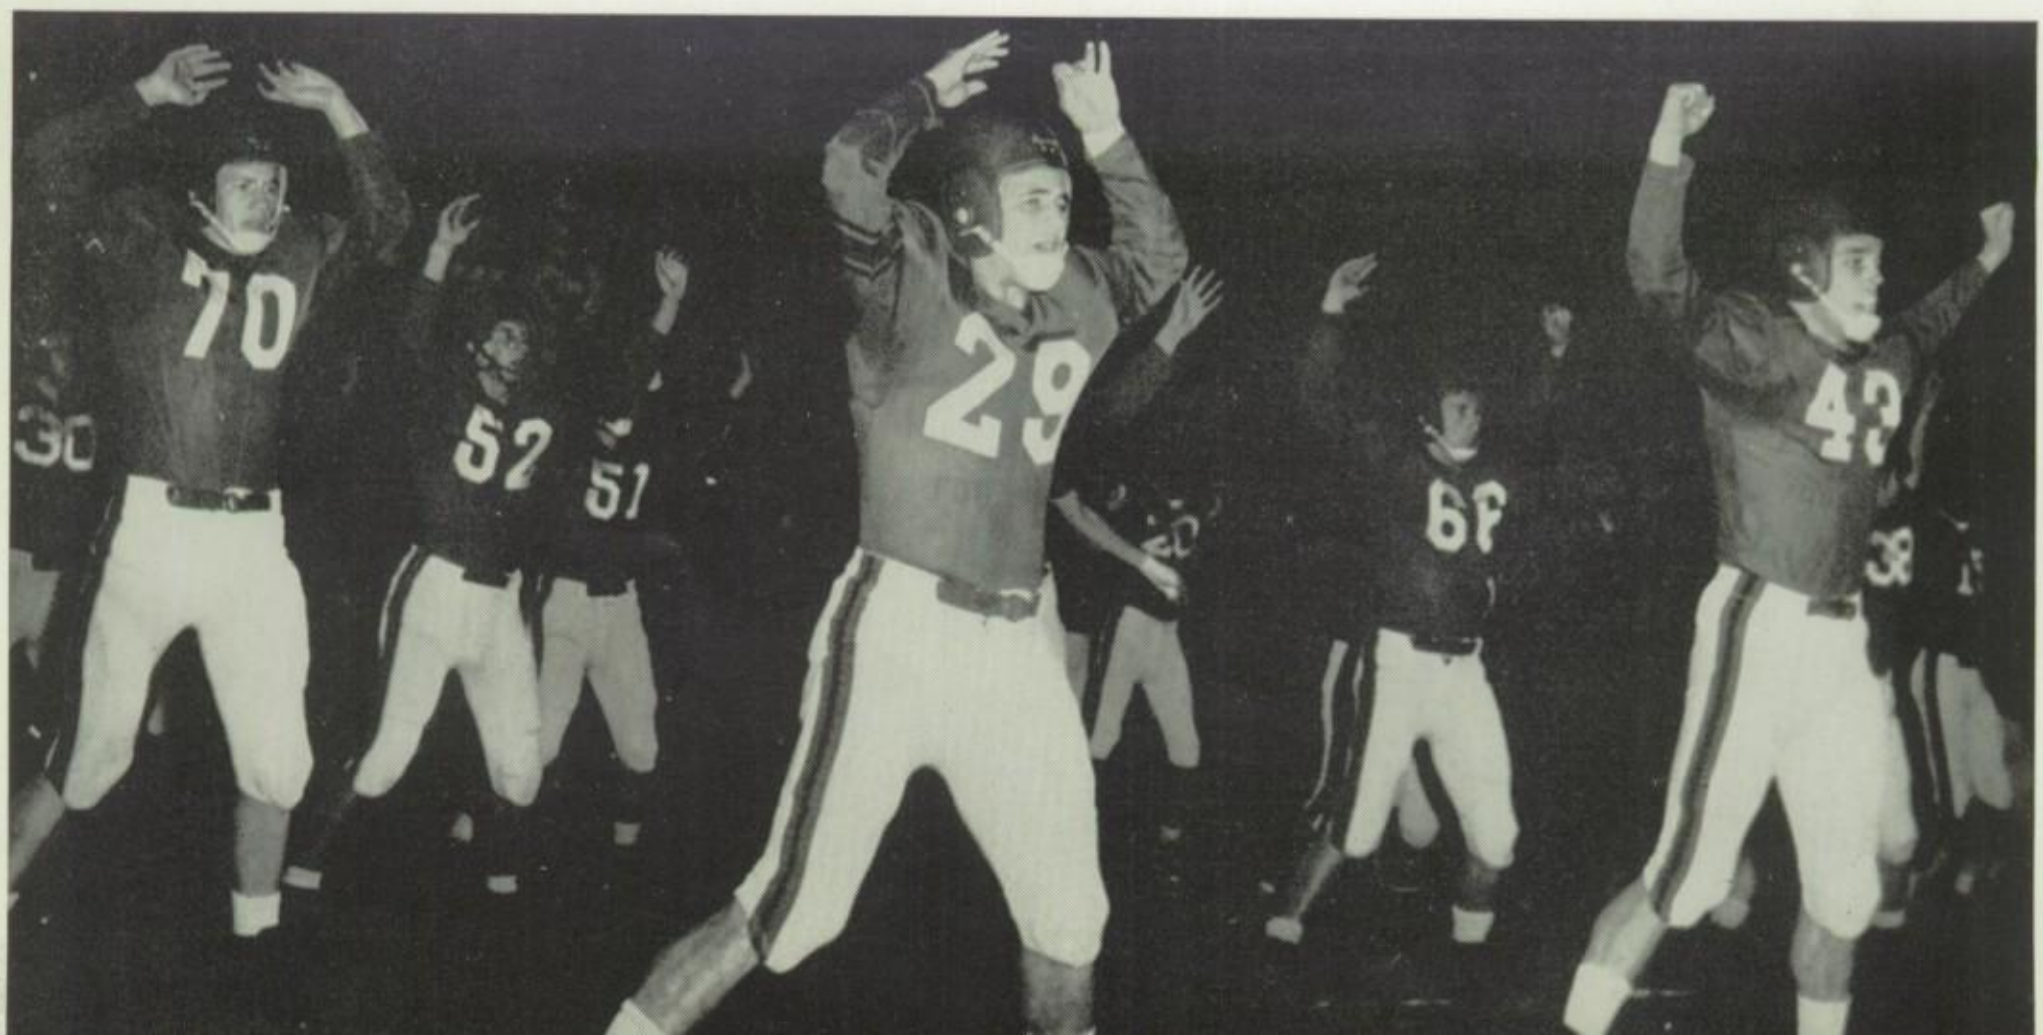
UNION'S Haney and Montgomery arrive too late during action in the North High tussle, as Greathouse lies on the turf.

DON COYOTE gave his reserves action against the out-classed Tech Hornets, who fell 33-0. Coyote regulars and backs Syl Mabry, Moe Watson, and Madero White found the Hornet sting impotent. Tucson next fell obligingly, 34-7. The massive Coyote line held the winless Badgers in check while Union's backfield ripped big gains through the Tucson line.

DANGEROUS MESA was next, in a game that left Phoenix as the only undefeated Class AA team. Greathouse led the Coyotes to a slim 13-7 win. The Pack defense sparkled, holding the Rabbits to one TD.

WEST HIGH WAS surprisingly stubborn before succumbing to a Union second half uprising, 36-13. Lanky Haney led the Pack on both offense and defense. Amphitheater's Panthers also put up a good first half struggle before falling by the wayside, 34-8. Once again the whole Coyote squad starred, as the Panthers couldn't move the ball against their bigger opponents.

TAKING THEIR pre-game exercises, the high-spirited Pack prepares for another rugged contest. Identifiable Coyotes are Copeland (30), Petrauschker (52), Clemmer (51), Jones (20), Hicks (66), Townsend (70), Ashford (29), Montgomery (43), and Greer (38).



ADMIRING THE LUKE Greenway trophy, symbolic of Phoenix Union's City League Championship, are Al Carr, Ron Montgomery, George Greathouse, Sumner Smith, Jerry Garrison, Vic Sanchez, and Coach Sam Winningham.

North's Mustangs Fall, 14-7

CAME THE GREAT DAY! Phoenix Union topped North High, 14-7 in their annual Thanksgiving Day thriller. A fourth quarter pass from Greathouse to end Ken Ramsey covered 18 yards and the winning score, a play long to be remembered by Coyote fans. Hall, Carr, Harry Stewart, Haney, Robert Fields, and Sanchez played as though inspired. Greathouse represented most of the Union offense.

GREATHOUSE, SANCHEZ, and Carr were named to the All State first team, with Greathouse as team captain. Montgomery, Smith, and Garrison won All-State second team births. Honorable mention went to Coyotes Jackson, Fields, Borden, Haney, Rhinehart, and Hall. It was a fitting windup to our biggest and best football year.

GREATHOUSE gives the "rough-treatment" to a West High defender, while picking up yardage around left end.

Preps Made It 6-3

"MIGHTY GOOD varsity material," agreed Coaches Bill Saunders and Jim Winningham in evaluating their Junior Varsity football squad. The Pups smashed their way to a 6 win, 3 loss season's record, meeting and beating the best of the Valley's JV gridders.

LEADING THE JV attack were Delbert Hodges, Dave Hibbert, Lige Franklin, Floyd Grayson, Dick Roels, Jack Eardley, and Alfred Bobo. Others due for varsity consideration were Floyd Smith, Jerry Murphree, Chuck Pearson, Terry Henderson, Larry Jackson, Steve Crookston, and Joe Weaver. Only St. Mary's, Mesa, and North High were able to top the Pups, who later swamped North and St. Mary's. These lads will make headlines next fall!

HERE'S YOURS! Richard Roels checks out equipment from Coaches Winningham and Saunders, while several JV teammates await their turn.

Wrestling

OH, NO YOU DON'T! It isn't easy to pin an old grappler like Barraza, Howell finds. Coach Winningham is referee in this match.

Champs With Bulging Biceps

LIL DUDETTE wasn't always around to cheer the Coyote grapplers, but they did okay, anyway. Those Phoenix Union dudes were no slouches on the mats, opponents from all over Arizona were to learn. The boys followed their football and basketball fellow athletes right into the winners' circle, taking the State Wrestling Crown.

AFTER AN 8-2-1 regular season, the Phoenicians wound up at the state tourney in Tucson Feb. 25-26, where they swept aside all challengers. Emerging as state champs in their class were Richard Borden, heavyweight; Alfred Bobo, 175 pounds; Don Keith, 145; John Lee 133. Only Arizona schools to upset the Pack grunt-'n-groaners were Tucson and Indian School. West scored a 19-19 tie in regular season matches.

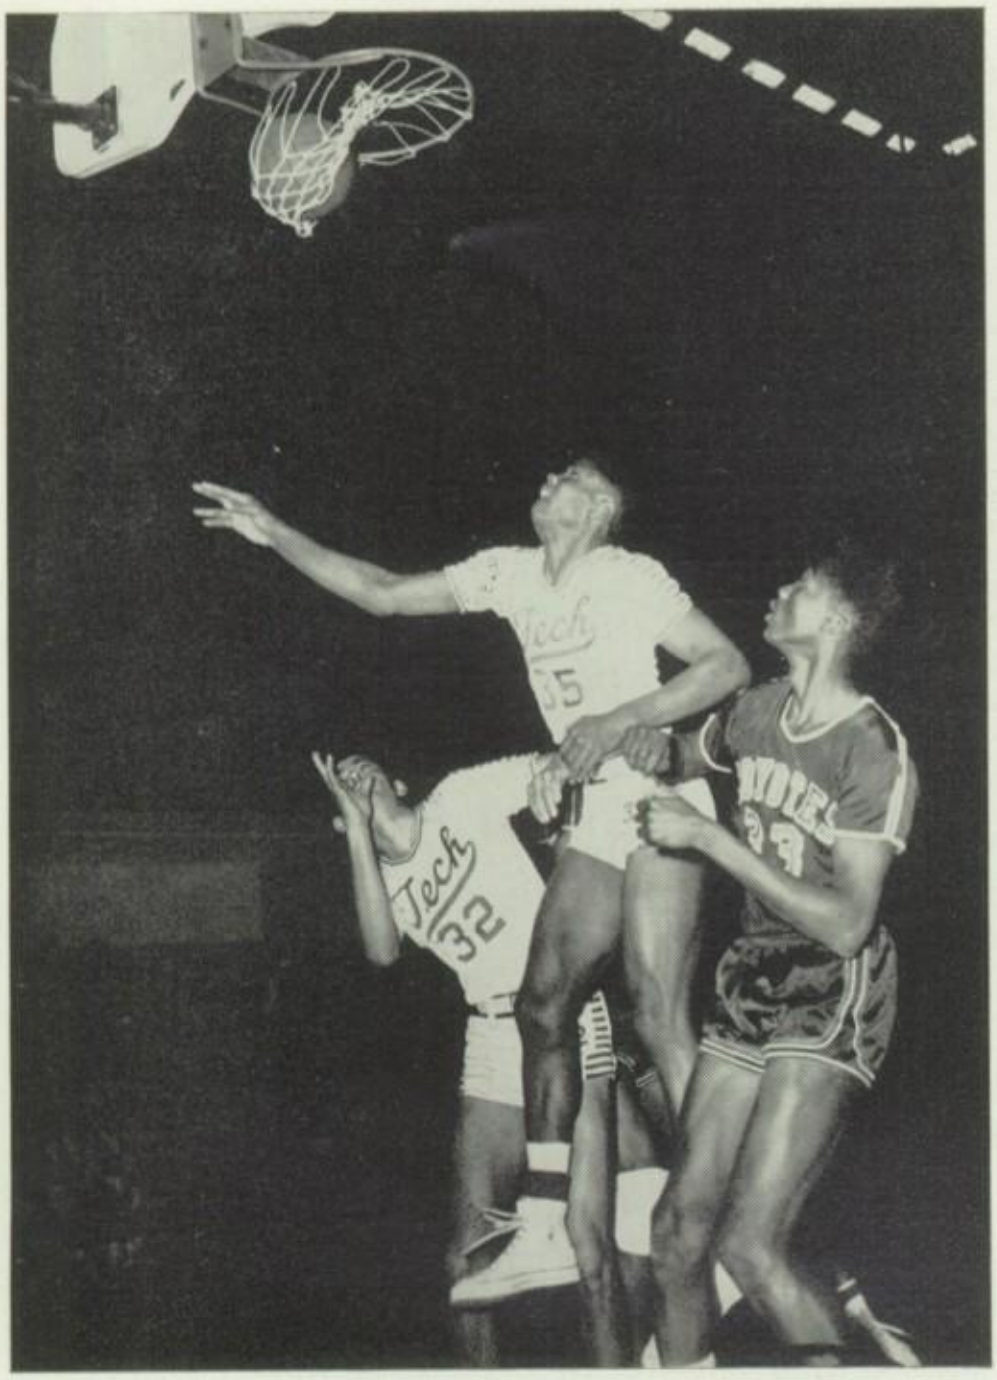
WITH FOOTBALL over, Lil Dudette turned her attention to the hardwood courts. Don Coyote's fast and lanky basketball team went through the season with a 21-1 record, to take both the city and Class AA championships. Coach Ed Long deserves a great deal of praise for turning out such a fine basketball squad, despite an illness which plagued him most of the season.

BASKETBALL VARSITY—ROW 1: Gilbert, Conner, Coach Long, Scott, Hutchinson, Varella. CENTER: Mgr. Gober, Davies, Clemmer, Russell, Jones, Mgr. Willis. TOP: Fields, Nealey, Smith, Haney, Ramsey, Carr, and Gray.



Balance—That Was The Key

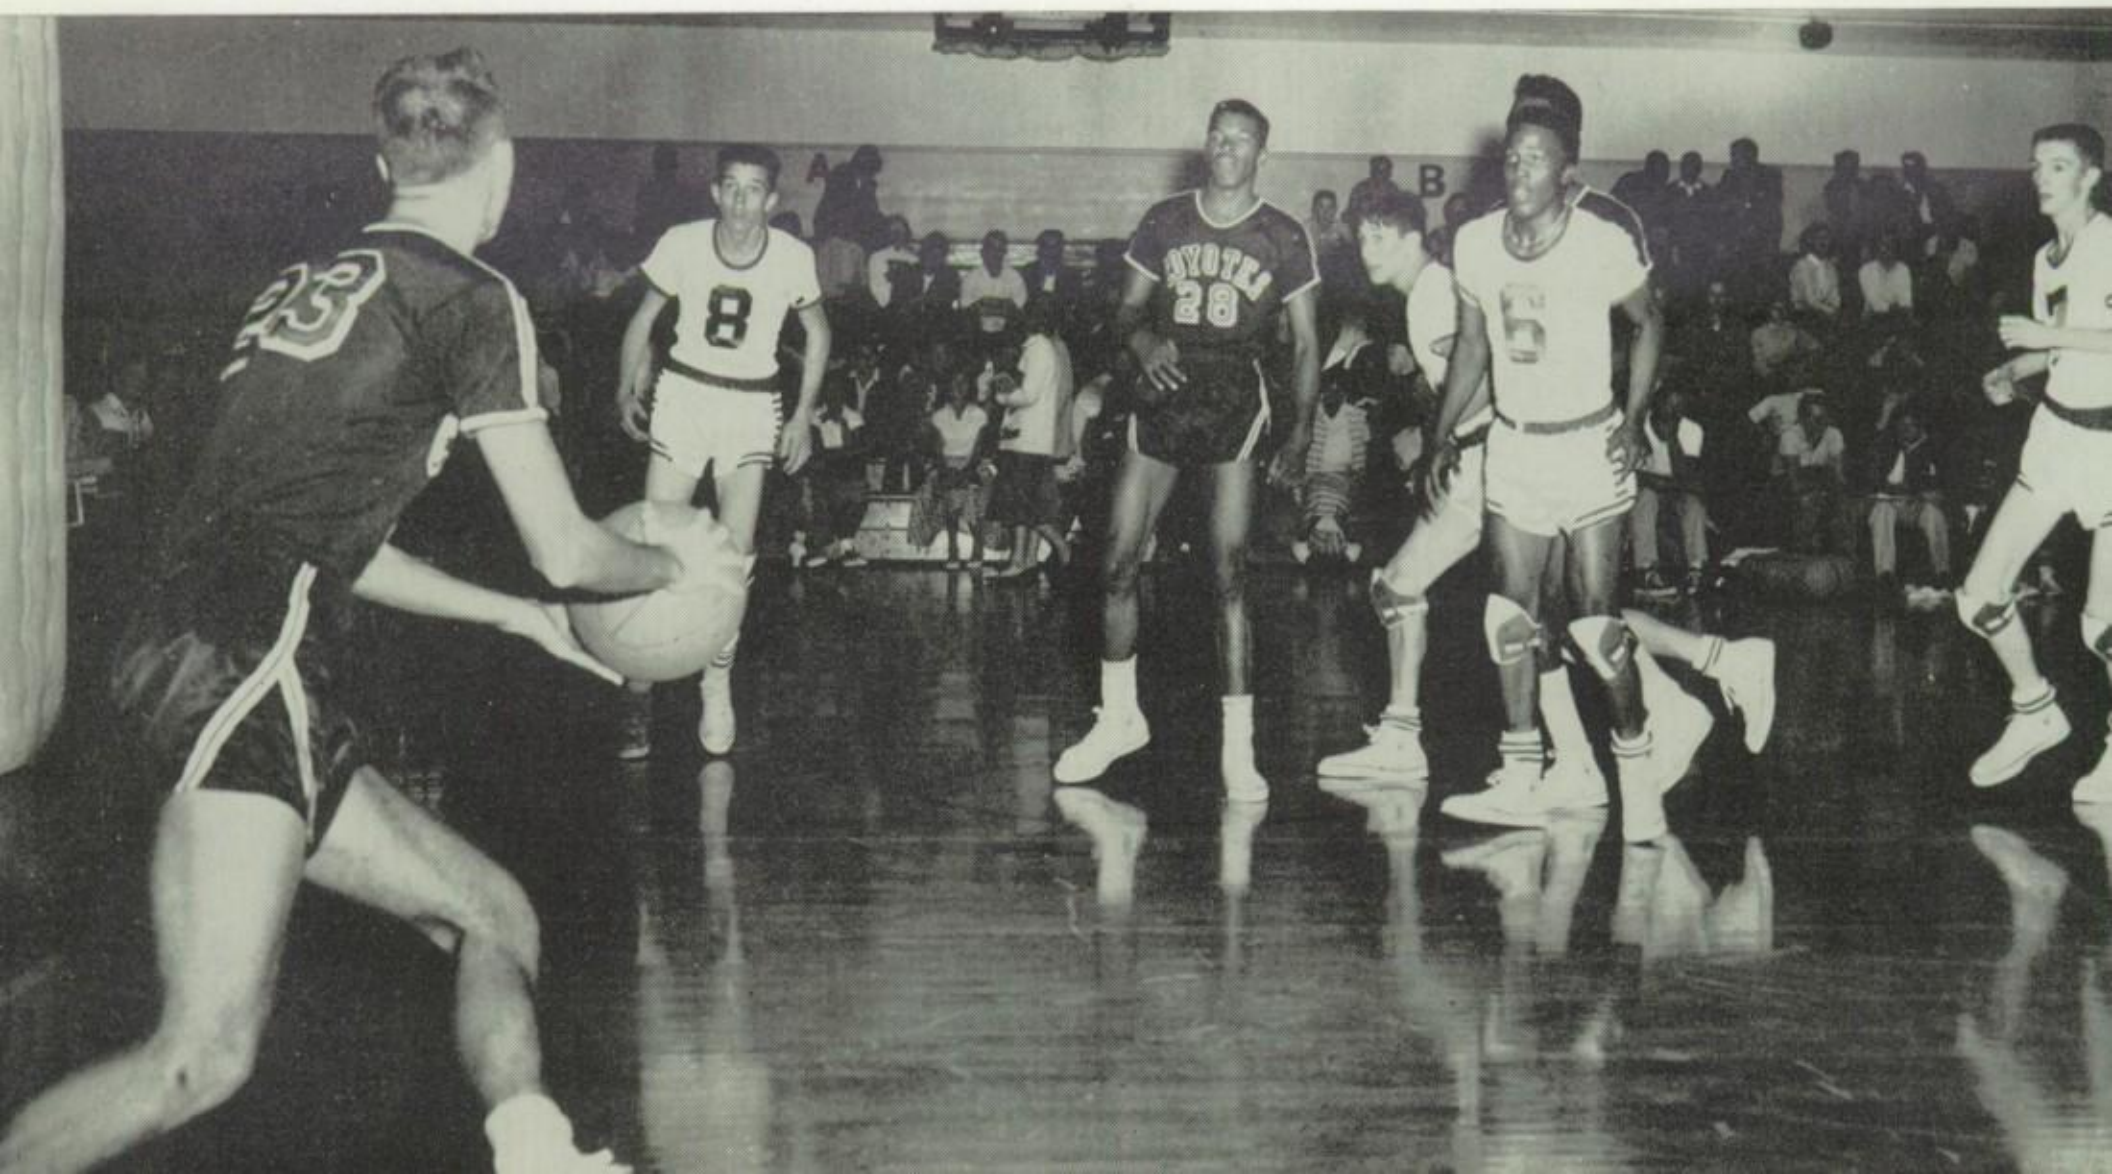
BALANCE WAS THE key to the Coyotes' 1954-55 success. Guards Manuel Varella and Otto Hutchinson set up the offense, while acting as ball hawks on defense. Union's 6'3" Al Nealey and 6'6" Darnel Haney carried a large part of the scoring burden, with Al Carr hitting consistently on a jump shot. Sumner Smith, Vernon Russell, Ken Ramsey, Gene Gilbert, and Jon Conner all provided depth and reserve strength in the Coyote championship drive.

GAMES WITH PHOENIX College JV, North High and Mesa were played in the afternoon at a reduced price that gave more Coyote rooters a chance to see their team in action. Every game was well attended, which showed the Pack that we were behind them.

TECH'S Tease goes in under the basket to score two points, as the Pack's Nealey stands by watching, hopefully.

FORWARD GENE Gilbert finds a momentary opening, and starts one of his long set shots against Flagstaff in the season's opener.

Union's Vernon Russell and Al Nealey prepare to move in for the rebound. The tall Coyotes sank the visitors 38 to 51.



VICTORY DINNER was celebrated at Desert Hills by basketball champs. SEATED: Gober, Varella, Gilbert, Russell, Smith, Willis, Mrs. Long, Mrs. Carter. STANDING: Shankland, Hutchinson, Gray, Conner, Nealey, Haney, Coach Long, and Mr. Carter.

Grande Finale

PLAYING UNDER BUILT-UP pressure of a 10-game winning streak, the Coyotes finally bowed to North High, 53-52. The Mustangs overcame a 32-15 halftime deficit and high-tailed it to a double overtime win. The Champs charged back however, to win 11 more games and the title, entering the State Tourney with an 18-1 record.

MESA DROPPED THE opener to Phoenix, 58-54, in a real thriller. Next came those pesky Mustangs from North, and Coach Long's angry Coyotes had revenge in their hearts. As though inspired, the Pack ran up a humiliating 14-0 first quarter lead, to smash the Horses, 60-35. Tucson fell to the Coyotes in the championship game, 59-49. It was Union's last year and last basketball trophy, but it was a sports season not soon to be forgotten.

CHAMPS — ALMOST! Winning 15 games and losing only two, this year's JVs finished second to Mesa's Bunnies. Pups dealt Mesa its only loss 54-36. TOP ROW: Grayson, Bonetas, Hodge, Whitfield, Jones, Franklin. SEATED: Coach Patterson, Smith, Younger, Paine, Crookston, Young, Holmes, Howell.

EVERY BATTER uses a bat suitable to his own needs. Discussing the differences are Coach Marich and Coyotes Craig, Duffy, Ruiz, and Valencia.

Booming Bats

COYOTE BASEBALLERS of 1955 shaped up as one of the strongest teams in PUHS history. Losing only three games, the Pack rolled up 14 victories. This fine record won them the City Championship and cinched second place in Class AA standings. Only Glendale and Tucson were able to master the Coyotes in regular season contests.

UNDER THE DIRECTION of Coach Martin Marich, the Pack scored wins over Tech, St. Mary's, Amphitheater, Yuma, Mesa, West, North, and a later contest with Glendale. This year's leading hitters were Joe Duffy, Ernie Valencia, Jon Conner, Alvin Roberts, and Benny Ruiz.

Baseball

HIT THE DIRT! Coyote Ken Ramsey slams back to first base after attempting to steal second. Tech's Roberts was too slow in the put-out try.

They Hustled

FINE PITCHING and plenty of hustle this year pushed the Coyotes through some hard spots. Joe Nevarez led the Pack hurlers, backed by Syl Mabry, Johnny Craig, Lou Rainbolt, and Ken Ramsey, who also held down first base. For the first time in years, the Pack had a "home" field—at Eastlake Park.

FOR ONCE, THE NINE was not forced to contend with marching cadets, Masque stage sets, or pre-occupied track stars. Coach Marich attributes much of the team's success to the new arrangement. As the book goes to press the Coyotes were squared off against their toughest opponent, Tucson's Badgers, for the State Championship.

GO, MAN, GO! Dan Rhinehart passes the baton to teammate Jerry Garrison, as the Coyotes speed to first place in the 880-relay and capture the Phoenix City Championship for the second successive year.

Making Tracks

UNION'S WELL-BALANCED track team added several trophies to the already bulging list of Coyote sports triumphs, by capturing the city and state titles. Strong in the distance races, the Pack finished either first or second in every 880 and mile. Other excellent Coyote events were the 440, 220, high jump, broad jump, and both hurdles. Coach Steve Carson's track squad was as outstanding as their basketball and football comrades.

RAY McKISSON led in points, being undefeated in the mile and scoring many firsts in the 880. Rey Mendoza, state's second fastest miler, pressed McKisson hard all year. Bob Shankland was Conference best in the 440, with Lige Franklin tops in the 220. Lyn Cornett was the finest Union high-jumper in PUHS history, while Jerry Garrison scored many firsts and seconds in both hurdles. The Coyotes outpointed North High, 67½-51, in the Annual City Meet for their second straight Phoenix championship since 1953.

On Cinder Paths

THE CITY CHAMPIONS were led by McKisson's 4:32.2 in the mile and 2:00.6 in the 880, both new records. Coyote Joe Hendrix won the broad jump, Franklin the 220. Shankland captured the 440, with the Coyote relay team adding a sixth Pack first out of 13 events. Garrison, Delbert Hodge, Earl Hicks and George Greathouse gave the locals second, third and fourth in both hurdles events.

ALSO HIGHLIGHTING the season was a trip to California, where nine Coyotes scored 13 points in three events to top 24 California opponents in the Santa Barbara Relays. Although losing only to Tucson, the Pack did suffer two early-season ties to Mesa. However, the Coyotes came back strong to top Mesa twice by easy margins, first in a three-way meet with North, and later in a four-way meet with North and Tucson.

RAY McKISSON, who ran a faster mile this year than any previous Arizona high school miler, crosses the finish line in 4.32:2 for a new record. RIGHT: Sherman Gile gets off one of his 49' shot puts, good enough to score many points for the Pack this season.

Tennis

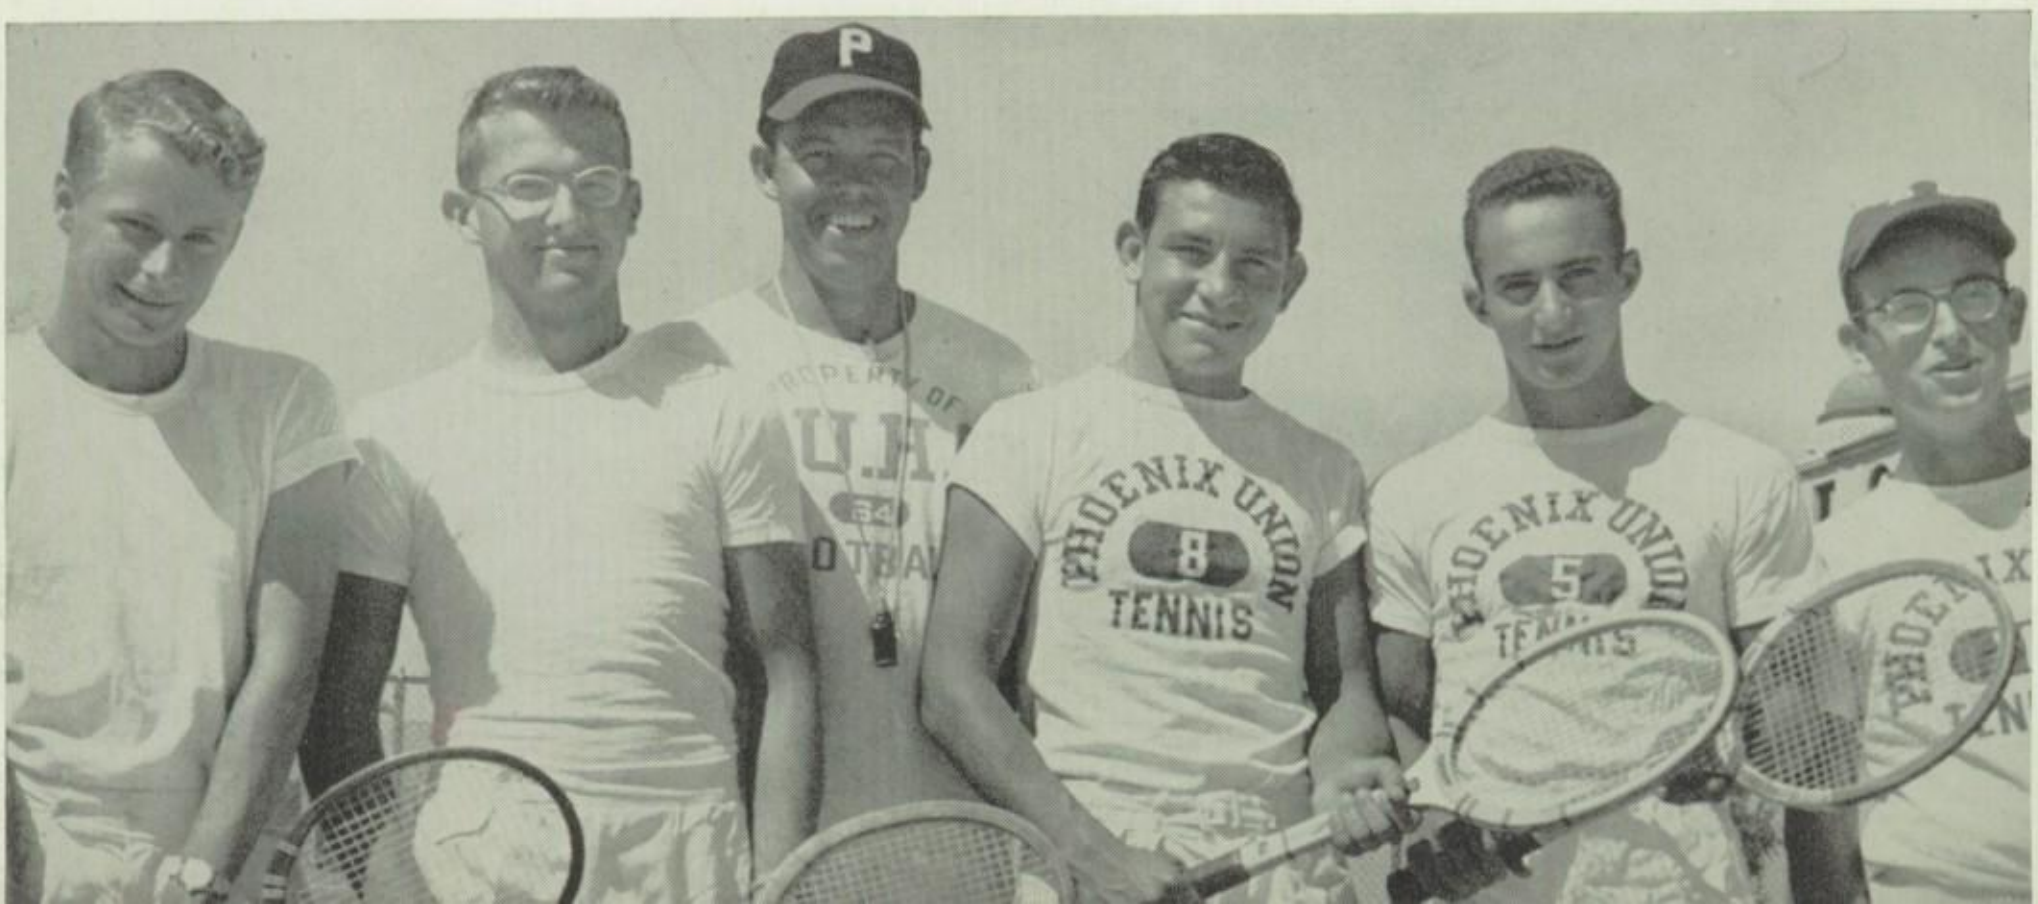
GIRLS TENNIS Team includes, from left, Loretta Lyons (4), Quola Hatch (2), Danalu Eager (1), Marilynn Long (3), Sally Bixby (5), and Coach Mary Louise Branigan.

Net Results

OUR TENNIS FORTUNES were what many called "fair" for the 1954-55 season, and the net results showed, for the boys, 10 matches won to as many lost. In other words, the boys gave as much as they took, and all hands had a fine time! One of the fastest action games in the book, tennis calls for precision, agility of feet and arms, and super-fast reflexes if you want to reach the peak. A new intramural tennis program is planned for 1955-56.

SOMEWHAT SHORT of sensational, the Girls' Tennis Team nevertheless gave a good account of itself, played 15 matches, enjoyed a number of trips, including Yuma and Tucson. The girls were ably coached by Miss Mary Louise Branigan, who was pleased with the team's progress. At season's end, the girls were vastly improving their game.

VARSITY TENNIS Team: Ronald Wycoff, Allan McGee, Coach Fowler, Frank Lyles, Allan Wick, and Calvin Jewell.



GAA CABINET members include Mosely, Tang, Larranaga, Lopez, Dixon, Calhoun, and (seated) Miss Berneil Maxey, Avila, Hatch, and Chavez.

Girl Athletes

DESIGNED AS AN OVERALL social and athletic program, Girls' Athletic Association enjoyed one of its most active years. Sponsor Berneil Maxey, with generous help from other physical education teachers, guided GAA through many a play day and picnic. With the GAA Cabinet as a planning board, the girls enjoyed such varied fun as a "foreign dinner" series each month, cake and candy sales, and numerous charity drives.

LARGEST ORGANIZATION in school, GAA provides recreation and service projects worthy of much older and wealthier groups. The girls "adopted" families at Thanksgiving and Christmas, providing huge stores of canned goods and other needed articles. Competition with other GAA groups in the Valley provided great fun, as did the after-school programs.

GIRLS ATHLETC ASSOCIATION—Row 1: Leal, Hatch, Lopez, Chavez, Calhoun, Avila, Dixon, Tang, Larranaga, Sanchez. Row 2: Taylor, Robledo, Lee, Freeman, Bacon, Donnally, Chavez, Hernandez, Humble, Ortiz, Villaverde. Row 3: Yee, Palvia, Castillo, Ballard, Meza, Guaderrama, Fulton, Ong, Edwards, Smaw, Sharkey, Chavez, Gutierrez. Row 4: Tsokatos, Orabuena, Soto, Maravela, Jimenez, Soza, Newby, Tejada, Galindo, Duran, Marquez, Vidaure, Bedia, Soto. Row 5: Munoz, Blanco, Gomez, Louis, Hendrix, Gray, Kirby, Alford, Ulter, Childress, Humble, Albright, Adams, Medina. Row 6: Martinez, Given, Glenn, Spencer, Sasser, Moore, McMennamy, Manahan, Burdsal, Neslund, Younger, Adels, Gilbert. After-school sports highlighted GAA's calendar.

In The Swing

GIRLS TENNIS CLUB under the leadership of Miss Bernice Fairfax prospered in numbers, interest, and activity. Those flying tennis balls kept feet flying, arms swinging, and cheeks rosy red. At the same time the girls developed grace, balance, and agility. From this group will come the Girls' Tennis Team ladder for 1955-56.

WHEN DAYS GROW warm, all girls in the department prepare for a part in the Masque of the Yellow Moon, and many do rate a place in the dances or other formations. Constant practice pays off with the oh's and ah's of spectators applauding the final result.

WHEEL of fortune? No, just a dance formation for the Masque. Miss Fairfax coached this group of underclassmen.

Birdie Batters

HOW THE BIRDIES DO FLY when Badminton Club goes in for its favorite sport! One of the trickiest of sports, it seems to be just the ticket for girl athletes with more energy than they can use up in the classroom. Membership climbed to 125 with competitive matches adding to the program's interest. Three honors went to this group at the annual State Tourney, held this year at Arizona State College in Tempe.

GIRL OF THE MONTH awards this year stirred up interest in the GAA program. Those selected represented the best in sportsmanship, citizenship, and skill in athletics. Other girls' sports also attracted their share of players. Baseball, or softball, emerged as the outstanding spring sport, but shuffleboard, table tennis, and basketball got an enthusiastic following, too. There were plenty of sports for every individual interest.

Blossoms

DESERT BLOOMS, as portrayed by these Phoenicians, highlighted an early episode in the Masque. Shown are Madeline Graham, Penny Houck, Dolores McGuire, Roberta Linsley, Joyce Dutton, Sandra Hayes, Joan Hamilton, Connie Chavez, Darlene Newby, Barbara Barr.

Masque Magic

"THE TRANQUILITY and horror, the ugliness and beauty . . . the drabness, the brilliance, the bareness or fertility, the cruelty, kindness — that is the desert from the breaking of day to the coming of night. . . . Such is the drama of Dawn, Noon, and Sunset . . . ." as described by the Old Prospector.

SUCH ALSO was the theme of the 24th Annual Masque of the Yellow Moon which portrayed with polished sequences the story of the desert May 6 and 7 in Montgomery Stadium. Mrs. Virginia Duncan, Mr. Willard Jacquot, student Douglas McGrath, and over 4,000 others co-operated this year to produce an eminently successful production.

DESERT FLOWERS, as enacted by Miss Fairfax's Phoenix Union students, make a graceful pattern as the Masque begins. RIGHT: Don Hay, audio-visual technician, follows the script closely.

Spectacular MASQUE OF THE YELLOW MOON again took the stage as Arizona's outstanding extravaganza. This year, featuring the theme Dawn, Noon, and Sunset in the Desert, the Masque, with a cast of 4,000, upheld the tradition of beauty on the grand scale. In the above scenes are pictured Desert Treasures, Desert Cactus, Evening Campfires, and the Grand Finale.

And Now . . . Goodbye!

LIFE IS ROSY to the top representatives of the '55 Class. Here smiling Darlene Emery, valedictorian, arranges flowers to the amusement of Salutatorian Bill Fraser, Valedictorian Bob Spotts, and Salutatorian Lynne Hanhila.

UNTIL WE MEET again . . . The mixed feelings seniors have when facing up to the final farewells could result in tears or laughter, depending on the mood of the moment! It's wonderful to anticipate the big tomorrows, full of promise and adventure. And it's doggone sad to think of leaving hundreds of friends . . . the familiar old places . . . the favorite shady spot on the Quad . . . the gang at the dances, games, bull sessions. Oh well! Can't stick around here forever. . . . Gotta go. Goodbye! Good luck! We'll always remember. . . .

HA! WOMEN! While disillusioned men like Mr. Waters and sad Bill Spencer philosophize about the fading importance of the male animal, Walter Owen, left, demonstrates who does the kitchen drudgery now and (right) the glamorous Maid of Cotton illustrates woman's new emancipation. But it won't always be like this, the men declare. Maybe in 100 years or so. . . .

just 75 YEARS ago...

Just 75 years ago, an enterprising young man named Tom Edison invented the first practical incandescent lamp. His fragile glass bulb led to harnessed electric power . . . the foundation of America's modern living.

For young Tom Edison, and for millions of American youths before and since his time, opportunity awaited in our free enterprise system. Opportunity waits for you also. Success is simply a matter of personal application, perseverance, and faith in our American way.

Strategy . . .

WINNERS' circle is drawn by Coach Ed Long, with his 1955 champions already looking forward to a banner 1956 year on the hardwoods. It takes planning sessions as well as floor practice to turn out state titlists, the squad agrees.

Just A Drip

WHILE MIKE Mitten steadies the victim, and Don Sanford puzzles the outcome, Tom Milstead (center) submits to a pumping process at the hands of fellow Conjurer Larry Brown. John Fluegel is at right. The nonsense, staged by officers of the magicians' club, followed the Conjurers assembly program.
